CITY'S MUSIC LOVERS AT CHORAL FESTIVAL. Spring festival this evening, and following the usual custom it held the stage itself in the afternoon. As was expected, the concert was all and a little more than was promised. The program began at 3 o'clock and a standing room was pretty nearly at a premium. Modest Altschuler, conductor, was at his best and was liberal with encores. The soloists were particularly well received while the famous quartet from "Rigoletto" was especially fine. To-night's concert, when the Choral society sings Handel's oratorio "Samson," will begin promptly at 8.15. The final rehearsal with the Russian Symphony orchestra, was held at 10 o'clock this morning. The soloists who will assist to-night include: Marie Morrissey, contralto; Marie Stoddard, soprano; Wilfred Glenn, bass; George Harris, tenor, and Louis Edlin, concertmaster, who will be violin soloist.
