CRUSADE AGAINST 'WHISKY RUNNERS'

Five Shippensburg Men Held For Court and Other Arrests Are Pending

Carlisle, Pa., April 9.—With five men, alleged to be leaders in the traffic in jail here for court under $500 bail each and a dozen arrests pending, the crusade against the Shippensburg 'whisky runners' recently inaugurated is meeting with much success and with the presentation of complete evidence at the session of criminal court here in May it is expected that importations of liquor into the dry section of the upper part of the county will be practically eliminated. The men in jail are John Harr and 'Dan' Blair, white men, and Richard Shearer and Garfield Lane, colored. Against them are various charges of selling liquor without a license and furnishing to minors. John Frohm, 19 years old, who was called as a witness in a hearing held here yesterday, implicated himself in his testimony and was jailed pending a hearing. A number of other arrests will be made, according to Detective Bentley, of this place. Agitation following the Johnson evangelistic meetings is said to have caused the investigation that ended in arrests.

MRS. BEIDEL TELLS WOMEN

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health for 14 Years.

Shippensburg, Pa.—"It was several years ago that I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I then suffered terribly every month. My husband bought me a bottle of it and it helped me right away. Then after my second child was born I had a female trouble very badly and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and in a short time was cured and have been in excellent health since. I always praise the Compound whenever I have an opportunity as I know it helped me and will help others. Lately I have given the Compound to my daughter and I wish all suffering women would take it and be convinced of its worth."—Mrs. JAMES A. BEIDEL, 113 N. Penn Street, Shippensburg, Pa.

EARL BANEY Carrier No. 36

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Hensel Memorial Tablet to Be Unveiled at Lancaster

Special to The Telegraph. Lancaster, Pa., April 9.—This evening the W. U. Hensel tablet to commemorate the presence at Lancaster of such notables as Lincoln, Buchanan, Greeley and Roosevelt will be unveiled at the Hotel Brunswick under the direction of the Lancaster County Historical Society. The tablet is the gift of the late W. U. Hensel, who had made all arrangements for the unveiling previous to starting on his trip to Florida, and with some modifications the program which he had arranged will be carried out. The exercises will begin at 8 o'clock, the first feature being the unveiling of the tablet. After this the assemblage will proceed to the ballroom of the hotel, where the formal exercises will take place. In the center, one of the vice-presidents of the society, will preside and the presentation of the tablet will be made by H. Frank Eshleman. Paul Heine, owner of the Brunswick, will deliver the address of acceptance. The history of the old North American Hotel and the Cadwell House, which had been prepared by Mr. Hensel, and was the last historical paper which he wrote, will be read by Bernard J. Myers. There will be other features on the program which will make it a notable event. In addition to the inscription on the tablet there has been added "The gift of Hon. W. U. Hensel and Unveiled April 9 by the Lancaster County Historical Society."

Business Improvement in All Sections of Country, McAdoo's Report Shows

Special to The Telegraph. Washington, April 9.—"Permanent improvement in business conditions is reported by more than 90 per cent. of the 80 national bank examiners," says a statement issued to-day by Secretary McAdoo. "The reports cover the entire United States and, according to the Treasury officials, reflect an upward trend in business and constant improvement." The statement continues: "Pronounced hopefulness is prevalent in nearly every district. Agricultural conditions are generally excellent, and commercial lines, with comparatively few exceptions, are enlarging their activities, mainly through an increased demand for foreign goods and constant preparation for activities expected to develop with the coming of good weather. Manufacturing is on the increase, and those industries having orders for supplies from foreign countries continue especially active. Further offers have been placed for cars and rails by railroads and some large contracts have been made for large buildings in different parts of the country. Although business has passed through a depression, caused by unusual conditions abroad, in many ways the result will be a permanent benefit. Business throughout the country has been stabilized through the application of economy. This economy has been applied by the manufacturer, merchant, farmer and individual. The result has been the placing of all lines upon a more stable working basis."

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoo contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified coconut oil (it must be mulsified) at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
