"and the State has been just as hard hit as have the industries. The case is one of common interest and all should endeavor to solve the problem. I assure you I have spent many hours in consultation with department heads trying to find ways and means of increasing the State's revenue without resorting to further taxation.

Retrenchment Necessary
"The Commonwealth should be run like a well-regulated household. Every home endeavors to live within its resources and the State must do likewise. The pockets of the treasury are not bulging and therefore our roads, schools and charitable organizations will have to suffer, the stress of economical conditions necessitating retrenchments all along the line. We all look for a better day when conditions will resume their normal aspect."

HOUSE BILLS THIS SESSION TOTAL 1,247

House last night after the adjournment for the day was sent in by Mr. McVicar, Allegheny, and provides for a tax of 1 mill on the dollar of actual value of capital invested in manufacturing and laundering. The revenue derived is to be devoted to highway improvement and the act is to become effective on January 1, 1916. Capital invested in manufacturing and laundering is now exempt from State taxation and the bill makes it the duty of the Auditor General to assess and collect the tax as other taxes are collected.

The other bill came from Mr. Sones.

3-Piece Suit Like Illustration, $48.60

A Parlor Sofa and Full Size Bed All in One Piece of Furniture

A three-piece suit consisting of a large roomy chair and rocker; luxuriously, comfortable, and finished in fumed oak or quartered oak, polish finish; and a handsome davenport which serves every purpose of a bed and a sofa or davenport. Occupies only half the space and costs only half as much as both. The bed is full size when open, 72 inches by 47 inches. It is simple, mechanically perfect, easily changed from davenport to bed or from bed to davenport. Plenty of room for bedding within davenport when it is closed. Sanitary construction. You do not sleep on the upholstering but on a soft mattress, which is easily removed for airing. Buy this three-piece suit and you can move into a smaller apartment or get along with one less room.
