The American Flag Shelters Refugees and Wounded in Levant

Mission Compounds Crowded With Suffering Who Are Fleeing For Lives; Starving Natives Succored

(By The Religious Rambler.)

The serious stories that are coming in meager and rather cryptic cablegrams concerning the refugeeing of Christians in the Levant upon the premises of American missions, together with the massacre of Christians and attacks upon missionaries, are puzzling to the average reader.

conditions of life in Turkey and Persia, however, as well as in points in the farther east, there has grown up not only the right of asylum for political refugees in foreign legations and consulates, but also the custom of Christians fleeing for protection in compounds of the various nations.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

You had better stop at once or you'll lose your job. Every line of business is closing its doors to "drinking" men. It may be your turn next. By the aid of ORRINE thousands of men have been restored to lives of sobriety and health.

We are so sure that ORRINE will benefit you that we say to you that if after a trial you fail to get any benefit from its use, your money will be refunded.

So great is the prestige of the American flag, that it has frequently happened in case of massacres in Turkey, that two or three unarmed missionaries have been able to protect within their compounds thousands of native refugees.

All this involves a measure of peril; for there is ever the possibility that some group, especially of Turkish soldiers, will get out of hand and do violence even to the foreigner. Two Americans, Messrs. Rogers and Maurer, were slain in the Adana massacre in 1909, and because nobody was punished for this the lives of all other missionaries in Turkey are in greater peril to-day.

Christians in Western Persia are the bloodthirsty Kurds, who are perhaps a little quicker with the knife and the trigger than any others on earth, not even excepting the tribesmen of Afghanistan. They are a vile, stewart people, who have been holding the mountains of Kurdistan for thousands of years, yielding only nominal sovereignty to whatever empire chanced to be in control.

Friends of the Presbyterian American Mission in Turkey—the only American mission in that country—have felt rather serene in this time of upheaval because of the known friendship of the Kurds to the Americans. The bountiful work of medical missions, which has been done among the tribesmen by the Americans, has won their gratitude.

Last Fall when certain Kurdish religious leaders were sentenced to death near Urumiah, it was an American missionary, Dr. Shepard, who interceded in their behalf and saved their lives, since their guilt had not at all been proved. In addition to the American missionaries in Persia, there is the French Catholic Mission and the Archbishop of Canterbury's Mission to the Nestorians. In adjacent Turkish territory the American Board has missions, as well as in all other parts of the Turkish Empire, except Palestine and Arabia, where the Presbyterians and the Dutch Reformed Church are at work.

The slaughter of the Christians near Urumiah recalls one of the most atrocious crimes possible only in the immediate East. The cablegram spoke of Assyrians Christians. Now there have been no Assyrians for a thousand years, although the word is used in the formal title of the Archbishop of Canterbury's Mission. The Christians meant are the Nestorians, whose church in Persia was founded even as it did in the fifth century when Bishop Nestorius was driven from Constantinople.

panied by the Rev. George C. Doolittle, of the Presbyterian Mission at Sidon. This medical expedition established its base near Beersheba.

Feeding the Starving
The greatest plight of the natives at the present time has been hunger. Syrians, Jews and Persians have starved to death since conscription laid its palsying hand upon the Turkish Empire. The missions at Beirut and Tarsus and elsewhere are all feeding thousands of hungry refugees. Terror and turmoil have driven these poor creatures to the American missions, for in these Americans they have supreme confidence.

This is the sort of service which has been repeated scores of times in Asia during the past fifty years, that has given America its primacy in influence among the older nations. By fulfilling the Scripture "Not to be ministered unto, but to minister," the Americans have come to a position of diplomatic influence which the continental nations envy.

BASEBALL PHRASES ENRICH LANGUAGE

New Universities Dictionary Defines Terms Used by "Fans"
Baseball, this country's great national pastime, has come to have a language of its own. The newspaper men who follow the fortunes of the various big league teams throughout the season of activity on the diamond would not be able to tell their story if they did not employ many words and expressions whose meaning is clear enough to the more enthusiastic "fans," but often more or less obscure to casual followers of the game.

The New Universities Dictionary being offered to the readers of this paper contains a supplementary dictionary, giving an exhaustive list of such terms, and defines them so fully and clearly that anyone after a little study would be able to read understandingly the most difficult of the sporting editor's passages.

The study of this list will be found not only entertaining, but instructive, as many of the words treated therein have been borrowed by writers in the general field of literature seeking new and effective means of expression, and their use outside of the baseball column in the newspaper has come to be regarded as both proper and in good taste.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get At the Real Cause — Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach trouble. If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition, energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without stripping, cramping or pain. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like, at 10c and 50c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.—Advertisement

BROKE LEG IN BED

Special to The Telegraph
Sunbury, Pa., April 2.—C. C. Bingham awoke last evening, while in bed, experienced excruciating pains in his left leg and was unable to move. Doctors were called and he was taken to the hospital, where it was found that he was suffering with a broken leg. He is a heavy man and broke his leg while twisting around in bed.

CHILDREN FIRE BARN

Special to The Telegraph
Union, Pa., April 2.—Several children of Frank McConnell were playing with matches yesterday afternoon in the barnyard, and before long the straw was ablaze. The fire communicated to the barn and burned off two doors before the flames could be extinguished.

AGED WOMAN BREAKS HIP

Special to The Telegraph
Duncannon, Pa., April 2.—Mrs. Amelia Gintzer, aged 74, while working around the furnace in the cellar at her home on South Market street, at noon yesterday fell over the door of the furnace, which was open, and fractured her left hip. Mrs. Gintzer carries on a very successful dry goods business, which she took full charge of on the death of her husband, Lewis Gintzer, several years ago. She was alone at the time the accident occurred, and had probably laid for a half hour before she was discovered by neighbors, who heard her calling for assistance.
