nding of the jury would not be binding if the court was satisfied that it was not in accordance with the evidence and with justice.
The court he said, could disregard the jury's verdict and render his own decision.
Sheriff Griffin Haigen said to-day that he had taken every precaution to frustrate an alleged plot to spirit away Harry Thaw out of New York State, which came to light last night in Norfolk, Va. Without accusing Thaw or any of his intimates of participation in the plot the local authorities said they had reason to believe that plans had been laid to take Thaw from his hide-out in the automobile and place him in an automobile and hurry him to the first train for Virginia.
According to the sheriff the plan was first revealed by the following letter written to Assistant District Attorney Frederick J. Groehl, of New York, by Louis Weinrop, of Norfolk.
"A man comes over to me and he tells me that he is going to New York with Harry Thaw's case cases and he will give me two more men and they will have an automobile to take Harry Thaw away when he comes to court room to another State and he offered me one thousand dollars and all expenses and a security for any accident that happens me in any responsible place, but I refused him the job because he wanted me to go at once with him to New York but I wanted him to give me $50 before I go with him.

"He did not want to do this, he only wanted to pay me car fare to New York and go there with him to his office in New York. This man is a detective but he travels from one city to another. I know him but I can't write you in this letter who he is. But if I could see you personally I will tell you who he is if you want me. You could wire me at once on your expense and I will come to New York."

BARNES IS "JEKYL AND HYDE," SAYS T. R.

ard Croker. Is that right?" asked Mr. Barnes.
"Yes."
"Did you mention Mr. Hill?"
"On page 301, I mentioned David B. Hill."
"Do you know he got out of politics in this State after he retired from the Senate?"
"No, Mr. Hill's understanding is decidedly the contrary."
"In Chapter 8 I did refer to Mr. Barnes."
"No. He was not of the same importance as Mr. Platt and Mr. Odell. However, when I published my autobiography in 1913, I thought the same of Mr. Barnes as I did when I wrote the article complained of here."
"Why did you do that?"
"I did not want to make any malicious attack on Mr. Barnes. I refused to attack any man in my autobiography that I could not help. In my statement I wanted to appeal to the voters of New York State."
Mr. Ivins read an excerpt that had to do with invisible government and publicity for campaign contributions.
Mr. Ivins went on.
"Was there at that time a law about publishing campaign contributions?"
"I don't think so."
"Did you ever mention invisible government before your return from Africa?"
"I didn't use those words. But I referred to the thing in a message I sent to Congress in 1908."
"Did Jerry Belmont start the movement to require publication of campaign contributions?"
"He might have. I urged such a measure in Congress."
"Had you until that time ever called the attention of the voters to the dangers of invisible government and the necessity of publishing campaign expenses?"
"I think so."
"I don't care what you think. Did you or didn't you?"
"Well, now, while you were Governor there was invisible government, you say. Why didn't you make an attack then similar to the one you made on Mr. Barnes?"
"If they had blocked the legislation I wanted, I would have."
Mr. Ivins then requested the court to instruct the witness to answer categorically and not go beyond and make statements.
Court Raps Attorney
"If the rules of law are observed and this witness is treated as any other witness," began Mr. Ivins.
Justice Andrews rapped with his gavel and said:
"Mr. Ivins, this witness is treated the same as other witnesses. I won't permit any such language here."
"I apologize," said Mr. Ivins and continued his cross-examination.
"How many times in 1899 did you see Mr. Barnes alone?"
"I couldn't say. Many times. Some times I would talk to him in the executive chamber at Albany when other people were in the room."

"Did you invite Mr. Barnes to the White House in Washington?"
"Yes."
"You did that in spite of his mistrust to the people and the invisible empire?"
"Yes."
"Did you use the words invisible government in 1899 or 1900?"
"No."
"Did you ever discuss invisible government with Mr. Barnes in Albany?"
"No."
"I did not discuss the specific phrase. I did discuss my official duty and contributions to the campaign funds by big business interests."
Mr. Ivins picked up the autobiography. He read a sentence about Mr. Platt's most efficient lieutenants being men of the best character and the highest standing in the community.
"Did you include Mr. Barnes in these lieutenants in 1913?"
"No."
"Did you include him in that class in 1899 to 1900?"
"No."
"If you did not so regard him why did you consult and associate with him?"
"Because I thought he was above the average of the run of politicians. I believe he might become a most useful citizen."
"I tried to get every man to act rightly. Most of them did not. I was a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde. He had two sides, a good and a bad one, as other politicians had."

HEAVY RAINS END BIG FOREST FIRES

rain began to fall and the fighters were enabled to smother the flames.
Employees of the Sandusky Cement Company, near Hunters Run, fought the greater portion of the night to save the plant from flames. The fire was also running toward the buildings of the Philadelphia Clay Company.
This fire has been subdued and it is believed that the forest fires were damped and trees, it will be possible to stamp it out. Fires at Caledonia Furnace and Pine Grove are under control. Mount Holly Springs, which was threatened yesterday, is now safe.
The State foresters and wardens will patrol the woods until all danger of fresh fires starting has passed.
It is estimated that 20,000 acres of State forest reserve has been burned over and the loss is placed at $125,000 to $150,000 aside from the loss of summer homes, dozens of which have burned.
Statements issued at the State Department of Forestry to-day were to the effect that the forest fires were under control. Efforts are being made to obtain data on the burned over surface. The rain put out the fires in southern counties, while organized efforts secured results in other sections. The State had over 7,000 acres burned in Cumberland county.

DROPPED FIFTEEN BOMBS

By Associated Press
London, April 23, 10.15 A. M.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says: "There was much activity yesterday on the part of Russian airships. One dropped 15 bombs on Plock. Several German boats on the Vistula were struck as were the railroad station and trains."

300 VOICE CHORUS TO SING IN CAMPAIGN

Director Stahl in Steelton Arranging Preliminary Details For Organization

Organization of a chorus of 300 voices to furnish music for the Hills evangelistic campaign here beginning May 2 will be commenced within a few days.
Lawrence A. Stahl, musical director for the Hills party, is now in Steelton to take charge of the preliminary work of the campaign. Mr. Stahl will co-operate with Frank Armstrong in the organization of the big chorus, which will likely be built about the chorus of Centenary United Brethren Church. It was this chorus that did such good work in the recent revival in Centenary church.
The Rev. C. E. Hills, leader of the evangelistic party, was in Steelton a short time yesterday to discuss plans for the erection of the tabernacle at Second street and Buser's Run. In company with Harry C. Wright, a contractor, who, as chairman of the tabernacle committee, will direct the erection of the big building, the Rev. Mr. Hills inspected the site.
The second series of union prayer meetings in the interest of the Hills campaign will be held this evening. The service for Steelton people will be held in the Main Street Church of God and the one for Oberlin, Brester and Enhaut people will be held at the United Brethren Church at Oberlin.
Already the committee has completed arrangements for the dedication of the tabernacle. The dedication sermon will be preached by the Rev. Dr. W. N. Yates, of Harrisburg, Friday evening of next week. The service will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

CHARLES J. WATSON

Worthy Clothes Are Worthy the Name

It is by no mere accident that WORTHY CLOTHES are worthy clothes, but the result of careful planning.

First we chose the name and then we had clothes built that would be worthy the name.

And because WORTHY CLOTHES are what they are, we are satisfied to stand back of them in every respect.

That applies to every garment in this store, regardless of its price—

$15 $20 $25

Each represents the maximum in quality, workmanship and style procurable at the price—each safeguards us in our guarantee of absolute satisfaction.

Without hesitation we recommend WORTHY CLOTHES to you. Especially attractive are the English models, with soft roll front coats, in neat dark or light worsteds, serges and velour finished cassimeres and the Glen Urquhart Plaids. They will win your friendship quickly, and, by their worthiness, hold it.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

feverish, bilious, constipated, give fruit laxative at once

Don't scold your fretful, peevish little. See if tongue is coated; this is sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste. When listless, pale, feverish, full of ill, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhea, give teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you've a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet. Keep it handy. Mother! A little now to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs, which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the wrapper. Remember there are imitations sold here, so surely look see that yours is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. And back with contempt any other syrup.—Advertisement
