"TWIN BEDS," an uproariously funny farce, by Salisbury Field and Margaret Mayo, come to the Majestic for a return engagement this evening. Selwyn and Company, producers of the play, say the organization which will be seen here is the only company playing the farce on tour.
In the cast are: Margaret Boland, August Aramini, Rowland Vance Lee, Marion Loran, James Keenan, J. J.
Byrnes and Beatrice Ingram.
The plot has to do with the trials and tribulations of a family in an apartment house. It deals with the happiness and worries, conjugal and otherwise, of three families and an Irish maid. To get away from each other and a series of annoyances that make life miserable the family moves away to another part of town only to again meet with each other and with the same troubles.

THOUSANDS APPLAUD KOLONIAL
Thousands of people are sounding the praises of the Colonial Kids, who are now on the last lap of their week's engagement at the Colonial Theater.
The boys are giving a new program for the last half of the week, and hundreds of those who were at the theater the first half have returned to hear the new numbers and to see the rest of the vaudeville show which was changed with Thursday's matinee.
The boys are presenting a very pleasing song and dance turn, Guy Bartlett is making friends with his clever songs and monologue, and Edith Mote is a quick change artist of unusual ability.

"UNCLE JOHN" AND BILLIE RITCHIE
AT THE PALACE
The story of "Uncle John," a two-reel human interest drama, featuring Violet Messerue, William Garwood and Etienne Girardot, introduces us to a little East Side family.
It was pretty cold on the East Side, but Jimmy Moore, age eight, found that getting enough money for supper for Alice and Pudge, kept him warm.
John Waldron, many times a millionaire, had no patience with charity and settlement work; and when Horace, his only son, took up helping the poor with the fortunes left him by his mother, the old man was disgusted.
Waldron ordered his son out of the office; and Horace, with his impetuous youth, decided to leave home.
Horace met Helen—the nice girl across the hall, who paints pictures.
So he sent a friend to buy some of her pictures. He also offered, by letter, to buy the tenement from his father. The old man then made up his mind that he would go to see this tenement which was causing him so much trouble.
On his way down, he failed to see a broken step, and fell in the hall before the little Moore's door, with a badly sprained ankle, saving himself from breaking his neck only by hanging on to the banister.
An incoming "drunk" lit a cigarette in the hall and threw the blazing match into a pile of rubbish. When "Uncle John" got back, smoke poured in volumes from the entrance.
Horace plunged into the building and got to his father and the children just in time.
A week later "Uncle John," Horace and his fiancée, Helen, and "the kids," all had a big party to celebrate the first day in "Uncle John's" big home and with this delightful picture the drama closes. "Uncle John" spends his declining years, with his impetuous children, allowing Horace to run his business.
Billie Ritchie will also be seen in a single reel, "Cupid in the Hospital."—

VICTORIA THEATER
To-day's bill is one of an exceptional nature, in that the feature film is a comedy entitled, "Droppington's Family Tree." This laugh-making picture, in two parts, was produced by the Keystone Company, which insures that there is "something going" every minute and that it's a scream from start to finish. "The Disillusionment of Jane," a two-part Broncho, and "The Story of a Story," and Pathe Daily News, the animated newspaper which shows the latest of the world's happenings as soon as it is possible to produce them, round out an extraordinary strong program. Every day the management of this modern and up-to-date theater are being complimented about the music furnished by Messrs. McIlroy and Malotte upon our new $25,000 pipeorgan. To see motion pictures at the Victoria Theater, under the most favorable circumstances—the pictures are shown on a special mirror screen by a Simplex machine, only the best made, and each action of the play is given its proper tone expression on our wonderful pipeorgan.—Advertisement.

AT THE REGENT
To-day is comedy day at the Regent Theater and the two greatest comedians on the stage will appear in new pictures. Funny Charlie Chaplin, who has delighted thousands of people, will appear in a picture never before shown here, and which has just been released.
It is entitled "By the Sea," and shows a young man in some of his most amusing stunts. Chaplin pictures, from their first appearance here, has been a favorite with our patrons. To-day's picture is sure to add to this list. But Charlie Chaplin is not the only star attraction of the day. Fred Maco will also be seen. Maco is a comedian with a style all his own, and his work in "Broadhurst" is a masterpiece. "Broadhurst," a comedy, "What Happened to Jones," is said to be exceptionally good. Broadhurst is a premier writer of funny stories and to-day's comedy is one of his best. To round out the program Manager Maco has engaged a picture entitled, "Ham and the Jitney Bus." "The Wink(s)ome Widow" is tomorrow's big attraction.—Advertisement.

PHILADELPHIA PASSES LOAN Philadelphia, April 30.—By an overwhelming majority the electors of Philadelphia yesterday sanctioned the proposed $6,000,000 transit loan for a Broad street subway and a Frankford elevated railway. Out of a total of 98,767 voters cast in a special election, 55,952 voters, or more than 50 per cent., recorded their decision in favor of the transit plan. It was the largest majority ever recorded in a special election in this city.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES
A SPLENDID SHAMPOO
If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just ordinary mulled coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for sham-poing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundant amount of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mulled coconut oil (it must be mulled, plain coconnut oil will not do) at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

"Let Me Die Without Shame," Says Emperor

Special to The Telegraph Paris, April 30.—"Let me die with- out shame. Do not demand of me the supreme humiliation of ceding territory to Italy."
These, according to the Vienna cor- respondent of the Temps, are the last words of the Austrian Emperor on the Italian negotiations.
Italians are flocking from Vienna to Italy, the correspondent says. The Austrians would heartily welcome war with the Italians, against whom they are infuriated.
