BOWMAN MILLINERY Has Yet to Be Equalled in Harrisburg

Involving all that fashion authorities have designed, and with the new -the newest-always being added just as soon as the original model is shown, the Millinery Department is a center of life and activity, and a festive garden of Springtime beauty.

The women folk are fast realizing the supremacy of Bowman styles-qualities and service-with no promises of "freetrimming" and other such masks. We require a very small sum for trimming hats, which barely covers the amount of materials, such as silk lining, etc.

MAUDE ADAMS

When Maude Adams decided to revive "Quality Street" she probably based her decision on she fact that Barrie's play was new to a large portion of the country and that in the interim since she was compelled to lay the work aside a lot of "oung people had come up to whom the sentimental story of the love of Phoebe Throssell for Valentine Brown would make a fresh appeal. The revival has proved to be just as successful as was her one of "Peter Pan." The demand to see again Barrie's sentimental and delightful common the sentimental story of the work has always been a favorite oven surprise Miss Adams. That this is pleasing goes without saying, for the work has always been a favorite one with the actress. Barrie is a capable and a clever dramatist, for his plays not only have life, but they seem to grow even better and more attractive with time. Miss Adams is to make her revival of "Quality Street" at the Majestic Friday evening, March 28, and that she will be welcome in it is a certainty.—Advertisement.

"A gown which remains a mystery to every one but the wearer and the Parisian who designed it is worn in comes to the Mage Chiffon so thin that it scarcely veils the shimner of the satin, is draped over white so that the satin and the chiffon are plain, but about the knees and ankles the folds are many, and are drawn together at the back and allowed to fall in a fetching trail. Restone buckles and other ornaments of the same kind catch the folds together, where they are most numerous, and give a brightness to the gown that is startling. what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Plapepsin which costs only lifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—li digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really assonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Advertisement.
