Their Married Life"

Helen turned over sleepily and wondered if it weren't nearly morning. Then she opened her eyes and in a few minutes was wide awake, and was reviewing in her mind all the things that had happened since Warren had salled her up vesterday. How she had finished everything and had managed to leave in time was more than she understood. There had been a hundred little things to think of the last moment, and Nora had cried. She had not realized just how much the girl cared for her.

Winted up is the upper booth was the said as he was a single state of the said as he w

Winifred up in the upper berth was sleeping quietly, and Helen thought with a little thrill of remembrance how darling she had looked in her new little black velvet outfit and how she had enjoyed everything. It was a treat to be able to bring her, thought Helen, and they were really off for Panama; it hardly seemed possible.

to be able to bring her, thought Helen, and they were really off for Panama; it hardly seemed possible.

At the last moment there had been some trouble about the stateroom and they had changed into a large one. It seemed as though everything was happening to make the trip pleasant. Louise and Bob had surprised Helen and Warren with a handsome traveling case fitted up with silver inside, just what they needed. Over the couch where Helen was lying was a sheaf of roses. Helen sat up to pull them out and the whole thing came down, the laughed a little as she picked them up and reached up to throw them through the window into the ocean, and, as she did, the ship gave a lurch and she almost fell on the floor. It seemed to be unusually rough, she thought to herself as she lay back on the pillows and tried to decide what to do. The boat pitched and tossed, and, as the light began to come in through the windows, she saw it was misting a little.

Helen had a habit of waking early every time she happened to be in a strange place and of thinking things over and deciding what she would wear. She would dress Winifred in her little blue serge dress and her warm coat. Perhaps she would take her for a walk around the deck before breakfast unless it was too rough. The ship gave another pitch at that goment, and Warren's shoes clattered on the floor. The next moment the rising bell rang, and Warren sat up and looked at his watch.

"What time is it?" asked Helen.

"Are you awake? I put in a tough alight, hardly slept any." I haven't slept very well either, but I feel fine. Do you want to get up now or wait till I get up first and wait for you on deck. What's it doing, raining?"

"Guess I'll get up first and wait for you on deck. What's it doing, raining?"

WITH THE FAVORITE MIDDY BLOUSE.

Testifies She Was Restored Made from Wool and from Cotton A Smart Little Freck that can be Stuffs.

By MAY MANTON

8580 Girl's Dress, 4 to 8 years.

Here is a pretty, smart little frock that can be made available both for such materials as serge, linen and piqué, and for the thinner ginghams and chambrays and fabrics of that sort, for the skirt can be plaited for the one, and gathered for the other. Whatever the material, it is an essentially practical dress and thoroughly confortable to wear, allowing perfect freedom of movement, and it is most attractive in its lines. In the picture, serge is trimmed with silk collar and cuffs, but much the same effect could be obtained by using cotton gabardine with linen. There is a body lining to which the skirt is attached, and this lining is faced to form a shield. The sleeves can be made longer or shorter.

For the 6 year size will be required 3½ yds. of material 27 in. wide, 2½ yds. 36, 2¼ yds. 44, with ½ yd. 36 for the body lining, and ¾ yd. 27, for collar and cuffs. The pattern No. 8580 is cut in sizes from 4 to 8 years. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

WHERE TO FIND NATIONALLY

ADVERTISED

The World's Best Merchandise

In and Near

HARRISBURG, PA.

Merchandise that will bear national advertising has to have exceptional merit. else the manufacturer could not afford to spend large sums of money for the advertising, and to attach his name and reputation to an article that was not extraordinarily meritorious, for it is the repeat sales that he depends on. It is therefore quite evident that when an article is nationally advertised and nationally sold, year in and year out, year after year, it is exceptionally good goods to stand the test and prove worthy of continued sales and growth. It is conceded by experts that when an article is advertised generally-nationally-it is the best possible product. The wise always, in consequence, prefer actionally known goods and ask for what they want by name. Read the magazines and keep posted on nationally advertised goods.

The famous English magician, Ser-rais LeRoy, of LeRoy, Talma and Bosco, the tripple alliance of conjurers, tre sch-duled to appear at the Majes-ic to-day and to-morrow, with daily natinees.

Just the kind of a high-class "girlie" musical comedy that always finds favor with Harrisburg audiences, is the one-act production known as "The Haberdashery Girls," that moves into the Colonial for the first half of the week. The act was slated to appear at the Ornheum, which is a pretty good guarantee. Pretty costumes and attractive scenery, help to make it a very pleasing "sight act." The other clever turns of the same bill will include Benham and Karr, in a jolly mixture of fun and song: Ray Fern, the dainty singing comedienne, and Bauers and Saunders, the clever singing comedians. New moving picture features will also be a part of the performance.—Advertisement.

"RUNAWAY JINE" AT THE VICTOHIA"

The eleventh episode of the new sorial in motion pictures will be shown at the Victoria to-day. This new work by George Randolph Chester, writer of hundreds of interesting fiction stories, is "Runaway June," a story of a girl who married the man she loved, but who left him two hours after she married him. He had given her some money, but the intervention of a man, who wore a black Vandyke, caused her to leave him without ceremony. This man with the Vandyke theaters, being too much of an expensive proposition for the ordinary moving picture houses to take care of Messrs. Marlotte and McBride, two players of marked ability, furnsh high-class music at every performance. To enth episode of the great serial.—Advertisement.

PHOTOPLAY TODAY "The Enemies," a three-reel di Fradway-Star feature prod-featuring Harry Morey, Edith at the Electropic Production of the Captain Waverlie, plays a ramatic character. A demonical for the man who is responsible sister's death, makes Captain W the incarnation of evenes. mony. This man with the Vandyke sawe something in "June" that he liked and consequently followed her, making her life miserable. Just what happened and all of the mystery is made clear in the pictures of this story.

Norma Phillips, well remembered for her work in the "Mutual Girl." was chosen to fill the role of "June." Arrhur Donaldson fills the role of the man with the black Vandyke.

"Runaway June" will be shown at the Victoria to-day, this offering being the eleventh instalment.—Advertisement.
