REBUIL

The accompanying illustration shows Howard E. Coffin, now vice-president and chief designer of the Hudson Motor Car Company between three and for Car Company, in the first automo-bile he ever built. It was on view to the public, for the first time in years as a part of the interesting exhibit of historical early-model motor cars dis-played at the Detroit automobile show. This was a two-cylinder steam car with a bore of about 3½ inches. The car was built by Mr. Coffin with his own hands in the engineering show the road. The body was constructed in one of Michigan. The body was constructed in one of Michigan. The car was operated on the road for many thousands of miles during 1900 and 1901. It was then sold and, after passing through several hands, it

Dusinessmen yesterday. The Harrisburg Chamber of Com merce takes exception to the price of the ink, which they say is of an infer-ior quality and because the directory is an uncertainty, sent out the follow-ing post card to its members:

Warning!

A quart bottle of out-of-town ink

A quart bottle of out-of-town ink and a classified business directory of Harrisburg and vicinity yet to be pro-duced are being peddled to local peo-ple at $1.00. We don't indorse the directory. Every standard ink—those whose qualities are known can be bought of Harrisburg dealers at the same or a less price, depending on exact grade, than which out-of-town people offer. V Civic duty and business sense both suggest the wisdom of buying from a responsible local dealer. Let us buy at home and make this a poor town for peddlers, etc. The needs of legitimate Harrisburg that they be considered before denatons are sent out of town. Be loyal to Harrisburg!

"UNDER COVER" At the Majestic, to-morrow, matinee and night, Selwyn and Company, pro-ducers of "Within the Law," "Twin Beds" and other notable stage suc-cesses, will present "Under Cover," an American play love, laughs, mystery and thrills. Into an illuminating nar-rative of customs frauds and secret ser-vice methods the author has woven an absorbing story of a woman's love and an exciting battle of wits. The play is based upon the efforts of the customs authorities to discover the smuggler of a necklace valued at $200,000, but this are handleapped by the social and suspicion. CARLISLE ELKS AT MAJESTIC

"WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE"

CARLISLE ELKS AT MAJESTIC This is an annual event with the Cariisle Elks and last year the social committee of the local lodge tried the experiment of bringing the show to Harrisburg for its own benefit. The Harrisburg engagement was such a bi-success, and everybody enjoyed the per-formances so much, that it was decided to repeat the undertaking this year. Those who have seen the rehearsals given in Carlisle, declare that those who buy tickets for the Harrisburg en-gagement will be well repaid. The show is staged as extravagantly as the average $2 show that comes to town and every minute of the three acts is thoroughly enjoyable. The reserved seat sale for the Harrisburg engage-ment opened at the Majestic box office this morning.—Advertisement.
