

"BIRD" MILLMAN WHO DOES TANGO ON WIRE IN THE CIRCUS

Everybody is not doing it. There is at least one new dance which runs no chance of being popularized to death. Bird Millman, who is, take it from the Barnum and Bailey program, which will exhibit here Thursday, May 6, "the dainty, daring queen of the wire," invented it. She calls it the aerial tango, and has not been obliged to seek a patent to keep it in her own private possession. If your infant son and daughter start right away they may learn it by the time they are eighteen or twenty. That is the period it took Miss Millman to accomplish it. "I began to learn my act when I was five years old. I have been learning ever since. I'll keep on learning until I get too old to work. There is no end of the possibilities of the wire. I love it, and yet I am afraid of it. It is treacherous, fascinating, almost alive. When you have it under your feet you feel it is a thinking animal, instead of a strand of steel. Some days it is docile, and you have no trouble.

At other times it twitches and throbs under the soles of your shoes as if it were trying to throw you. The air of the dressing tent was reeked with the reek of the circus. Outside one could hear the blare of the music and the clack of the wooden shoes which aerial acrobats use to protect their glove-like slippers from the tanbark. "I love the circus," said the Queen of the Wire. "I can't explain why. It was born in me, I guess. Both my father and mother were acrobats before me. I was in vaudeville for a time, but I gave it up to come back to the big top. I don't feel at home anywhere else. In vaudeville there are always squabbles and jealousies. Here we are like one big family. No, I don't want to leave the life. I haven't any dream of a little home of my own. I want to stay with the big show. I won't have to worry about old age, anyhow. Few of us live long enough to retire on that account.

STOMACH UPSET? Get At the Real Cause — Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feelings, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested food, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramping or purging. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, so you can eat what you like, at 10c and 25c per box. All drug stores. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.—Advertisement.

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness, or noises go to your druggist and get 6c of Parmit (double strength), add 1 oz. of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful 4 times a day. This will often bring instant relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils will open, breathing become easy and the mucous stops dripping into the throat. It is easy to make, tastes pleasant and costs little. Every one who has catarrh should give this treatment a trial. You will find it is just what you need.

Legislative News CHILD LABOR BILL IS UP TONIGHT

Men in Charge Think That the Proposed Amendments Will Be Defeated in Senate

The Senate will hold the big end of the interest in legislative matters this week, although there will be considerable attention given to the general appropriation bill. The child labor bill will be on third reading to-night and men who are favorable to the measure say that the proposed amendments will fail. The bill, it is predicted, will pass the Senate as it left the House and will be signed with little delay. Workmen's compensation will be taken up by the Governor and most of the senators in informal conference to-morrow afternoon and action on the measure is expected. If there is no disagreement on these bills the Legislature will get away May 13, according to people at the Capitol. The full crew repealer will also be acted upon by the Senate committee again. Decision on the election legislation is also expected during the week. Practically all of the important bills making vital changes in the election laws of the State, including the bills to prevent fusion after the primaries, to place the Republican party at the head of the ticket and to repeal the non-trispartisan act so far as it relates to judges, have passed the Senate and are slumbering in the House elections committee until the leaders reach an agreement on their disposition. The great bulk of the appropriation bills are now well on their way. With exception of about forty, all of the House appropriation bills have passed the lower branch and most of the appropriation measures originating in the Senate that have been reported out are in the House committee. Their final disposal is a matter of a week and as soon as the final day of the General Assembly is fixed they will be started on the way to the Governor. Meanwhile the chairmen of the Senate and House appropriations committees are working on the general appropriation bill. In both branches committees will "clean up" this week. Adjournment is believed to be a matter of only a fortnight or so and efforts to advance bills will be made in both branches. Numerous important bills in addition to the labor and compensation measures are on the Senate third reading calendar for to-morrow night. Among the thirty bills on this stage are the uniform cold storage measure, borough code, additional judge bill for Lackawanna county, veterans' pension bill, resolution to investigate increase in prices of anthracite coal alleged to have been wrongfully made because of the anthracite tax, bills reorganizing Attorney General's Department, creating division of boiler inspection, providing for highway construction and for further development of mineral resources, together with the constitutional amendment to the consolidate the courts of Philadelphia. On the postponed calendar are twelve bills. On the second reading calendar are the bills for equal rights, for female watchers at the polls this Fall when the suffrage amendment is voted upon and for insurance rate supervision. Two Susquehanna river bridge bills are in the Senate. On first reading is the Home Rule League bill relative to the public service company law. The House has the Stern moving picture film examination fee bill as a special order for to-morrow night and its calendar contains over 150 bills. Eighty-five of these are on third reading. Fifty on second and only six on first. There are a number on the postponed calendar, including the public service company law amendments drafted by the commission. Two penal laws commission bills are special orders for Tuesday night. The bill to allow convict labor to be employed on roads is on final passage and on third reading are the agricultural commission, anthracite tax, administration escheat, state correctional farms, occupational disease report, Senate women's employment amendment, dog license, constitutional convention and other much discussed bills. DEATH OF MRS. ROY KAUFMAN Special to The Telegraph New Cumberland, Pa., May 3.—Mrs. Nellie Davis Kaufman, wife of Roy Kaufman, died suddenly at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, in Bridge street, at 5 o'clock this morning. She had been ill about a year, but her condition was not considered serious until within the past week. Mrs. Kaufman was born at New Market and was 33 years old. She was a graduate of the New Cumberland high school in the class of 1900 and was at Lebanon Valley College for two years. She was a member of Trinity United Brethren Church and up to about a year ago was organist in the Sunday school. She is survived by her husband, her parents and one brother, Chester Davis, all of New Cumberland. The funeral services will be held Thursday morning.

BOROUGH CODE IS CHANGED ABOUT

Important Measure Will Likely Be Passed Finally by the Senate This Evening The Senate has made a number of amendments in the proposed new code of laws governing the 900 boroughs in Pennsylvania. The code, which was prepared by the Legislative Reference Bureau, passed the House some time ago, and will be up for final passage in the Senate this evening. One Senate amendment prohibits a borough putting a street across a railroad at grade without the consent of the Public Service Commission. The bill originally gave the Common Pleas Courts jurisdiction as to this. Highways below or above grade at rail-

Fewer Sheep Are Killed by Dogs

A decrease of over 1,300 in the number of sheep killed by dogs and also of the number injured is reported by the State Bureau of Agricultural Statistics as the result of its efforts to get accurate information as to the amount of damage done to the flocks of the State in the last year as compared with 1913. The report is made up from returns by county commissioners to L. H. Wible, chief of the bureau. During 1914 there were 5,057 sheep killed and 3,733 injured as against 6,332 killed and 4,845 injured in the previous year. Last year counties paid $45,873.10 for sheep killed, an average price of $7.23 per sheep against $54,322.70 the year before when the average was $8.35 per sheep. The decrease is attributed to the efforts made to check the ravages of dogs as 2,026 were killed last year by direction of authorities outside of cities as compared with 1,419 killed the previous year. The total dog tax collected in boroughs and townships was $146,749.18 last year as compared with $145,706.01 the previous year.
