EXPLOSION OF PAINT TANK AT STEEL WORKS

Two Workmen Killed and Several Seriously Injured in Accident at Burnham

Lewistown, Pa., April 2.—A serious accident happened at the Standard Steel work at Burnham, a short distance north of here yesterday when two men from Lewistown met death and three were badly injured. The accident was caused by an explosion in the boring mill, while Abner Knepp was filling a 300-gallon tank with a composition of benzine and paint. The tank was directly under an electric crane and it is said that a spark from the crane fell into the tank, causing the explosion. Knepp was instantly killed, and Homer Detra was so badly injured that he died shortly after. The three men seriously injured are A. A. Shatzer and Fred Shatzer, a nephew, of Lewistown, and J. K. Giboney, of Yeagertown. Charles Woods, Stewart Hess and Anthony Gebel, of Lewistown, and John Hannon, of Burnham, were slightly injured. Every physician in Lewistown responded to the call for aid.

In December last, his stock was destroyed because of the foot and mouth disease, but the tearing out of the barn and fumigating it, was not followed because the structure was a new one. Stagnant Blood Given A Quick Impulse

Wonderful Activity Imparted by a Famous Remedy.

The appearance of pimples, boils, skin eruptions and all evidence of impure blood, calls for S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Catarrhs, purges, bowel movers and laxatives won't do.

No amount of bile will destroy certain germs which cause blood and skin eruptions. They are away down deep in the tissues, perhaps in the very marrow of the bones. And such a condition calls for the searching influence of S. S. S. It is indeed a remarkable remedy, as it reaches the blood stream and never loses its medicinal influence. On and on it goes, through and through the entire system and always with the same definite action to disintegrate, destroy their activity and stimulate the liver, lungs, kidneys, bowels and skin to throw them out completely.

Stagnant blood, provides a rational exhilaration to the nerve centers and thereby the natural functions of the body are aroused to cast out intruders, no matter how strongly entrenched they may be. It refutes the ancient theory that to destroy within us the germs that eat into our vital cells for drugs that destroy our very existence. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist and for special advice on severe blood disorders write at once to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 106 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Do not accept a substitute. Insist upon what you ask for.

Rheumatism in Joints

Pain Disappears and Swelling Vanishes in a Few Days

That is what happens if you use Rheuma, the wonderful remedy that H. C. Kennedy and all druggists sell on the "money back if not cured" plan. There is a vast amount of rheumatism in this vicinity, and you know any sufferer, call his attention to this generous offer. Rheuma is a quick-acting prescription. You will know your rheumatism is leaving twenty-four hours after you take the first dose. It dissolves the uric acid and drives it from its lodging place. Mrs. Alice A. Brown, Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "For seven years I suffered greatly with rheumatism in my hip; at night I was scarcely able to sleep. One bottle of Rheuma cured me." That sounds miraculous, but Rheuma does miraculous things. Fifty cents a bottle.—Advertisement.

It is the most intense phase of war in its most intimate phase.—Advertisement.

ORPHEUM One of the distinct hits supporting Henrietta Crossman at the Orpheum this week, is the rattling surprise "turn of events." It is a play that is so important as the name and deepens the mystery. It is a play of the same importance, are Swor and Mack, the blackface comedians, and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Clark. It has actually been admitted by Orpheum patrons this week that they shed tears over Orpheum acts. Real sympathetic tears at Henrietta Crossman's act, and tears of laughter at Swor and Mack's act. The Orpheum's current bill is a real metropolitan array of talent.—Advertisement.

AT THE PALACE FRIDAY, "BILL'S NEW PAL" "The Walter," Billie Ritchie; "The Chief," Henry Bergman; "The Cashier," Gertrude Welby.

The cafe-oven, the proprietor's watch, the cashier and the chef's irritable temper were among the things that made life unpleasant for the waiter. He and the chef were roommates, but the chef was a weakling, so the waiter usually slept out where the breeze blew. Both the chef and the waiter loved the cashier. The climax came when the waiter caught the cashier in the pocket of his shirt and the waiter tried to put his mitts into the cash register. The cashier tried to talk to the waiter when the chef wasn't looking. The latter saw this and started throwing insults about. He thought he had killed a man and proceeded to put the body in a barrel. The waiter started chasing the chef. All of them fall down in the cellar except the waiter. He is the only one who gets up. He is and is almost incinerated before he is rescued.

"Wheels Within Wheels," a story of political intrigue, written by Bess Meredith, with Murdock MacQuarrie, Rex Ferris and Rex de Roberge in the cast. The plot contains a good mystery and there is a surprise at the end.—Advertisement.

"THE LIFE OF OUR SAVIOUR" AT THE VICTORIA TODAY A very timely offering is presented to-day at the Victoria in a religious drama, entitled "The Life of Our Saviour." A special program of sacred music has been played on our wonderful $25,000 Orpheum Unit Pipe Organ Orchestra. Handel's masterpieces will be rendered, and the final selection of each show will be the famous "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Messiah." Each scene is artistically arranged, and the ensemble of color and light blended, giving the effect of a masterpiece of Old World painting in which the characters are made to live. The picture is hand-colored. This alone is something which raises this film above average. In addition, the backgrounds are absolutely true, the scenes have been taken for the greater part of the story in the actual places which lend an authentic air to the settings. The backgrounds were selected by a man who knew how to distinguish beauty from ordinary scenery and every scene is in itself beautiful. The ancient and modern scenes are so perfect in detail and the desert scenes are a rare treat, for they carry the true atmosphere of the East. The power and seriousness is shown by the actors throughout, thus producing a thoroughly convincing presentation of the ever-sacred subject.—Advertisement.

"TIPPERARY" AT PHOTOPLAY TODAY Nothing pleases the Photo-play better than to give its patrons a genuine treat in the way of the most original and best in motion pictures. For the attraction to-day the management will show the stirring motion picture feature of three reels, "It's a Long Long Way to Tipperary," based on the popular song.

During the showing of this feature the spectator is shown Molly Melloy, who is the sweetest girl to Patrick Rooney and Michael Malone standing at the window of her father's little cottage on the banks of the River Suir when snapper Kelley comes running into the cottage crying, "War-War! War!" and stating that Germany has declared war on England, France and Russia and recruits for the army of England. Patrick and Michael see the law the lights should be dimmed. See on the firing line, where for days Michael had been pushing towards the banks of the River Suir, where a decisive conflict with the company of England has been taking place to occur. See the Tipperary Guards in action in the blackness of the night on the banks of the River Suir. The management has also secured A. Bloom, Harrisburg's boy savior, Saturday only "The Hero" by C. Haddon Chambers, featuring Charles Braham.

Monday, the greatest show that ever came to Harrisburg, "The Spoilers," featuring William Farnum, thrilling, powerful and unique. A vivid masterpiece fresh from a fortnight run on Broadway, New York City, and an equally great record-breaking picture presented at the Studebaker Theater in Chicago and Chestnut Street Opera House in Philadelphia.—Advertisement.

STUDY AND EXERCISE Study does not hurt a child unless the study time is taken from time that should be spent in out-of-door exercise.

Overstudy and lack of exercise make thin, bloodless children. It is a combination that provokes St. Vitus' dance. If your child is thin and pale, listless, irritable, has a fickle appetite and is unable to stand still or sit still, you must remember that health is even more important than education. See it at once that the patient does not overstudy, gets at least two hours out-of-door exercise every day, sleeps ten hours out of every twenty-four and takes a good cathartic tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills until the color returns to cheeks and lips and the appetite becomes normal.

For growing children who become pale and thin, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not only safe but in the great majority of cases they are the very best tonic that can be used. They build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and assist nature in keeping pace with rapid growth.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., will send you two books on the blood and nerves if you mention this paper. If your child is very young ask for the booklet "The Care of the Baby." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.—Advertisement.
