

Women AND THEIR Interests

BROAD HORIZONS

By Beatrice Fairfax

When your eyes are very tired from close application to reading or writing or sewing, have you ever tired resting them by looking out of the window far away to the horizon? There is nothing more soothing to tired vision than this readjustment of focus in the lenses of the eyes.

Most of us tire our minds by keeping them focused on the little things that lie close at hand. And it is this narrowness of vision that cuts down our lives into tiresome little slices that are mere segments of the green circle each of us ought to have for her world. Close at hand lie the immediate questions of making a living, finding a little pleasure in life, clothing one's self, getting three meals a day and making friendships. The sum of these small interests amounts to "getting through the day somehow."

The little round of daily tasks, if those tasks center closely about you, is just as tiring to mind and heart and spirit as is a steady application to sewing to the eyes.

As you rest your tired eyes by taking them from the work on which they have been focused, rest your tired spirit by giving it a broad central point of the circle where you stand.

A narrow horizon with a small radius of interests to measure the circle of life is one of the fallings of which women are more often guilty than men. It causes, and is in turn caused by, pettiness.

Any interest that takes a woman "out of herself" is a wholesome one for her. Actually, to go out into the park and feed the squirrels might be a sufficiently unusual benevolent proceeding for a selfish and self-centered person to mark the beginning of real charitable enterprise.

Feeding the squirrels at least makes your circle a tiny jot broader than merely clothing yourself. "Like the lilies of the field," and, though it is not to be compared with looking after a poor family for the winter, at least it points in that direction.

Every step you take along the radius of a new circle that broadens out toward "doing for others" gives you at the circumference of that circle a constantly widening horizon.

For a jaded and world-weary spirit, for a modern attack of "nerves," for all ailments of the type that generally lead toward a rest cure and a sanatorium, try a "rest cure" of a new sort. Give your mind the restful, soothing influence of taking its vision off the concentrated work and play that lie close packed around your own being.

Let your mental vision, like the sight of your eyes, find its relaxation and peace in the mellowness, gentleness and unselfishness broad horizons can bring.

IN MODIFIED MIDDY STYLE

A Smart Little Frock that Can be Finished with Scalloped Edges or Plain.

By MAY MANTON

8586 Girl's Dress, 10 to 14 years.

Middy blouses are always becoming to school girls and always in demand. This one is modified in style but still retains the essential characteristics. It is worn over a plaited skirt and can be made with round, square, or high neck, with short or long sleeves, so that all seasons and all needs are provided for. On the figure, the frock is made of rose-colored linen scalloped with white, and it is very dainty and very charming. In the back view, it is shown made of cotton gabardine with stitched edges and the separate blouse suggests a trimming of contrasting material, and each finish is a good one. For immediate wear, the frock would be pretty made from French serge or perhaps from any light weight wool material, or the blouse could be made of plain serge and worn over a skirt of plaid. For the summer frock, there are linens, piques, and cotton poplins, cotton crepes and a generous number of other materials that are in every way available. When the blouse is made with square or round neck, it can be closed at the shoulders or at the neck, with the high neck it is closed at the back.

For the 12 year size will be needed 6 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 4 1/2 yds. 36, 3 1/2 yds. 44.

The pattern No. 8586 is cut in sizes from 10 to 14 years. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Charged With Turning on Hand That Gave Him Food

William Selcker, alias William Zoll, of Steelton, has been held for United States Court by United States Commissioner Leroy J. Wolfe. Selcker is charged with turning the mails for blackmailing purposes. He was arrested by Postoffice Inspector H. E. Lucas. Bail was fixed at $500.

Selcker had been treated charitably by the Rev. Charles A. Huyett, of the First Reformed Church, Steelton, sometime ago. A second request was refused. Later Selcker sent a letter threatening to tell about things going on at the pastor's house unless $25 was forthcoming. Inspector Lucas was notified and after arresting Selcker secured a confession that there was no truth in the charges.

TINPLATE MEN AGAINST CUT

Pittsburgh, March 17.—For the second time within a month, and by referendum vote, the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers have rejected the 6 to 11.2 per cent. reduction in wages proposed by the independent sheet and tin plate manufacturers as a means of equalizing conditions of competition between the organized independents and the unorganized trust mills, principally the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

WORK FOR THOUSAND MEN

Pottsville, Pa., March 17.—The Eastern Steel Company's plant resumed work this morning full-handed for the first time in six months. The plant has been working with a reduced force, but improvement in the steel market made it possible to employ virtually all the hands formerly on the payroll, 1,000 in number.

A Hint for Coming Maternity

In a little book prepared for expectant mothers more complete instruction is given in the use of "Mother's Friend." This is an external embrocation applied to the abdominal muscles for the purpose of reducing the strain on ligaments, cords and tendons.

In thus bringing relief and avoiding pain great good is accomplished. It serves to ease the mind, indirectly has a most beneficial effect upon the nervous system and thousands of women have delightedly told how they were free of nausea, had no morning sickness and went through the ordeal with most remarkable success. "Mother's Friend" has been growing in popular favor for more than forty years. In almost every community are grandmothers who used it themselves, their daughters have used it and they certainly must know what a blessing it is when they recommend it so warmly. Strictly an external application it has no other effect than to ease the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments involved hence is perfectly safe to use by all women. It is used very successfully to prevent caking of breasts, prepared in the laboratory of Bradford Regulator Co., 404 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

AGAINST LOCAL OPTION

Special to The Telegraph

Sunbury, Pa., March 17.—Hotelmen here are circulating petitions asking Governor Brumbaugh and the Legislature to declare themselves against the local option bill, as now proposed. Mrs. Rockefeller's Body in J. D. Archbold's Vault Tarrytown, N. Y., March 17.—Two armed men at night and one man during the day are guarding the body of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, which was placed in the vault of John D. Archbold in the Sleepy Hollow Cemetery shortly before noon yesterday.

The burial was suddenly decided upon. Mr. Rockefeller had expressed the wish that the body of his wife remain in the home for several days. After a conference with his son and daughter it was decided to have the interment at once. The undertaker was called and a car was sent to New York for the Rev. Cornelius Woelfkin, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church.

After the clergyman's arrival the body was carried downstairs and the journey to the cemetery began. Mr. Rockefeller and his family were in automobiles and the servants rode in a three-seated buckboard.

No one was at the cemetery. The family had the seclusion desired. Flowers had been banked inside the vault and after a short committal service by Dr. Woelfkin the body was placed in a crypt. Guards were stationed on duty and will continue to guard the vault until final arrangements for the burial are made.
