Defect in Street Paving Charged by O'Briens as Cause For Action Against City

The city of Harrisburg defended itself in April Common Pleas Court of the charges brought by Lulu and W. H. O'Brien of failing ing to keep one of the streets in proper repair.

O'Brien of failing ing to keep one of the streets in proper repair.

The O'Brie n's didn't state in their state men't how much they want but it is sunderstood that they hope to obtain several thousand dollars. They live in Strawberry street and according to their allegations Mrs. O'Brien stepped into a hole in the asphalt in Court street that had not been properly repaired and fell, injuring herself so, scriously that she was unable to walk for eleven weeks. At the time it is said Mrs. O'Brien carried her baby in her arms. Should the city lose out it is believed in municipal circles that the repair contractor, Charles P. Walter, can be held responsible for the damages. The alderman contends, however, that he is not responsible and that the whole was properly repaired and had been inspected by the city officers. The accident occurred during the administration of Highway Commissioner E. E. Fritchey.

Queen's Fan Brings $1,650 For Red Cross

London, April 14.—The crowning incident of vesterday's Red Cross auction at Christic's was the sale and resale of a fan presented by Queen Mary. Production of the fan by the auctioneer was the signal for applause from the crowded room. This increased as the bidding rose rapidly from $50 to $950, at which figure it was knocked down. The purchaser at once offered it for further auction, expressing the hope it would fetch more than she had given for it.

The second bidding for the queen's gift began at $500 and amid enthusiasm unusual in an auction room it went up to $700, at which price the hammer fell.
