EXERCISE AND GRECIAN BEAUTY ACADEMY PROSPECTS WHAT IT MEANS

Many thousands of women are now-a-days paying attention to physical julture and the proper exercise of their body muscles, where, thirty years age or fifty years ago there was no thought expended on this science. Ago or fifty years ago there was no thought expended on this science, which is quite necessary to physical beauty. The reason the Greeks, both men and women, excelled in beautiful and symmetrical forms was because of the attention they paid to the prop-er exercise. Then, too, they were un-trammeled by corsets, shoes and the inconveniences of clothing. To the minds of some women the idea of phy-sical exercise conveys only the idea of hard fatiguing work. Mild exercise continued day after day is best for the body and spirits and health. Without proper exercise there can be no health, and without health there can be no real beauty. There is no stronger proof of the sound remedial value of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription than that it re-stores the wasted form to its wonted roundness.

Indications Point to Largest Enrollment in Its History; Honor Men Named

Present indications point to the largest enrollment in the long history of the Harrisburg Academy for the 1915-16 seesion. Before Fall the new dormitory, designed to house forty students, will be completed. Boys from the city and surrounding country are exhibiting considerable interest in the Academy course and Headmaster Brown expects many to enroll. In the upper school last month ten are exhibiting considerable interest in the Academy course and Headmaster Brown expects many to enroll. In the upper school last month ten of the students took first honors and twenty-five took second. Seventeen of the boys in the lower school secured first honors, while three received sec-ond honors. The records were excep-tionally good. Upper school first honor students are William Burgess Broadhurst, Wil-liam C. Fisher, Russell A. Hoke, James Fry Mersereau, Paul William Orth, Robert W. Seitz, William A. Smiley. Robert G. Shreiner, John S. Sense-man and Meroer B. Tate, Jr. Lower school, first honors: Cam-eron Cox, Richard Johnston, Disbrow Lloyd, Thomas A. Pageant, Then the Circus After the pageant came the circus proper. Thrilling acts from ail parts of the world followed each other in rapid succession. The circus this year has specialized in novelties, and it has plenty of them. Perhaps the best of the lot, from a real circus standpoint, is the Hannaford Family of eques-trians. There are five of them, three men and two women, the elder wo-man acting as ringmaster. Circus pat-rons have seen circus riding in the past, but they never have seen such feats as are performed by the mem-ber of the family who plays the clown. Pageant, Then the Circus

How to Be Slim and Attractive

If you are one of the many who suf-fer from obesity you know only too well the humiliation and discomfort one suffers when they are too fat. The cause of the obesity is undoubtedly due to faulty assimilation. bicycles and do all kinds of tricks that bicycles and do all kinds of tricks that birds never before have been trained to do. May Star Features This bardly possible to enumerate al the features of the circus this year. There are equestrians, equilibrists, jugglers, symnasts, aerialists and acro-bats galore, each man, woman or team being absolutely the best of its kind. One of the star features is a gather-ing of Chinese athletes, who after a number of the familiar tricks, do silds for life on a rope from the top of the tent, hanging by their hair. Amog the animal acts Mile. Adgie and her lions hold one of the places of honor. The daring of this woman trainer with her feroolous pets never fails to thrill the audiences, but she handles them with as little fear as if they were trained cats. There are three herds of trained eithey were trained cats. There are three berds of trainer. The posing horses are back, inter-sic poses. There are games of basket-bal on bicycles, trapeze performers who risk their necks every second, bareback riders who perform seeming-ly impossible feats, wire walkers, In-cluding Eird Millman, the queen of them all, and a thrilling Wild West show, in which many real cowboys and cowgirls do rough riding and rop-inz. The clowns—an army of them— were better than ever, and altogether the ver given beneath a circus tent. Thousands of School

Thousands of School Children Turned Loose to See Circus Parade

Thousands of school children in the city public schools added to the tre-mendous throng out to see the circus parade this morning. On Sixth, be-tween Forster and Briggs streets, both sides of the street were lined with hundreds of Central High school stu-dents who were excused in time to see the parade. The boy students vied with the clowns of the circus variety in creating many laughs by their inpl-tations of the performers. The Tech boys were out on Fourth street from Walnut to Market, crowd-ing the central district. The other children were in town with their par-ents, causing much trouble for the mammas who were also interested in the parade.
