Labaree Tells How Living Man Was Thrown Into Well With Dead Bodies

A graphic tale of the atrocities of the Kurds has been told the Associated Press by Robert M. Labaree, an American missionary, married to Miss Mary Fleming of this city, of Urumiah, Persia, who visited the villages where the refugees are quartered.

He says everything possible is being done for the homeless persons. Food is scarce but the relief committees have managed to distribute a triffe more than a pound of flour to each refugee each week.

The Associated Press says that at least 1,500 persons have been massacred in the last several weeks. A young man related how he had been crammed into a well with the bodies of a number of dead. He worked his way out and escaped at night. An Armenian girl with a rifle killed a score of Kurds in the village of Hohrova and saved it from destruction.

168,200 Tons of Steel For the "Pennsylvania"

The Pennsylvania Rail-road Company has asked for proposals on millions of dollars of steel and will follow the theory of helping the other fellow first, that they may help themselves,

That applies to your case too—don't put off buying "just because." It hurts.

Yesterday's midsummer weather brought a long line of automobiles, motorcycles and other pleasure vehicles onto the fine State roads in the lower end of the county. Hundreds of machines were in the procession that sped along in an unending chain from dawn to long after midnight.

Death, of course, followed the pleasure seekers, flitted with them and levied its toll. In more than a score of reported accidents two were killed and many were injured—and this doesn't include the minor accidents in of reported.

Bowman, superintendent of public safety. Mr. Bowman, who is now testing out the kind that will be purchased within a week or two, announced Saturday that his intention is to buy only the "straight reader" type. This is of such simple construction that it will be very easy to determine just how much water is registered.

"The householder ought to be able to read the water meter just the same as he should be able to read the gas or electric meter," said Mr. Bowman. "Some of our meters are so constructed that it is a mighty difficult job to decipher how much is registered and the householder is always mystified as to why his water bill is what it is. So when the new meters are purchased we will buy only the 'straight-reader' type."

Harrisburg and Philadelphia, with officially reported temperatures of 92 degrees, yesterday had the rather unenviable distinction of being the hottest cities in the territory covered by government observatories.

But in the streets it was much hotter than 92. The mercury soared as high as 97 degrees in the central business section. Harrisburg, forgetful of the cold of several weeks ago, voiced vigerous complaint and hurriedly donned light suits, beveedees and

AUSTRIA AND ITALY ARE BELIEVED TO BE DRIFTING INEVITABLY TOWARD WAR

Prince Von Buelow Says It Is Impossible For Austria to Accept Italy's Terms; Austrian Frontier Is Being Fortified, According to Refugees; Russians Are Reported to Have Lost in Fighting in Carpathians

the repulse of an attack in Uzsok Pass, and says that the Austrians have brought up a large amount of articlery along the Carnathian front.
London, April 26, 5.23 P. M.—The admiralty and the war office declared this afternoon that a general attack on the Dardanelles has begun. An army, it was said, has been disembarked successfully.

The new German offensive in Belgium, styled by some British commentators the greatest battle of the war, is being pushed on with all the power of the army Germany is reputed to have assembled along this front. The official announcement from Berlin to day reports impressive victories, although no admissions to this effect are made at Paris or London. The German statement makes no specific laims as to further territory conquered but described the attacks in which it is said large numbers of prisoners were taken including 1,000 Canadians, The official Paris statement gives few details of the fighting in Belgium. It is said German attacks were checkness.

The opinion is growing in Rome that Austria and Italy are drifting inevitably toward war. A diplomat quotes Prince Von Buelow, the German ambassador at Rome, who has been the principal figure in the efforts to avoid a war, as saying that it would be impossible for Austria to accept Italy's demands.

Italian refugees from Austria say the frontier has been fortified by the Austrians with concrete trenches and heavy artillery.

A British correspondent accredited officially to the Dardanelles expedition admits that the problem of forcing the strait is a tremendous one. His observations have led him to the belief that a strong army for operations on the Gallipoil peninsula will be necessary. Land operations, he says, would present difficulties, since the Turks are strongly entrenched.

New victories in the fighting in the Carpathians are claimed by the Austrians. After several weeks of sow progress they have at last reduced the Russian positions on both sides of the Orawa valley, the Vienna war office announces. Petrograd reports the requise of an attack in Uzsok Pass, and says that the Austrians have brought up a large amount of artillery along the Carpathian front.

Park Department to Provide Courts With Paraphernalia; to Frame New Regulations

Reservoir Park tennis courts will be equipped this season with permanent nets by the park department so that it will not be necessary for the players to bother about furnishing their own paraphernalia.

The plan was suggested to Commissioner Taylor by the new tennis that the limination of the necessity for individual nets will prevent any player or players from taking possession of a court by the old, old scheme of merely stretching his or her net on the ground. By this "system" some players exculde others from using a court by the plea that it is "taken" by those who put up the net.

New rules and regulations for the conduct of the clubhouse and the locurts will be discussed to-night at meeting of the house committee in the park offices.

Saturday's excellent weather aroused the tennis players to the importance of plenty of courts and scores were disappointed because the four lower tier courts at Reservoir were not ready for service. The two upper courts the lower tier courts have been served on the court of the courts have been grant and all afternoon.
