SURVEY OF HOUSING CONDITIONS STARTS

a mansion but is now a flimsy wooden tenement, without water or sanitary conveniences; the flats with dark rooms and no ventilation; congested rows of houses interfering with the circulation of pure air. The health of a community depends upon proper housing.

Committees Discuss Work Previous to the survey to-day Mr. Ihlder met with the local committees at the rooms of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce and outlined his plans. At this preliminary conference were John Mallory, Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, and the following committees: a Chamber of Commerce; William Jennings, William E. McCaleb, Vance C. McCormick and J. Horace McFarland.

Civic Club: Miss Eleanor Shunk, president; Mrs. William Henderson, Miss Mary Rely and Miss Martha Buehler. Associated Charities: Mrs. William Henderson and Miss Hazel Clark, secretary; Edward L. McColein, secretary for the committee; Miss Mary W. Miller, head nurse, Visiting Nurse Association; and Mrs. Elsie Y. Middleton, secretary Children's Aid Society, were also in attendance, and will assist in the survey. The entire day was occupied in trips to various parts of the city; Dr. J. M. J. Raunick announced that the outlying districts, including Sibletown and Lochiel were visited early.

Will Make Public Report At 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon Mr. Ihlder will make a report of his survey in Harrisburg to the county and city officials in room No. 2. A public report with a discussion of housing in general, illustrated with lantern slides will be delivered at 5 o'clock Friday evening at the Harrisburg Public Library, Front and Walnut streets. Tickets can be secured from E. L. McColein, 908 Kunkel building.

The general business meeting which will be held in the Public Library to-morrow night will be attended by representatives of civic organizations from York, Steelton, Reading, Allentown and Bethlehem.

DECIDE TO CONTINUE STEPS AT MARKET ST.

Four or five sections of steps from the present terminal point just below Market street bridge. The money for these steps has been provided. As soon as these sections are finished, work will begin the excavation for the alternate blocks which will carry the line across the wharf opening. If, in the meantime, the city is favored financially by the verdict of the arbitrators, then it will not be necessary to ask for any additional money for the extra flights of steps. If the city loses out then we'll have to ask Council for whatever money is needed. At any rate, we're going to go through with the steps. Since the people have had a chance to see just how the rest of the river front looks with the steps, I think there is really a popular demand for the closing of the gap at Market street so as to present an unbroken line and the elimination of the coal landing.

In the meantime, Stucker Brothers Construction Company is pushing ahead with the sidewalk along the wall above "Hard" street. The work is completed as far as Rely street and the alternate blocks have been put down beyond Harris.

Paving of Second St. Subway Is Under Way; Putting Down Sidewalk

Paving of the Second street subway at Mulberry street is under way. The concrete foundation work is nearing completion on the slopes and it is the intention of the contractors to push this work as rapidly as possible. In addition to the paving of the subway proper the railroad company will repair what portions of Second had to be torn up when the improvement work was begun. This means that new paving will likely be extended as far down as Vine street, while practically all of the stretch from Chestnut to Vine street between the trolley tracks will be renewed.

While the contractors are busy on the street, gangs of men are pushing in the western sidewalk and finishing the necessary excavations for the sidewalk on the east side. The foundations for the long concrete retaining wall that is to support the Mulberry street embankment have been finished.

TAFT ARRIVES FOR 15-HOUR STAY HERE

and Howard M. Holke, private secretary to Attorney General Brown. Mr. Holke was escorted when Mr. Taft when he was collector of internal revenue in Ohio. The party proceeded to the Harrisburg Academy where Mr. Taft informally addressed the students. Afterward he was taken along the River Front, through the parks, and then to the Capitol, where he spoke briefly before the Senate Chamber.

Dinner and Lecture to-night This evening at 6 o'clock, Governor Brumbaugh will entertain Mr. Taft with a dinner at the Executive Mansion, which will be attended by Dinner Beeber, Cyrus H. K. Curtis, John Gribble, Louis J. Kolb and William T. Tilden, all of Philadelphia, house guests of the Governor and Speaker Charles A. Ambler, Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong, of Pittsburgh; Senator E. E. Beidleman; Headmaster Arthur E. Brown, of the Harrisburg Academy; Attorney General Frank Shunk Brown; Chief Justice J. Hay Brown, of the Supreme Court; Senator Clarence J. Buchman, William E. Crow, Spencer C. Gilbert, M. C. Kennedy, of Chambersburg; Senator Charles H. Kline, Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain, Senator James P. McNichol, Lewis S. Sadler, of Carlisle; Senator William C. committee and later informed the members of that committee what he had done. It was stated by members of the committee that no action would be taken on the Governor's request until next week, if at all. It is probable the Governor will be asked what his intentions are with regard to appointing new members before the committee takes any action.

WILL SELL GARDEN PLOTS FOR 5 CENTS

Sixty-two Beds of Ground, Ready to Be Planted, Will Be Disposed of by the Civic Club

Workmen who were getting the Civic Club's garden school plots on Cottage Hill in shape for the youthful farmers have completed their work sooner than was expected. As a result the plots—sixty-two in number—will be sold to the children of Steelton to-morrow.

Mr. C. J. Vanier, chairman of the garden school committee, announced this afternoon that application for plots may be made at her residence in Cottage Hill to-morrow afternoon after 4 o'clock and on Saturday after 2 o'clock.

In recent years the Civic Club's garden school has become very popular among the borough's small boys and girls. Many families obtain their entire summer supply of vegetables from these "little farms" and the youthful gardeners are taught how to properly care for small truck patches. To insure a feeling of ownership, each child purchases his plot for 5 cents.
