FAIL TO CONDEMN JITNEY BUS AS MENACE TO TRAFFIC

By Associated Press
 New York, April 9.—City officials from the South and Middle West who came here to persuade the Safety First Federation to condemn the new jitney bus as a menace to traffic returned home to-day without accomplishing their purpose. After hearing their arguments yesterday the federation's executive committee unanimously voted that this method of transportation has not been in operation long enough to warrant the making of rules to control it. It was held that each community should work out the problems for itself.

U. S. SUBMARINE F-4 LEAKY, EDE WROTE

Commander, in Letter to Brother, Said Undersea Craft Was Defective

By Associated Press
 Los Angeles, Cal., April 9.—"I expect the whole thing to go up in smoke any time," said Lieutenant Alfred Ede, of the United States submarine F-4 in a letter written to his brother here with reference to his vessel just two days before it was lost in deep water of Honolulu harbor. The brother, Allison Ede, a city employe, to-day gave out a portion of the letter, which he received only a day or so ago.

Lieutenant Ede, his brother stated, wrote that the vessel was leaky and otherwise in poor condition.

RECEIVERS FOR BIG DEPARTMENT STORE

six per cent. bonds. Under the provisions of the bond issue, $150,000 worth of the bonds were to be retired annually. The Central Trust company of New York is trustee.

Two corporate changes have been made since the incorporation of the original firm, Greenhut and Company, October 18, 1910. The first occurred when Greenhut and Company became consolidated with the Siegel-Cooper Company under the name of the Greenhut-Siegel-Cooper Company. In May of last year the firm name was changed to the J. B. Greenhut Company. J. B. Greenhut is president of the firm.

The department stores conducted by the company, long known as the Siegel-Cooper stores, occupies both blocks on Sixth avenue between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

Liabilities $3,513,060

Assets of the store are listed in the complaint at $7,455,418, including merchandise, cash and accounts receivable. The liabilities, it is stated, aggregate $3,513,060, not including the mortgage liabilities amounting to approximately $2,950,000.

J. B. Greenhut, president of the firm, is treasurer of the Monmouth Securities Company, upon whose application the receivers were appointed. The suit is based upon indebtedness of approximately $200,000 alleged to be due the securities company and representing money loaned the Greenhut company.

In connection with its department stores, the J. B. Greenhut Company conducted a private bank for the convenience of its customers. In December last, however, the firm gave notice that it intended to withdraw from the banking business and that no interest on deposits would be paid after January 1, 1915. The date fixed by the firm for its withdrawal from the banking business was March 1. This gave the depositors two months' notice and it is believed that all availed themselves of it to withdraw their savings.

Say Liabilities Are Higher
 A few moments after the appointment of the receivers, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company by three creditors with claims aggregating $3,000. In their petition these creditors alleged that the assets of the Greenhut Company, exclusive of real estate, do not exceed $5,000,000 and that its liabilities, mostly old debts, aggregate approximately $12,000,000.

Benjamin G. Paskus, of counsel for the J. B. Greenhut Company, asserted that the liabilities were about $3,500,000 and assets about $7,000,000. Of the latter, he said, there were about $4,000,000 in quick assets so called and $3,000,000 in fixtures and stable equipment.

There are two mortgages on real estate owned by the firm, according to the petition. One of the mortgages is for $1,200,000, and the other for $1,750,000. These mortgages, Mr. Paskus said, are offset by bonds, some of which are held in Europe. Current liabilities, Mr. Paskus asserted, would be offset by the merchandise and outstanding accounts.

Without question the business will be reorganized, Mr. Paskus asserted. Officers of the J. B. Greenhut Company are Joseph B. Greenhut, president; Charles A. Cooper, vice president; Benedict J. Greenhut, treasurer, and Nelson W. Greenhut, secretary, all of whom are directors. The additional directors are Jerome Siegel, Benjamin Hillman, Nathaniel Menken, Eli Wolfner and Jacob G. Cohen.

Adverse business conditions during the past year and inability of the firm to meet immediately pressing obligations were assigned as reasons for seeking a receivership. The suit was brought by the Monmouth Securities Company, in which J. B. Greenhut was an officer, and was based upon a claim for about $200,000 loaned the Greenhut firm.

STEAMER THESEUS ESCAPES

By Associated Press
 Liverpool, April 9, 4:25 A. M.—The captain of the Blue Funnel line steamer Theseus, which left Liverpool March 27 for Pava, has sent back a report of an exciting chase by a German submarine. The Theseus managed to make her escape, but she was subjected to and damaged by shell fire from the submarine.

SAFFORD INDICTED

By Associated Press
 New York, April 9.—Frank D. Safford, who was indicted by the federal grand jury for perjury alleged to have been committed as a witness in the Rae Tanzer mail fraud proceeding, was arraigned to-day and entered a tentative plea of not guilty. Safford's bail was reduced from $12,000 to $10,000, but in default of surety he was remanded to the Tombs.

Morgans Get $3,000,000 For Making Combination

By Associated Press
 Washington, D. C., April 9.—Closing arguments were made in the Supreme Court to-day in the International Harvester dissolution suit.

Solicitor General Davis, for the Government, insisted that attorneys for the company had misrepresented the amount of new capital acquired by the organization of the combination in 1905. He declared, not more than $10,500,000 new capital was acquired from strangers to the trade, and that that was furnished by J. P. Morgan & Co., who got $3,000,000 for making the combination.

PRINZ EITEL READY TO BE INTERNED UNTIL END OF WAR

By Associated Press
 Newport News, Va., April 9.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich was ready to go to the Norfolk navy yard to-day to be interned. Her departure, however, was being delayed while a funeral with full military naval honors was held here for one of the Prinz Eitel's sailors, who died three days ago. Permission to remain here until after the funeral had been granted by Secretary Daniels at the request of Captain Thierichens, of the Prinz Eitel.

DOUBT AS TO UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN ITALY AND AUSTRIA

By Associated Press
 Rome, April 8, 10:50 P. M., via Paris, April 9, 4:30 A. M.—The questions whether an understanding between Italy and Austria still is possible and whether a separate Austro-Russian peace treaty is probable are discussed from different points of view by the press of the capital. The papers agree that the two questions are closely related, since, if Russia, with the permission of her allies, obtains what she desires and comes to terms with Vienna, it is impossible to imagine that Austria would be willing to make territorial concessions to Italy.

WILLIAM H. ROBINSON DEAD

William H. Robinson, aged 70 years, a veteran carpenter and contractor, died last evening at his home, 1716 North Fourth street. Mr. Robinson had been ill for a short time. Death was due to a general breakdown. The survivors are a widow and the following children: Mrs. Jennie Painter, Mrs. Ella Souder, Mrs. Edna Snyder, Harry, Louis, Herbert and Raymond Robinson. The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Burial will be made in the East Harrisburg Cemetery. Mr. Robinson was a veteran of the Civil War, having served three years in Company F, Seventeenth Regiment, Pennsylvania Cavalry. He was a member of Post 53, Grand Army of the Republic.

John Price Jackson, State Commissioner of Labor and Industry, will address the Aliens Association to-night at the semi-monthly meeting in St. Ann's parish house, Nineteenth and Market streets. Mr. Jackson has been asked to tell incidents of his experience in Europe last summer at the outbreak of the war.

Commander of Fleet Now Taking Dardanelles

ADMIRAL S. H. CARDEN

Admiral S. H. Carden, British commander of the fleet which has been off the Dardanelles since the war began, has suddenly come into fame by his successful bombardment of the forts of the Dardanelles. He was placed in command of the allied fleets because he was the senior officer there. Just as soon as the great new superdreadnaught of the British navy, the Queen Elizabeth, reached the scene with her fifteen-inch guns, which shoot more than twelve miles, the attempt to take the Dardanelles was begun in earnest.

The great vessel was sent against the forts at the mouth and after an attack of three days five of them were silenced. Trailing along with the Queen Elizabeth, the remainder of the British and French fleet went on up the straits. Fort after fort, whose guns fell short of the range of those of the Queen Elizabeth, was smashed by her new weapons.

Now the work of taking all the forts in the straits clear to the Bosphorus and Constantinople is a mere matter of hard work, British naval experts say. In less than three weeks, according to their prediction, Constantinople will have fallen. Of course, Admiral Carden will get the major part of the credit for doing what would have been impossible without immense modern guns.

Local Men Lose Money Through Failure of Big Brokerage Firm in N. J.

Local investors, it is understood, will sustain losses through the failure yesterday of Hipple and Company, brokers of Wilmington, Del. Harry W. Snively is the Harrisburg correspondent with offices in Arcade building. Aside from the fact that he had received word last evening that the company had quit and that a meeting of the officers and correspondents would be held Monday in Philadelphia to discuss what future steps should be taken, Mr. Snively said he was without knowledge of any details of the failure. He said he could not say definitely to what extent local investors were losers although he said that Harrisburg will likely suffer to some extent. Mr. Snively said he had another wire in his office that was working but it is kept upon only for the purpose of receiving quotations, and he is doing no business for Hipple and Company. The Wilmington firm has agencies with correspondents at Chambersburg and Carlisle and in Philadelphia, Mr. Snively said.
