CAREFUL DOCTOR Prescribed Change of Food Instead of Drugs It takes considerable courage for a doctor to deliberately prescribe only food for a despairing patient, instead of resorting to the usual list of medicines. Some truly scientific physicians recognize and treat conditions as they are and should be treated. Here's an instance: "Four years ago I was taken with severe gastritis and nothing would stay on my stomach, so that I was on the verge of starvation. "I heard of a doctor who had a summer cottage near me—a specialist from N. Y., and, as a last hope, sent for him. "After he examined me carefully he advised me to try a small quantity of Grape-Nuts at first, then as my stomach became stronger to eat more. "I kept at it and gradually began to have color in my face, memory became clear, where before everything seemed a blank. My limbs got stronger and I could walk. So I steadily recovered. "Now after a year on Grape-Nuts I weigh 155 lbs. My people were surprised at the way I grew fleshy and strong on this food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

MUSICAL COMEDY ACT AT COLONIAL An audience that packed the popular playhouse to the doors last evening, enjoyed "The Bachelor Dinner" at the Colonial Theater. Your Head and Stomach

Headache caused by a disturbed digestion is nearly always accompanied by pain in the stomach, belching of gas, vomiting and often by constipation. This sort of headache is generally located in the forehead and is not constant but comes on immediately after eating but after the food has had time to ferment, which it does because the digestive fluids that should take care of it are only a few days. These fluids are weak, because the blood is failing to nourish these glands properly. Rich, red blood is the first essential to proper digestion and the digestive process cannot go on without it. When lack of nourishing blood causes fermentation and poisons are absorbed from the digestive tract, the pain in your head advises you of the fact. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give the blood just the elements they need to correct this condition and, with a laxative, when required, form a perfect treatment for the headaches of indigestion. Mention this paper and we will send you two little books on the diet and the proper use of a laxative. Address: Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Nine-year-old Boy Says He Did Not Murder Chum

Paterson, N. J., April 23.—"I heard the gun go 'bang,' just like that, and I was going down the ladder and I looked around quickly and I saw Mikey lying on the floor, and there was smoke and Mikey's face was all red and the red was spilling on the floor, and—" Little George Everit, who was before Recorder Carroll to-day, accused of murdering his 9-year-old playmate, Michael Quant, in the attic of the Everit home, on Knickerbocker avenue, flung himself in his mother's lap and sobbed his heart out. "I didn't kill Mikey. No, I didn't," he gasped. "I wish it had been me instead of Mikey that's dead. I loved Mikey, I did—" and the words were choked with tears as the boy tried to tell the story to a newspaper representative. After the child had settled on one of three conflicting stories, the recorder decided he did not kill his playmate. "I didn't kill Mikey," George jumped up from his mother's lap and shook his curly yellow head, and his deep blue eyes, wet with tears, flashed. "I knew he was dead, 'cause I came over to him and called to him, 'Mikey, get up!'—twice, just like that—and he didn't answer me, and my fingers got all sticky with the red stuff, and then I knew it was blood and Mikey was hurt bad and he was dead. "I knew that little boys who were hurt or were dead ought to be home with their mothers who love them, and so I picked up Mikey, and he was all soft and floppy, like hay, and his head hung down, and I carried him down the ladder, there—ugh."
