MACK SWINGS AX; HITS LOCAL PLAYER

"Red" Crane, Popular Infielder, Goes to Richmond Team; Subject to Recall by Athletics

In the first swing of the ax by Connie Mack, yesterday, one Harrisburg player was hit. Sam (Red) Crane, the infielder, was farmed to Richmond of the International League. Crane's only weakness was in hitting. Last season Crane was a big star in Southern baseball, playing with Earl Mack's team. He has been picked as a corner, and Manager Connie Mack has a string on the boy. Crane was a star with the P. R. Y. M. C. A. team when home and was a winning factor with New Cumberland and other teams in this section. Others who were turned back by Mack last night are: Hank Bostick, infielder, to Newark Internationals; Pitcher Gardiner, to Newport News; Joe Sherman, outfielder and pitcher, Jersey City Internationals; Pitches Voltz, Hamilton and Reed, unconditionally. All that remains of the thirteen youngsters who tried for their varsity letters in the South are Pitchers Wilbur Davis and Harper and Sam McConnell, infielder, a Philadelphia boy, formerly with Girard College. Manager Mack may make a further cut in his squad about May 1, as he has announced intentions of carrying only 22 players this season, though the American-League limit is placed at 25.

Mrs. Wilson told McFarland that no such bulletin had been posted, and ordered him from the office. McFarland protested further, and Mrs. Wilson struck him across the face with a folded newspaper. Yielding to this power of the press, the pugilist backed out of the door.

COMMITTEE REPORT IS ADMITTED TO RECORD

The former president's third day on the witness stand. William Loeb, Jr., private secretary to Colonel Roosevelt when he was President, and later collector of the port of New York, was an early arrival at the courthouse to-day. Mr. Loeb is under subpoena and it was considered probable that he would be the next witness for the defense after the cross-examination of the Colonel was concluded. There was some delay in opening court to-day because of a conference between attorneys and Justice Andrews in the latter's chambers. A copy of the report of the Bayne committee, which investigated Albany county affairs, insofar as it related to printing, was admitted to the record. This had to do with contracts for State printing let to the Albany Journal, Mr. Bayne's paper, and other concerns, and the assignment of certain of these contracts.

Read Parts of Report

Portions of the report were then read. The first part had to do with gambling, disorderly houses, and the payment of money to various officials for doing various things. The report of the committee was made in 1911. The majority of the stock of the Journal company, the report pointed out was owned by William Barnes, that contracts let to the Journal company were farmed out to the Argus company, which paid the Journal company 15 per cent.

The report stated that William Barnes controlled printing in Albany, practically was owner of one company, owned one-fourth of another company and collected tribute from the third company. The report declared that an employee of the Argus company testified before the committee that the company gave up 15 per cent. in order to secure printing business. It was stated that the Argus company bid lower than other competitors for State work but was unable to get the business because it was "outside the ring." It was said further, that public documents supposed to have been printed by the Journal company, and bearing that concern's imprint, actually were printed by the Argus company. "Padding of public printing for the benefit of the Journal company," was described by the report.

These engines use our highways and are as much a subject of taxation as a horse or any other personal property."

Death List in Crash Will Likely Reach 12

By Associated Press. Birmingham, Ala., April 22.—Searchers continuing to-day their work among the ruins of the two retail stores here demolished late yesterday by a falling wall declared the death list would reach at least 12. Five bodies have been recovered and seven other persons believed to have been in the crowded building when the crash occurred were reported missing. More than a score were suffering from more or less serious injuries. The wall, five stories high, was weakened by a recent fire and toppled over during a wind storm. The two stores occupied by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company and the Ham Shoe company, were completely wrecked. Five of the injured are in a critical condition.

"FIGHT IS ON," SAYS GOVERNOR BRUMBAUGH

"I shall go steadily forward in the confidence of this act are: Deer, $100 each; squirrel, rabbit, hare or raccoon, $10 each; birds, $25 each; bear, $50 each. In lieu of payment of the fine one day's imprisonment for each dollar of fine is provided. This campaign has only begun. Great reforms are not wrought in a day. It takes time and effort to secure results worthy our Commonwealth. For the good of our people and as their servant I have done what I could. A great army of splendid people have done a memorable service. They cannot ultimately lose. The right will win. I shall go steadily forward in the confidence of our great Commonwealth now face the light and will do the right. I am in this contest to the finish. I call upon all free-minded citizens to think of this great, splendid Commonwealth, its destiny and its people, and with the broadest charity and fullest confidence begin planning now for a certain victory at the first appropriate occasion. "I fully expect the Child Labor bill to pass. The measure has the full support of Senator McNichol, Senator Vane and other leading Senators, including a large majority of the Senate. They assure me that they will vote for the bill as it came from the House. I expect it in my hands in a very few days." (Signed) G. BRUMBAUGH. Backers of the Governor's bill were loath to discuss the subject publicly to-day, but privately admitted that one of the defects in the movement was the lack of properly organized work in the primary elections in the legislative districts last year. "Big popular demonstrations, great bundles of petitions, floods of letters and telegrams and eloquent oratory are of comparatively little value and cannot be expected to save the situation after there has been an entire failure to see to the nomination of candidates for the Legislature who are "right," was the statement to-day of a member of the House who did his best to work up strength for the local option. "The way to pass a local option bill is to elect men to the Legislature who are committed to vote for such a bill, and not to wait until the Legislature assembles and then try to get members to change their attitude on the subject." This member, it is believed, voices the opinion of some near the Governor and it is expected that a program of action based on that view of the situation will be adopted. Governor Brumbaugh is committed to the waging of an active campaign for the election of a local option majority in the next Legislature. The Governor also, it is expected, will consider the possibility of persuading the Republican state leaders to accept his view of the advisability of the party itself taking a stand for local option next time. If he has this seriously in mind, the stories of possible breaks between the Governor and the state leaders following their failure to support him in his effort for a local option bill this time are likely to prove without foundation. Senator McNichol intimated some time ago that, while under pledges that would prevent his helping out on local option this time, it might be possible for him to line up with the Governor on that question two years hence. All of the leaders realize the political disadvantage of having the party tied up with the "liquor interests" and they would be glad to find a way out. In the heat of the contest over local option there has been more or less talk against the Governor for his activity in trying to get votes for the bill, but by the time the Legislature reconvenes next week interest in the other big legislative questions will predominate.
