HOME RELIEF WORK DRAWING TO CLOSE

All Departments, Excepting Red Cross Will Cease Activities, Tomorrow

Perhaps the last contribution to the Home and War Relief Committee fund was received last week from a little girl, Avis Ann Hickok, of Front and Locust streets, who gave $2.15 for use in buying supplies. The contribution represented self-denial on the part of the little miss for several weeks.

Presents of clothing for themselves and their children marked the last payday for the women sewing for the committee during the winter. More than 130 of them received over $300 in wages and each a big bundle of clothing. All work must be returned by to-morrow, when additional garments will be given the workers. Garments are to be returned whether finished or not.

All departments close after to-morrow, excepting the Red Cross, which will remain open until Saturday. At the home of Miss Mary Robinson, 111 State street, and Miss Ann McCormick, 305 North Front street, contributions will be received for shipment abroad after the headquarters close.

The work of Miss Edith Leason, artist, netted the Red Cross an additional $10 last week, making $30 in all, which will be sent to the British Red Cross.

Among the contributions received last week were thirty big packages of tobacco from a local dealer for use by the Allies.

ALL GAMES OFF IN EASTERN LEAGUE

Impose Fines on Reading and Camden Teams For Violation of Rules; Officials Sore

Special to The Telegraph

Philadelphia, March 30.—The Eastern League basketball season was declared closed, with Reading and Camden tied for first honors, and the directors of both organizations were fined $25 for not notifying President Scheffer of arrangements for the playing of the tie at a special meeting of league officials held last night. League officials are sore because they were ignored.

Reading and Camden teams finished the season's schedule in a tie for first place and arrangements were made for a play-off. Two games were played, each team winning one. When arrangements were made for the third game President Scheffer was not notified and there was a dispute about tickets between the two clubs.

As a result the Reading team failed to appear to play Camden for the final game Saturday night.

MAXIM SILENCER ON THE STAGE
In "Within the Law," which comes to the Majestic, to-morrow, matinee and night, Bayard Veiller's new drama treating of to-day, there is represented on the stage for the first time a murder by pistol in which there is not the slightest sound at the discharge of the bullet, nor the thinnest veil of smoke. This is said to be made possible by the use of smokeless powder and a Maxim silencer.

These ingenious instruments of modern warfare add greatly to the mystery the authorities are called upon to solve in the play, and incidentally provide a foundation for the "big scene," which is the most thrilling that has been seen in a decade. The Maxim silencer, regarded by police authorities as the deadliest weapon ever conceived, plays an important part in the play.—Advertisement.

ADD AMUSEMENTS
COLONIAL
It would take twelve tinney busses thirty-eight days to make a trip like the one that Arthur Lavine and company are presenting at the Colonial this week. From Cape Cod, across the North Pole, and they make the whole trip in something like thirty minutes. And it's doubtful if at the termination of the trip, the places would be as lively and interesting as these. Three other fine Keith hits are assembled on the same bill, and interesting moving picture features are included in the performance.—Advertisement.

"THOU SHALT NOT KILL" MAKES HIT

Playlet Gives Miss Crosman Opportunity to Display Her Splendid Dramatic Ability

What the woman bears, who sits at home patiently waiting—alone—while her husband or son is marching proudly away to the tune of martial music, is dramatically depicted by Henrietta Crosman, in her playlet, "Thou Shalt Not Kill," at the Orpheum this week.

Miss Crosman's act gives her an opportunity to display her rare ability at emotional acting. And to say that she made a "hit" with the Orpheum's "first nighters" would be putting it mildly. It's a safe venture that there wasn't a single pair of dry eyes at the climax of Miss Crosman's act. She is ably supported by Frank L. Davis and Gerald Hightwood.

Although Miss Crosman's act is of exceptional merit, the Orpheum management doesn't attempt to force it to carry through an inferior bill. Every act is greeted with its own share of deserved applause.

The Gagnaux, in their novelty act, were refreshing, and Milo, who is billed with a large interrogation mark, was indeed a surprise. In Milo's vocal organs there meddled success. General "Hope-Jones $25,000 unit orchestra," about which we have been hearing so much lately. It wouldn't be fair to describe Milo's act—might spoil the surprise—but Milo deserves the vigorous applause that he received and then some. Mr. and Mrs. McGreevy, in an impossible "rube" act were well applauded. Swor and Madry, a black-face act liven things up a bit with their comedy and Will and Kemp do some new stunts in an acrobatic act.

Altogether it's one of the best balanced bills seen at the Orpheum this season.

MAX ROBERTSON.

"THE BLACK BOX" COMING TO THE PALACE
The Universal Motion Picture Company has given to the public some extraordinary pictures of all classes, but their serials are probably contained the best efforts of acting and scenery. And now there comes a new one—"The Black Box," a five-part serial, which will be shown consecutively for the same number of weeks. The first episode of this work opens with "An Apartment House Case," and is claimed to be one of the many thrillers to come in this field. The story is from the pen of E. Phillips Oppenheim, and no less an artist than Otis Turner, producer of "Damon and Pythias," is responsible for the production of "The Black Box."

The cast includes many notables in the motion picture world, embracing mainly: "Sanford Quest," Herbert Rawlinson; Lenora MacDougal; Anna Litvin; Professor Ashleigh; "Lord Ashleigh," William Worthington; "Lady Ashleigh," Helen Wright; "Ella," their daughter, Beatrice Van John Craig; Frank MacQuarrie; "Ian MacDougal," Frank Lloyd; "Laura," "Quest's" assistant, Virginia Oakley. This film will be first shown at the Palace starting Wednesday, April 1, and will be shown thereafter every Wednesday for fifteen weeks.—Advertisement.

Laurel Bill Veto Sustained After Its Author Says Things

The House last night sustained Governor Brumbaugh's veto of the bill to designate the mountain laurel as the State flower of Pennsylvania, after Mr. Geiser, Northampton, sponsor of the bill, had criticized the veto and then asked that it be sustained.

Mr. Geiser declared that he had presented the bill in response to many requests and that it was supported by many prominent people. He denied that the laurel was poisonous. The vote to sustain the Governor was 174 to 6.

About the same time Mr. Dunn, Philadelphia, introduced a bill to make the myrtle the State flower.

EDUCATORS BUSY ON FIGHTING GAME

Depend on Cubans to Furnish Necessary Cash For Johnson—Willard Expenses

Special to The Telegraph

Havana, March 30.—Bearing a slump in attendance, fight promoters here are educating the people in prize fighting.

The one hope of the backers of next Monday's fight is to draw enough people from nearby ports and from Cuban territory to cover all expenses, depending on the outside rush for profits.

Boxers are gathering here from all parts of the United States and bouts are scheduled for every night of this week. Windows and billboards are filled with cards and posters announcing the fights. Pugilists of all classes are in training here and as they parade the streets clad in fannels or blouses they are followed by curious boys and men. About the training camps groups of negro youths spend all day at sparring, many of them cleverly. Several Cuban fighters are to have tryouts this week.

Treat Dope Victims Successfully in Jail

Treatment in the Dauphin county prison for dope victims is doing a world of good, is the opinion expressed by Colonel Joseph B. Hutchison and Captain Joseph P. Thompson. These officials are also of the belief that it would be a good thing to have a special room set aside for drug patients.

E. Darlington, a local physician, is receiving strong commendation for his good work in caring for the unfortunate placed under his care. Captain Thompson said to-day: "I don't know how he does it, but Dr. Darlington gets them quick with in three days at the longest, the patients are out. They are still treating people at the Harrisburg Hospital, who have been there for two weeks and longer. Within twenty-four hours there is an improvement shown when Dr. Darlington uses his treatment. We are watching closely everybody sent to jail by this department for dope treatment, and to date have had the best results."
