BOILER CODE MAY BE APPROVED SOON

It Will Be Submitted to the State Industrial Board for Action During Next Month

NEW MILITIA ORDERS

They Will Be Issued Within a Short Time; Unusual Offense in Requisition Case

The proposed code for construction operation and inspection of steam boilers in Pennsylvania will be presented to the State Industrial Board for action on May 7, the preliminary drafts having been received by John Price Jackson, State Commissioner of Labor and Industry. The code was drafted by committees representing the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in conjunction with officials from various States, Pennsylvania having been represented by Richard Pennock. The code was drafted after three years of study of the subject by experts from all parts of the country. The State authorities are expected to adopt a code for boilers, pending the completion of the work of the society's committee, and it is probable that it will be accepted for this State. The board has adopted the code of scores of codes governing safety and sanitation in industries and a dozen committees are working on codes for their respective lines.

Pardon Board.—Twenty-four new cases and five continued cases are listed for the meeting of the State Board of Pardons on April 21. No capital cases are on the list, the first being the first time in months that such applications have not been entered.

Wanted State Flag.—Among the requests made to Governor Brumbaugh this week was one from Columbus, Ga., for a State flag, to be used in a celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle at that place. The Governor refused, stating that the State had no flag to loan for such uses. The Columbus people desire to obtain the names of all people living in Columbus who live elsewhere, so that they can return for the celebration.

Orders For Militia.—General orders will shortly be issued from National Guard headquarters announcing the arrangements for the summer cruises of the State naval militia. The matter is being taken up with the arrangements for the encampments of the organizations of the Guard are now in negotiation with the railroads and the place for the Second Brigade encampment will be announced later.

Commissioners for Brigades.—Commodore C. M. Clement, W. G. Price, Jr., and C. T. O'Neill and the lieutenant colonels of the Governor's staff are being prepared and will be called in a few days to be expected that at least two additional appointments of aids will be made.

The departmental officers of the National Guard are not expected to be appointed for varying terms and their commissions do not expire with the Governor.

Charged.—The first requisition to be issued by the State for return to Pennsylvania of men accused of removing railroad appliances from cars has just been issued to Albany for the work of Armstrong county two men charged with that offense under a re-nat law. The act prescribes heavy fines or imprisonment.

Taken for Rest.—Governor Brumbaugh is taking a rest to-day. The Governor spent the day at the mansion and will stay here to-morrow. He is his plan to attend services at his domestic church to-day.

Last Week.—Next week is the last week for the orchard demonstrations. The attendance has been greater than ever known.

High Schools Held.—One hundred students of the high school of Lancaster, N. Y., went through the Capitol to-day. Bradford city students went through yesterday and to-morrow. Franklin High School will be here.

Investigation Lively.—Reports reaching here from the legislative investigation of charities in Pittsburgh indicate that the inquiry is being made. The effort to have counsel admitted to back up charges was refused. The fight will likely be transferred to the floor of the Legislature.

Men to Work.—It is expected that by the end of next week over 6,000 men will be at work on repairs to the highways of the State system. Chief Engineer Uhler has made arrangements for pressing work in every district.

NO RAT HIDE BOUNTY CLAIMS FOR DAUPHIN

Weasel Skins and Goshawk Heads, Just That and Nothing More, Declares Pres. Hoffman

Dauphin county hasn't paid out any bounty money for chicken instead of goshawk heads or rat hides instead of weasel skins as has been charged against some counties of the State by Game Commissioner Joseph J. Hoffman, according to President Isaac S. Hoffman, of the board of commissioners.

"Of course," said Mr. Hoffman, in discussing the question, "what we do is to accept the affidavit of the justice of the peace before whom the claimant presents the bird or beast for which he wants the bounty, and if the affidavit is in proper form we pay the money. We've no way of going beyond the justices."

"However, I think it can be safely said that no such system of graft as has been charged against some counties by Dr. Kalfbus is true of Dauphin," went on the president of the board, "because we've had no unusually large number of claims from any particular section. Probably the most we've paid out thus far has been $24, I believe, and this sum was for bounties on foxes. Thus far we've been confronted with nothing to arouse our suspicions."

Release Liquor Furnishers.—Upon petition of Attorney W. L. Loesser, Hattie Tryman and Nelson Greybill, who had been imprisoned in the Dauphin county jail March 16 for illegally selling liquor, were released from custody. The pair were fined $50 apiece and sentenced to serve twenty days. Neither is in shape financially to pay the fines and costs, their petitions set forth. The Tryman woman's health is such as to make confinement within prison walls a hardship. Greybill argues that he is without any funds or property other than "necessary wearing apparel."

Ready Transactions.—Ready transactions yesterday recorded include the following transfers: J. W. Pomranitz to Albert M. Bell, 1520 Swatara, $1; E. N. Lebo to Alfred E. Workman, 1922 Swatara, $2,500; A. E. Brough to Robert R. Featen, 1922 Bellevue, $10; Investment Realty Company to Annie Kirby, 1160 Green, $1; Annie Kirby to Charles A. Kirby, 1160 Green, $1; W. S. Sheaffer to D. H. Arnold, 16 Hoerner, $1; C. Hoffner to Maxine E. Grove, Elizabethville, $1,650; Sadie A. Porter, et al. to C. Cassel, East Hanover, $1,527; James F. Youtz to John C. Youtz, Hummelstown, $1,350.

SUFFRAGE WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN ON THE GO

Speechmaking and Distribution of "V. For W." Literature Starts in This City

With election time seven months away the Pennsylvania suffragists have already started their campaign for "votes for women."

Harrisburg was destined to be the birthplace of the speech-making campaign, and last night automobiles, decked with great waving plumes of yellow, the official suffrage color, whizzed around the Capital City and at various points stopped long enough to allow the suffrage orators to pour spirited pleadings into the receptive ears of large crowds, principally composed of voters.

While the orators advanced argument after argument in favor of victory for the "cause," women went among the voters and distributed circulars containing further arguments for the cause.

One automobile stopped in front of the Dauphin county courthouse and before long a large crowd gathered. Miss Anna McCue, of Philadelphia, who is organizer for the Equal Franchise League, was one of the speakers.

In some instances the parties have married and have laid themselves open, not only to troubles like the above, but to charges of bigamy, attorneys say.
