Women AND THEIR INTERESTS

Marrying a Poor Man

By Beatrice Fairfax. If a girl loves you enough to make sacrifices for your sake, shall you let her do it? Shall you ask the girl you love to marry you and share your fifteen hundred (or twelve or even ten hundred) a year? By all means if you are sure that you will do your share to make your marriage a success.

But if you will let "the boss" persuade you to go to a prize fight or the boys inveigle you into a game of "Kelly Pool" while your wife sits at home night after night and wonders how much more housekeeper to drudge for a stipulated salary would have cost you than to her unpaid, unappreciated services—in the name of humanity be a bachelor for all your days.

What You Must Do. If you are of the sort of man to give up smoking so you can give your wife a new silk waist for Christmas, or to wear with glowing pride the awkwardly crocheted tie she gave you on your birthday, marry on your little income and be assured you will make your wife rich beyond the dreams of avarice.

Above all, he must be determined that she shall never regret having married a poor man. And with love in their hearts, marriage for a man and woman who must do with a small income in no wise measures the fortune with which you will endow your wife.

INFORMATION FOR LUNG SUFFERERS

The makers of Eckman's Alterative will be pleased to send reports of recoveries from tuberculosis and a booklet of interest to sufferers, with information about diet and fresh air. Investigate this case: 2141 Susquehanna Ave., Phila., Pa. "My Dear Sir:—For two years I was afflicted with hemorrhages of the lungs, and later I was taken with a severe attack of pneumonia. When I recovered sufficiently to walk about the house I was left with a frightful hacking cough, which no medicine I used taken could alleviate. It was at this time, March, 1902, that I started taking Eckman's Alterative. In a short time my cough was gone and was pronounced well. I cannot speak too highly for the good it has done."

WITH THE FASHIONABLE EMPIRE EFFECT

A Dainty Negligee That is Adapted Both to Silk and to Cotton.

By MAY MANTON

8502 Empire Negligee. Small 34 or 36, Medium 38 or 40, Large 42 or 44 bust.

Such a graceful, pretty negligee as this one will find a place no matter how many there may already be in the wardrobe. It can be cut in full length or in saccage length, and many women will want both, for each serves a different purpose and both are charming. Empire lines are always becoming, always pretty for negligees, and the way in which the gown is cut and planned means that it is extremely simple and easy to make.

For the medium size the long full length negligee will require 7 1/2 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 5 1/2 yds. 36, 3 3/4 yds. 44, and for the shorter one will be required 3 3/4 yds. 27 in. wide, 2 3/8 yds. 36 or 44 in. wide, with 3/8 yd. 27, for collar and trimming.
