CORPORATE REAL ESTATE TAXABLE

House Passes the Roney Bill to Require Companies to Pay Local Taxes on Land

Without very much ado the House last night passed by a vote of 111 to 12 the Roney bill subjecting to local taxation realty of public service corporations. Mr. Roney said that under present laws millions of dollars of real estate did not yield a cent to municipalities and that he considered that tax exemption had gone as far as it ought to go.

By a vote of 98 yeas to but 9 nays the House defeated the bill exempting all loans made by school districts from taxes. Chairman Roney, of the ways and means committee, declared that the bill, if enacted, would take $100,000 from the State Treasury.

Legalize Lobbying? No.
 The bill authorizing cities, boroughs and first class townships to form associations to look after their interests at the State Capitol was defeated after Mr. Stern, Philadelphia, had assailed it as legalizing lobbying.

Mr. Stern said "this bill would give boroughs and townships a right to associate themselves together under the law for something considered iniquitous."

Mr. Gibson, Lycoming, rejoined that the bill would not please some lawyers, but that boroughs should have the right to know what is going on.

The House also defeated the bill fixing the pay of assessors in third class cities and boroughs.

The House reconsidered its defeat of the Roney bill requiring railroads to abolish one grade crossing a year in each thirty miles of line.

The prison labor bills were made special orders for Tuesday.

The resolution directing the Attorney General to push the claims of the Brobst heirs for coal lands was negatively reported by the judiciary general committee. A court decision having rendered any other action impossible, according to Chairman Roney.

Convict Bill Changed
 The bill authorizing employment of convict labor on roads was amended so that convicts may be put to work on township highways.

The Senate bill passed finally: Permitting farmers to peddle their own produce without license fees in boroughs.

Changing State road routes in Wayne county.

Establishing marine schools and school ships.

Establishing a system of municipal liens in boroughs.

Senate bill regulating assumption by a municipality of debts of annexed territory.

Regulating plans for county bridge work to be submitted to Water Survey Commission and requiring Attorney General to defend suits for patent infringement.

Senate bill regulating payment of debts of consolidated cities.

Amending school code so that secretaries of school districts shall be elected for four-year terms.

Appropriating all revenue from State forests to the State school fund.

Validating bonds of certain school districts which did not comply with school code.

Establishing open-air schools.

Providing for discharge of persons arrested on process issued on judgment obtained in civil action.

Authorizing Board of Charities to change plans for institutions under State control.

Validating sales and titles to lands sold for county taxes.

Regulating transfer to insane hospitals of persons awaiting trial in prison for misdemeanors.

Senate bill providing for formation of third class cities from parts of two or more contiguous counties.

Extending terms of borough solicitors under act of 1907.

The Senate bill declaring it unlawful for any insurance company to cancel policies except on written application of insured was defeated.

The House adjourned at 10:20 p. m.

Object to Canal Bill Because of Expense

Opposition to the Lake Erie-Ohio ship canal because of the cost was voiced before the House judiciary general committee by representatives of Allegheny county at an extended hearing last night. Ex-Mayor W. A. Magee, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the committee, addressed the bill and the opposing addresses were made by ex-Senator James L. Adams, Allegheny, on behalf of the Allegheny commissioners; Councilman G. A. Dillinger, of Pittsburgh; John B. Heron and J. B. Hyndman, representing Allegheny county people. It was contended that the canal would cost $50,000,000 and that under the provisions of the act Allegheny would pay almost half the cost. The committee was given some suggested amendments and will consider them next week.

Forty Bills Sent Out by Committeemen

Forty bills were reported to the House at the night session. In the list was the bill repealing the act of 1913 creating the metropolitan planning commission. It passed first reading.

Other bills reported were: Creating a civil service commission in Allegheny county; authorizing attachment of 10 per cent. of wages for necessities of life; requiring railroads to pay damages for fires caused by locomotives along rights of way; creating State insurance fund; appropriating $125,000 to pay for cattle killed by the State agents because of foot and mouth disease.

Snake's Sixth Sense

That the snake has a real sixth sense by which it finds its mate in the woods and unerringly trails its prey is the belief of a man who is a special student of snakes. The seat of this sense of direction is supposed to be the curious forked tongue, which can have none of the taste which the tongue is usually applied, but is a feeler and more and is incessantly darting about as the snake travels. A lizard was seen to come from beneath a house in the woods, take a zigzag course and disappear under a box ten feet away. Two minutes later a black snake appeared, passed over the lizard's exact course, keeping the tongue constantly seeking the trail, and in a few moments the box, quickly emerged with the lizard in its law. Many other observations seem to prove that the tip of the tongue is the guide.—Exchange.

HOUSEWIVES BUSY "CLEANING HOUSE"

City Health Officer Says Matrons Have Not Waited For Official Week

Paint cans and brushes, screens for doors and windows, carpet beaters, scrubbing brushes, brooms, rakes, lawn mowers, and many other implements used in housecleaning are appearing in many homes in Harrisburg. Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer, said this morning, that the people of the city started in with the annual Spring clean-up just two weeks ahead of the time set for the clean-up, with the result that when May 3 comes around, the city will be practically clean but for a few odd nooks and corners.

The Pennsylvania Reduction Company, which has wagons out each day hauling away the waste and refuse gathered, reports that the loads have been increasing each day, showing the willingness of the residents of the city to clean up the back yards.

Next week the work will begin in earnest. Extra wagons will be placed on the districts, all waste and refuse will be removed from the backyards and lots, and hauled to the dump.

District City
 The city was districted this morning for the next two weeks, beginning May 3. The teams will go over the districts twice, once each week during the campaign. The districts are as follows:
 Monday, Allison Hill, south of Market street, to city limits.
 Tuesday, Hill, north of Market street to city limits.
 Wednesday, South Harrisburg, and central district, to North street.
 Thursday, North to Verbeke streets.
 Friday, Verbeke to Keiler streets.
 Saturday, Keiler street to city line.

The Reduction Company officials urge all people who have refuse which they want removed, to keep it in bulk, as the employees of the company have been instructed to take no loose refuse and sheeting, and also to brush and clean the corners where piles of dirt have accumulated. Merchants in the city are lined up in the campaign. The Chamber of Commerce and the Civic Club also have offered their help to the city health authorities. According to reports received at the Bureau of Health a large majority of the yards have already undergone the "clean-up" treatment.

"Clean up the breeding places of the typhoid fly, and you won't have to swat him this summer," is the advice of Dr.

THE LARGEST ANIMAL KINGDOM

In the course of an interesting nature sermon in the May Woman's Home Companion Charles Edward Jefferson, pastor of Broadway Tabernacle in New York City, says:

"There are more kinds of birds than there are kinds of fishes, and serpents and animals combined. The largest of all the kingdoms of sentient life is the kingdom of the birds."
