Entertainment Whenever You Wish

Temperament—the characteristic found in so many artists, is never found in the artist's representative—the Victrola.

The artist's work is there—in any record you place on the Victrola. Temperament doesn't enter into it—the artists will sing. And encore if you so desire.

Your entertainment may be for minutes or hours—you are the one to decide. With a Victrola in your home, the entertainment is solved for all time. Consult us for Victrolas on easy terms. Hear any records you wish in our Victor rooms.

MAINE TABLET IS PRESENTED TO POST

Patriotic Review in Courthouse Attended by Hundreds of Veterans

The Maine Memorial Tablet, made of metal recovered from the battleship Maine sunk in Havana harbor February 15, 1898, was formally presented by the United States Government to Captain Howard L. Calder Post, No. 31, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, at the first annual entertainment and patriotic educational review in the courthouse last night.

Senator E. E. Biddleman acted in behalf of the government and made the presentation speech in the absence of Congressman A. S. Kreider, who was unable to attend. The audience of several hundred included members of Grant Army, Sons of Veterans and Spanish War Veterans. Members of Post 58, G. A. R., marched in uniform to the courthouse. The tablet was unveiled by Miss Charlotte M. Reist, as Buglers Braun, Smith and Robinson sounded "to the colors." It will be placed at the post's headquarters at present, but later may be kept in some public place.

E. L. Wagner gave a lecture on Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, with stereopticon views. Miss M. A. Woolcott sang a solo and the Rutherford Y. M. C. A. Glee Club and the audience sang. Mrs. Charles Lawrence was accompanied by Lieutenant Frank A. Aul spoke on "Veteran Orators," and Miss Moeslein recited. The Rev. J. C. Fornerock made the invocation.

SORROW'S SHADOW

Some days, when I am drest in shimmer-stuff,
With yellow roses at my breast and hair;
When just the air and sunlight seem enough
To make the whole world delicately fair;
When people love me, and I them, and all
My heart is like a hill-brook's lilt and call:

Then, if I pass Her, in her dim black dress,
With heavy eyelids darkened by old tears,
I feel a sudden clutch of loneliness:
I stare down vistas of unsparkling years.
And there behold myself, clad close in black,
With tired brows, thin hands, and aching back

Oh, Sorrow's Shadow! let me be awhile:
Wreck not my happy yellow roses;
No watch upon my sudden cry and smile,
Why should I not forget—ah, half-forgotten!
That Sorrow's Self will meet me some strange day,
And take my hand, nor let me dance away.

—Fannie Stearns Davis, in Harper's Magazine.

HER ADVANTAGE

A mermaid sat on a high sea rock,
And combed her golden hair,
For the rocks are mermaids' own bou-doirs.

As everyone's aware,
She combed it with a pearly comb,
And loud and clear sang she,
"It may be hot where mortals are,
But 'tis cool enough for me."

She tossed her golden tresses back
Down in a gleaming shower,
Then dived among the waters clear
Into her coral bower,
And as she swam, caroled she,
"I care not where the mercury climbs,
'Tis cool enough for me."

No warm waves came where soon she swam,
All cool waves were her lot,
Their "pleasant laps of luxury"
Marked every motion of her action,
And as she reveled in those waves,
Far from heat's misery,
She sang, "Is hot enough for you?
'Tis cool enough for me."

Nature undoubtedly intended Florida as the world's greatest source of supply for oranges and grapefruit. Grown here they reach the greatest perfection. The soil of the citrus fruit section of Florida produces orange and grapefruit trees of unusual vigor. Florida showers and sunshine supply just the elements needed to ripen into rich, spicy, juicy and sweet oranges and grapefruit the product of these fine trees. They gather sweetness as they ripen.

Florida's Soil and Climate Give to Her Oranges and Grapefruit Surpassing Quality

Realizing that the producers' prosperity depends finally upon the consumers' satisfaction, progressive orange and grapefruit growers of Florida have formed the Florida Citrus Exchange, a co-operative, non-profit-making association for mutual protection and benefit.

The Exchange insists that its members send to market only tree-ripened fruit, handled by white-gloved workers. No matter what grade of fruit you buy, you will get your money's worth if the red mark of the Florida Citrus Exchange is on boxes and wrappers.

Heavy fines are stipulated for those who kill the deer out of season, and those in the State's preserves are rigidly protected.

British Say U-29 Has Been Sunk; Captain Killed

London, March 26.—The British admiralty announced last evening that it believes the German submarine U-29, which recently in twenty-four hours sank four British and one French steamship in the English Channel and damaged three other vessels, had been sunk with all hands.

Do coming events cast their shadows before? Yes! Emphatically, yes! To the man or woman who has the push and go—the determination to succeed, a hint alone vantage as much as repeated entreaties would to the less determined.
