GALAHAD RECREATION CLUB IS ORGANIZED

Christian Endeavorers of Fourth Reformed Church Will Foster All Outdoor Sports

Members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Fourth Reformed Church, have organized a recreation club, to be known as the "Galahads."

The Galahads have entered as one of six teams of the Allison Hill Amateur Baseball League.

Manager Fritz, of the baseball club, is confident of placing a winning team on the field and has already arranged for practice games.

It is expected that each club of the A. H. A. B. L. will also produce tennis teams, and in the near future a definite schedule will be prepared.

The following officers were elected for the coming season: P. D. March, president; Stephen L. Bowers, vice-president; Nevin Bowers, secretary, treasurer; Baseball manager, Allen Fritz; manager of junior baseball team, William Sterrick; manager of tennis, T. J. Taggart; manager of quills, Charles Hillier and manager of hikes, William Maurer.

The following attended the organization meeting and were enrolled as members: Ralph Enck, Russell Jones, William Wenzel, T. J. Taggart, Harry Maurer, Allen Fritz, Harry Blecker, Frank Gerlock, Ralph Michener, John Borden, Leslie Poland, Harry Peiffer, Eugene Martin, Nevin Bowers, Stephen Bowers, C. E. Martin, Samuel Shearer, Robert Shearer, Charles M. Michener, Charles Erdman, Charles Hillier, Harry McFadden, William Maurer, Edward Malone, Samuel Keeler, Clem Bolan, Frank Bolan, Edward Hiller, Samuel Jones, William Zerbe, William Sterrick, James Bernheisel, William Keck, Harry Johns, P. D. March and R. V. Watts.

Ailments of Men

Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following prescription will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring to "nervous exhaustion" and the functions of the body, weak vitality, melancholia and the functions of the body.

First get fifty cents' worth of compound fluid balmwort in a one-ounce package and three ounces syrup sarsaparilla compound; take home, mix and let stand two hours; then get one ounce compound essence cardol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamon). Mix all in a six or eight ounce bottle, shake well, and take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring, followed by a drink of water.

By mixing it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's shortcomings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of noise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, the above home treatment is given. It contains no opiates or habit-forming drugs whatever. Mix it at home and no one will be the wiser as to your affliction.

SPITE FENCES TO BE MADE NUISANCES

Nissley Bill Would Enable Removal of the Eyesore in Old Orchard District

Legislation which will make "spite fences" a nuisance and get rid of an eyesore in Old Orchard is proposed in a bill introduced by Mr. Nissley in the House last night.

The bill declares a fence over six feet high "which is maliciously erected or maintained for the purpose of annoying the owner or occupant of adjoining property" to be a private nuisance and the persons injured thereby may sue for damages. In case of recovery the fence must be removed in thirty days. Neglect or refusal to remove the fence is punishable by a fine of $10 a day.

Mr. Widman presented two bills prepared by the State Insurance Department regulating persons who may place insurance and prohibiting any commission to any person related or connected in business with the insured; exempting free from all claims proceeds of certain annuity insurance not exceeding $100 per month.

Mr. Fruit, Mercer, put in a bill amending the automobile laws so that a person arrested for a violation may enter bail and appeal to court in a justice's court.

Provision for a State board of examiners to examine candidates for mine inspector for the anthracite region was offered by Mr. Hess, Lancaster. The board is to consist of five residents of the anthracite region, to be appointed by the Governor, and to have authority to test all candidates. The bill, if enacted, would abolish district boards.

Mr. Schaeffer, Schuylkill, added to mine bills by one prohibiting employment of anyone under 18 years of age about anthracite coal mines for more than eight hours a day. Violation of the act is punishable by a fine of from $50 to $200.

Revenue Raisers In

The first of a series of bills designed to raise revenue for improvement of the highways of the State was introduced by Mr. Jones, Susquehanna, chairman of the roads committee. It would impose a tax of 4 mills on the nominal value of all mortgages, bonds, script, certificates of indebtedness, car trust securities and every other security or loan of any kind bearing interest, except ordinary commercial paper or notes for annual indebtedness issued and discounted. The tax is to be assessed at the source by the Auditor General on reports filed by the treasurers. It is estimated that the tax will raise $2,000,000 a year.

Mr. Hess, Lancaster, presented another revenue bill, imposing a State stamp tax of 2 cents on the hundred dollars of all transfers of stock. The tax is to be paid by stamps to be sold by the State.

An increase of the board of registration commissioners in first and second class cities from four to five is proposed in a bill introduced by Mr. Forster, Philadelphia. Three of the commissioners are to be of the majority party and the new commissioner is to be appointed before June 15, 1915. Next year all commissioners are to be appointed before June 15 for four-year terms.

Mr. Walker, Franklin, introduced bills providing that no municipality shall sell or lease a public utility without the voters approving; regulating erection of a borough or of two or more boroughs into a third class city; empowering sealers of weights and measures to form a State association.

A Rush of Bills

Other bills presented were: Mr. Wilson, Jefferson—Establishing a bureau of forest protection in the Department of Forestry.

Mr. Weir, Philadelphia—Providing that when license to sell liquors has been refused a certain place it may not be licensed for three years thereafter.

Mr. Stone, Bradford—Authorizing counties to establish homes for indigent orphans and dependent or delinquent children; appropriating $25,000 to State College for agricultural education and home economics instruction.

Mr. Geary, Allegheny—Creating a department of "safety education" as a branch of county government in Allegheny county under a superintendent at $2,000 per year.

Mr. Walsh, Philadelphia—Regulating incorporation of corporations for public works.

Mr. Brownlee, Washington—Providing for treatment at expense of State of deformed children.

Mr. Gibson, Lycoming—Making it unlawful to keep bees within fifty feet of a highway or a division line.

Mr. Cox, Philadelphia—Appropriating $15,000 for a monument to Molly Pitcher at Carlisle.

Mr. Wynne, Luzerne—Authorizing second class townships to establish fire protection and lights on highways.

Mr. Roney, Philadelphia—Making fees of expert witnesses part of costs in court cases.

Mr. Stein, Allegheny—Regulating commitment of convicts.

Mr. Walsh, Philadelphia—Establishing a State department of municipal affairs, under authority of a chief to be appointed by the Governor and to receive $5,000 per year. The department is to gather data and recommend legislation.

Mr. Phillips, Clearfield—Legalizing the killing of foxes.

Mr. Dunn, Philadelphia—Authorizing councils of first class cities to levy an occupation tax.

Mr. McVicar, Allegheny—Creating municipal liens on buildings.

Mr. Showalter, Union—Authorizing school directors in second, third and fourth class districts to form State associations.

Third Class City Bill In

Mr. Walter, Lawrence—The bill amending the third class city act introduced in the Senate.

Mr. Hubler, Luzerne—Establishing plumbing licensure in second and third class cities and boroughs and allowing those licensed in one municipality to work in others; defining the term "legal name."

Mr. Aron, Philadelphia—Prohibiting granting of licenses for properties in which any person, firm, joint stock association or corporation manufacturing or selling liquors has any interest.

Mr. Reynolds, Philadelphia—Regulating blending of oils and greases.

Mr. Dodds, Allegheny—Authorizing sealers of weights and measures to inspect weighing machinery at mines.

ALL HEARINGS IN BACK NUMBER LIST

Yesterday Afternoon's Local Option Hearing Threw Everything Into the Shade

The oldest man about Capitol Hill does not recall anything that ever touched the demonstration on the local option bill yesterday. It was the biggest, noisiest and liveliest known in a long time and it showed that the people of the State think enough of legislation to come here in unprecedented numbers.

The hearing did not end until 4:30 and it was going from the start, Congressman Barchfeld and Father Curran were only certain raisers. The Rev. S. G. von Bosse, of Wilmington, a speaker against local option, undertook to hand a few jabs to Billy Sunday and was hissed and catcalled until the crowd was told by Chairman Williams to behave itself. Von Bosse also extolled the Germans and their temperance ideas and through the open windows came the strains of "Tipperary." John A. McSparran, master of the State Grange, made a rattling speech for the bill, pointing out that tons of foodstuffs go into the making of liquor that should go into the tables and that if the liquor interests want compensation they can start to make denatured alcohol. He said that there were not nearly as many people employed in the liquor trade as the liquor people pretended and gave a good sound home rule speech.

R. J. McGrath, a Pittsburgh labor leader, spoke for the bill, but did not make many dents except in the patience of the audience and Joseph O'Brien, the Scranton lawyer, ran a succession of verbal tilts with the crowd over his contention that the Brooks high license law was the best in the land and was really local option. The crowd could not see it and the brilliant Scranton lawyer switched into an argument that local option ended last election and had no business in this Legislature. In spite of his able presentation of his side the audience declined to go along.

City Treasurer McCooch, of Philadelphia, who sat near the Governor said the legislature ought to put local option up to the people and let them decide. The Rev. Dr. C. F. Swift, a former legislator, closed the speeches with his usual vigor, declaring that the saloon could not exist a week if run on the same basis of service rendered as the banks, groceries and other stores.

The crowd waved flags and cheered and hissed and made queer sounds as it pleased during the hearings. The "wets" and "drys" were about evenly balanced and took turns in demonstrating. When they were not doing it the overflow meeting outside would sing and the band would play.

After the hearing and the flag waving had ended some hundreds of people made for the Governor's department and shook his hand until it ached and he had to escape to go home to dinner. He received an ovation when he left the building.

As far as Capitol Hill was concerned it was a great big day and will long be remembered.

DR. McCRAE TALKS

Dr. Thomas McCrae, of Jefferson Medical College, spoke on "Diabetes," last evening before the members of the Harrisburg Academy of Medicine building, 319 North Second street. In his talk, Dr. McCrae said that the best cure for diabetes in most cases was a sugar free diet and plenty of rest, with nothing consisting almost entirely of green vegetables.

TALKS ON TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Frank F. D. Reckord, Deputy Medical Inspector, Dispensaries, State Department of Health, addressed the staff of the Harrisburg Tuberculosis Dispensary and Visiting Physicians this afternoon, on tuberculosis.

THIRD CLASS CITY TAXER GOES ALONG

Walton Measure Now Up to the Senate For Action; House Bumps Two Senate Bills

The bill making real estate of railroads, railroads and other public utilities subject to taxation for city, school and local purposes in third class cities was passed finally by the House yesterday and went to the Senate. The House spent last evening working on the third reading calendar and defeated the bill to increase pay of assessors on registration duty from $2.50 to $5 per day. The bill to tax automobiles in second class cities was postponed indefinitely after an amusing debate.

These bills passed finally:

Establishing bounties for noxious animals.

Providing for burial of indigent widows of veterans.

Regulating appeals from acts of borough controllers.

Appropriating $200,000 as State aid for agricultural exhibition.

Authorizing Charles H. Sorke, Harrisburg, to sue the State.

Appropriating $140,000 to reimburse counties for bounties paid for noxious animals.

Senate bill giving State first chance to purchase lands offered at commissioner's sale.

Providing for a new railroad map of Pennsylvania.

Providing that 5 per cent. of receipts from liquor licenses shall be appropriated to police pension funds in first and second class cities.

Two Senate bills were defeated, one regulating sale of chicory mixed with coffee and the other relative to costs in non pro proceedings.

Committee Will Discuss Inglebrook Camp Plans

Preliminary to making plans for the annual camp of the State Young Men's Christian Association held at Inglebrook, the boys' work committee will make an inspection to-morrow. On the committees are W. B. Winstetter, of Norristown; Ralph W. Harbison, of Pittsburgh; Dwight R. Meis, of Pottstown; James Shand, Lancaster; Vance C. McCormick, of this city; W. H. Ridway, Coatesville; J. B. Carruthers, State secretary.

According to present arrangements the camp will open June 25. Provisions will be made for accommodating 200 boys. It will be under the supervision of Albert M. Chesley.

Prior to leaving for Inglebrook, the committee will hold an official meeting in the Calvary building to discuss necessary improvements. A dining pavilion will be erected, a swimming pool placed and the buildings painted. Later money will be collected to buy a Victrola for the camp. Boys from York, Lancaster, Spring Grove, Reading, Pottsville, Scranton, Sunbury, Milton and Carlisle have already signified their intention of enrolling.

Charities Board Is Asked to Inquire

A resolution which declares municipal and county institutions for the insane in Pennsylvania, fall to provide proper care and medical treatment, and denounces their equipment as being "generally" inadequate, unsafe and unsanitary, was introduced in the House last night by Mr. Dunn, Philadelphia. It requires the State Board of Charities to study and report to the next session of the Legislature a plan whereby the State can take over and support all its dependent insane.

The policy expressed in the resolution is recommended by the State Commission on Dependents, created in 1913, which has recently published its report, and also has the support of prominent members of the State Board of Charities, to whom the duty of working out the plan is entrusted. The Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania, of which Dr. Charles H. Frazier, of Philadelphia, is president, is said to be responsible for the introduction of the resolution.

In Five Minutes! No Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sourness, Gases, Heartburn or Stomach Misery—Stops Acidity and Food Fermentation—A Pleasant, Quick, Sure Stomach Relief.

EAT THEM LIKE CANDY

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you must not injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unflinching action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home

—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store, and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach, all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.
