TAKES FAMILY TO PRISON

TAKES FAMILY TO PRISON

[From the Christian Herald.]

When a man enters upon a term in prison, not only is the man punished, but his family, by that very fact, is punished as well. I talked with men who, separated from their families by the law, had no idea how these families were being supported during their incarceration. A prison sentence sometimes means the complete breaking up of a household. Children scattered or sent into institutions; women compelled to labor for their bread in ways to which they had not been used before the disgrace fell upon them.

"Won't you try to do something for the old woman and the kids?" was the burden of many an importunity which came my way before I was released. And I resolved that I would do everything possible to help them.

Minimum Prices Removed After Opening Prices Showed Minor Losses in Number of Leading Issues

New York, April 1.—The governing committee of the Stock Exchange after the close yesterday abolished all minimum prices on stocks with this significant statement:

"Financial affairs throughout the country and our own foreign trade situation have so improved as to remove the danger existing at the opening of the exchange."

The importance of this statement as a tonic to the investor cannot be overestimated.

The governors also decided to remove all restrictions on bond trading. This will permit the sale of bonds in anticipation of future shipments from Europe.

Yesterday's resolutions restore Stock Exchange operations to exactly the status existing before the way.

By Associated Press.

New York, April 1.—Uncertainty marked the course of to-day's early trading in the stock market. Opening of the leading issues, such as Reading, New York Central, Canadian Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, Lehigh Valley and United States Steel. On the other hand Rock Island, the Bries, local tractions, motors and equipment shares rose from fractions to over a point. American Sugar was prominent for its advance of 2 points. The feverish undertone of the list was seen in anticipation of future shipments from Europe.

Yesterday's resolutions restore Stock Exchange operations to exactly the status existing before the way.
