Attorney W. L. Loeser Will Appeal to Commissioners as Counsel to Recover Claims of $4,000

Dauphin county's board of commissioners will be asked to settle claims for back fees and mileage of those constables who did not appear as contestants in the recent test suit and which the commission of the statute of limitations. The total claims it is understood may amount to in the neighborhood of $4,000 or $5,000.

The bills cover the years of 1902 to 1905 inclusive and of the claims submitted more than $12,000 was paid out by the county to the constables which were benefited by the opinion of the Dauphin county court of several months ago. The commissioners have held up the bills originally and several of the Commonwealth officers got together and carried the case into the courts.

Attorney William L. Loeser and Assistant District Attorney Robert Fox, representing the constables whose claims were not considered yesterday, asked the commissioners for a hearing on the subject, but the lawyers were told that the commissioners desired to investigate the request before deciding.

Henry C. Doll, of Denver, Renews Old Acquaintance

Henry C. Doll, of Denver, Colo., a former Harrisburg resident, visiting his sister, Mrs. Gilbert M. McCauley, at 13 South Front street, and renewing old acquaintance in the city, although he finds but few of his boyhood friends alive.

When a boy, Mr. Doll attended the school at Third and Chestnut streets, with Professor Goff as his teacher. He was closely connected with the life of the city, and with the Market Square Presbyterian Church. During the Civil war he served as corporal under Captain Henry B. McCormick in Company F, Twenty-fifth Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, called the "Lochiel Grays."

Mr. Doll left Harrisburg over forty-five years ago for Salt Lake City, afterward removing to Denver, where he has resided ever since, taking an active part in city and church interests. He and Mrs. McCauley are the last of their family.

Men of Modest Resources Now Own Automobiles

"The national income tax returns furnish a lot of food for thought, especially to those of modest resources who have hesitated about buying an automobile," says L. W. Gillmor, of the Harrisburg Kissel Kar Company.

"It appears that of the cars registered in the United States only about 400,000 are owned by persons having an income of $3,000 a year or more, while about 887,000 are owned by those who receive less.

"This does not mean that vast thousands of people owning automobiles cannot afford it—not at all. It means rather that a great percentage of the American public has come to look upon motoring as a comfort and a convenience that pays dividends in health and efficiency. Most owners find that the expense of maintaining an automobile is easily met by pruning other indulgences, less attractive and beneficial.

"A great majority of those of limited means who buy cars are thrifty folks, primarily proved by the fact that they have the money to buy a car in the first place. You will find most of them improving their condition during their ownership of the car, the next best possible proof."

Lewis Bradbury, a wealthy ranch owner near Monrovia, Cal., uses a motorcycle altogether for making hurried cross-country trips.

An interesting motorcycle hill-climbing contest was recently made at St. Louis, Mo., when a number of riders chugged up a 60 per cent grade, some of them even carrying tandem passengers.

With an initial membership of 32, a motorcycle club was recently organized at Waterloo, Iowa.

Reports show that there are practically 7,000 motorcycles being used by rural mail carriers in the United States.

On June 12 and 13, the Worcester (Mass.) Motorcycle Club will hold its annual endurance run. This year's course will touch every New England State.

The Houston (Texas) Motorcycle Club will stage an endurance run on April 21.

A large number of special delivery carriers of the Brooklyn Post Office are using motorcycles.

C. Gildersleeve, of Woodhaven, L. I., says he has ridden his motorcycle 8,500 miles and has yet to pay his first dollar for repairs.

H. C. Scherer has just been appointed by President Coffman as F. A. M. commissioner for the State of Michigan.

Motorcycles are to take the place of twenty horses which were recently auctioned off by the Pittsburgh, Pa., police department.
