CHINESE EDITOR TO BE GUEST OF HONOR

Muzzle Club Has Extended Invitation to Hon. Ching Fu Ki, Widely Known Educator

HON. CHING FU KI. An invitation has been extended to the Hon. Ching Fu Ki, dean of the department of journalism of the University of Shanghai, China, to be the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Muzzle club, composed of the newspaper writers of Harrisburg, which will be held in the Harrisburg club to-morrow evening.

Word was received to-day from Dean Ki that if possible he will stop in Harrisburg a few hours on Saturday evening to attend the dinner. He is now on his way from San Francisco, where he has just arrived from Shanghai, to the Chinese Embassy, in Washington, where he will be a guest during a brief stay in America. This is his first visit to America where he proposes to study the journalistic methods of this country. He has not yet mastered the English language but has promised, through his American-speaking secretary, to address the Muzzle club in the Chinese language and to answer questions about newspaper work in China through an interpreter if he can in any way find it possible to stop over between trains in this city.

John P. Guyer, clerk of the Board of Poor Directors, and a former newspaperman who was correspondent of the New York World in China during the Boxer rebellion, is a friend of Dean Ki, having met him in Shanghai on a number of occasions, and Mr. Guyer has consented to act as interpreter at the dinner if Dean Ki can make his plans to be a guest of the club on that occasion. The Muzzle club feels that it has been exceedingly fortunate in having obtained Dean Ki's tentative acceptance of the invitation to attend the dinner, as it will be the occasion of his first public appearance in this country.

Others who have been invited as guests of honor of the Muzzle club are Judge George Kunkle, Judge S. M. J. McCarroll, Samuel B. Hambro, Superintendent of Public Goods and Buildings, William B. McCaleb, Superintendent of the Philadelphia Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and several others prominent in the public life of the city or State.

MADAME POWELL CAPTIVATES AUDIENCE

Evan Williams, Too, Pleases; Proves Himself Master of Interpretation

There has been much written from time to time about Harrisburg's being a strictly non-musical city. In the face of these statements there is no mean amount of credit to those individuals who will furnish a concert such as was enjoyed at the Chestnut Street Auditorium last night. Before a large audience there appeared Madam Powell, quite appropriately called the reigning queen of violinists, and Evan Williams, the noted Welsh concert tenor. The joint program was well arranged and varied in a manner calculated to thoroughly please and entertain lovers of both voice and violin. Madam Powell captivated her audience with a charm of grace as well as with her playing. And of her repertoire she gave liberally. If a climax she reached, the audience was unanimously agreed that the two unaccompanied numbers filled that place. The splendid grandeur of Fiorillo's Prelude in C Minor, exquisitely played by Madam Powell, was no less well received than Bach's Prelude in E Major. The Caprice Viennois by Kreisler and the Musette by Sibelius-Powell might have formed the "popular" numbers of her program, for both of these numbers have been given to the world through the means of victrola records. The Spanish Dance No. 8 by Sarasate was vivaciously interpreted by Madam Powell and received enthusiastically by the audience. The Hejre Kati by Hubay, a number which has received little attention from the prominent violinists, concluded Madam Powell's numbers.

Evan Williams was apparently at a disadvantage, for in several instances his voice showed the simplest social of a cold. Nevertheless, he pleased the audience in a manner which demanded

THE WAY OUT

Change of Food Brought Success and Happiness

An ambitious but delicate girl, after failing to go through school on account of nervousness and hysteria, found in Grape-Nuts the only thing that seemed to build her up and furnish her the peace of health.

"From infancy," she says, "I have not been strong. Being ambitious to learn at any cost, I finally got to the High School, but soon had to abandon my studies on account of nervous prostration and hysteria. "My food did not agree with me, and I grew thin and despondent. I could not enjoy the simplest social affair, for I suffered constantly from nervousness in spite of all sorts of medicines. "This wretched condition continued until I became interested in the letters of those who had cases like mine and who were being helped by eating Grape-Nuts. "I had little faith, but procured a pkg. and after the first trial I experienced a peculiar satisfied feeling that I had never gained from any ordinary food. I slept and rested better that night and in a few days began to grow stronger. "I had a new feeling of peace and restfulness. In a few weeks, to my great joy, the headaches and nervousness left me and life became bright and hopeful. I resumed my studies and later taught ten months with ease—using Grape-Nuts every day. I am now the mistress of a happy home, and the old weakness has never returned." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pags. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.—Advertisement.

MRS. MELTON'S LETTER

To Tired Worn-out Mothers. Jackson, Miss.—"I shall feel repaid for writing this letter if I can help any tired, worn-out mother or housekeeper to find health and strength as I have. "I have a family of five, sew, cook, and do my housework and I became very much run-down in health. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and now I am well and strong and my old time energy has been restored. Vinol has no superior as a tonic for worn-out, run-down, tired mothers or housekeepers.—Mrs. J. N. GOVERNOR APPOINTS MEMBERS OF STAFF

Within a few days general orders will be issued by General Stewart announcing the following encampments of the organizations of the National Guard:

Engineers, joint camp with regulars, Belvoir, Va., August 3 to 14.

Field hospitals, joint camp with regulars, Tobyhanna, July 15 to 24.

Artillery, joint camp with regulars, Tobyhanna, Batteries B, C and D, August 8 to 17; Battery A, August 18 to 27.

It is probable that the First Regiment of Cavalry will encamp with regulars at Mount Gretna, July 24 to 31, but this arrangement is tentative.

Preliminary arrangements are being made for brigade encampments, but they will largely depend upon satisfactory transportation rates being given by the railroads, and it was understood to-day at the Capitol that the contemplated increase of transportation rates might require encampments of infantry near home.

The general tentative plan is to have the Second Brigade, signal corps and Fourteenth Infantry encamp at a place to be selected in August. This will be a brigade encampment. The tentative plan for the First, Third and Fourth Brigades is for brigade encampments at Mount Gretna, July 10 to 17.

Appointments are less. It was also announced at National Guard headquarters that Brigadier-General C. M. Clement, Sunbury, commander of the Third Brigade, and William G. Price, Jr., Philadelphia, commander of the First Brigade, had been reappointed. They were assigned to the same commands.

Governor Brumbaugh's staff appointments number three less than those of Governor Tener. The aids of the Governor Tener staff not reappointed in the list to-day are James W. Fuller, Jr., Catawissa; Walter F. Bradley, Philadelphia; Andrew E. Berge, Elmhorburgh; C. C. Pratt, New Milford; Samuel D. Foster, Pittsburgh; William H. Kaul, St. Marys; Frank Connell, Erie, and Lewis E. Gettler, Philadelphia.

To Have Pretty Hair

If your hair is not as soft, and pretty, or as fresh and full as that of some friend, do as follows: give it daily attention, just the same care as you would give a plant to make it healthy and beautiful. Luxuriant hair—soft, fluffy, thick and lustrous—is really a matter of care. If it is too thin, stimulate the hair roots and bring out the new hairs. If it is too dry and brittle, soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it's because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp and the dandruff disappears.

An inexpensive tonic, called Parisian Sage, which you can get from any drug counter, or from H. C. Kennedy, is just what you need—it softens the scalp, nourishes and invigorates the hair roots, immediately removes all dandruff and makes the hair fluffy, lustrous and abundant. One application will stop itching head and cleanse the hair of dust and excess oil. Parisian Sage takes away the dryness and brittleness, makes the hair seem twice as abundant and beautifies it until it is soft and lustrous.

By the use of this helpful tonic any woman can easily make her hair beautiful; and pretty hair surely increases charm and beauty.—Advertisement.
