REACTIONARY TREND

Trading Was Again Extensive, However, U. S. Steel, Reading and Several Others Leading

New York, April 12. — Resumption of stock dealings to-day was in marked contrast to last week's frenzied movement. Instead of further advances, the list evinced a reactionary trend, with numberless tosses of a point process. Trading was a gain extensive, however. Trading was again extensive, however. Trading was again extensive, however. Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Reading were among the heaviest issues. In keeping with its recent action, Bethlehem Steel pursued a contrary course, lossing a point at the outset, and soon advancing three. Secondary prices showed general improvement.

Williamsport, Pa., April 12.—A, Grant Richwine, Charles S. Boll, J. H.
Deeter and Dale Schaeffer, all of Harrisburg, were made defendants Saturday afternoon in an action in which they are accused of defrauding the Jersey Shore Gas Company, its stockholders and creditors of $30,000. Information was sworn to, warrants were issued, taken to Harrisburg by a local constable and served on the four men. They gave bail and will have a hearing here next week. The charges grew out of an inter-company row grew out of an inter-company row and the defendants assert they will be able to explain their actions to the satisfaction of the court.

LEAP MAY MEAN DEATH Special to The Telegraph

Allentown. Pa., April 12.—Death will probably be the result of a fool-hardy feat performed yesterday by Ralph Devlin, aged 25, structural iron-worker. He remarked to companions, as they were crossing the Tilghman street bridge that the water in the river looked fine and he dared them to jump in. They didn't accept and turned the dare back at him. Thereupon he vaulted over the railing and dived into the stream forty feet below. The water was shallow and he is at the hospital in a hopeless condition with a broken back.
