

"WHISKY RUNNERS" SENTENCED BY COURT

Shippensburg Men Go to Jail For Importing Liquor into "Dry" Town

Special to The Telegraph. Carlisle, Pa., May 12.—Following an all-day session of court all of the Shippensburg men charged with the illicit importation of whisky from Chambersburg into the county here, and about Shippensburg were either found guilty or entered pleas of guilty in the various charges. The men convicted after jury trials were Richard Sheffer and Robert Green, colored. Simon Cookley, John Harr, John Frohm and Daniel Blair entered pleas of guilty. This morning Judge Sadler issued a statement of the charges and the liquor selling would be broken up and that he would impose severe sentences on anyone convicted of the crime in the county hereafter. Deputies will be put at work about Shippensburg. The court then sentenced Harr to pay the costs, a fine of $50 and serve three months in the county jail here. Blair, Cookley, Frohm, Sheffer and Green were each sentenced to pay the costs, a fine of $50 and to serve one year in jail. Harry Forney, until some months ago employed in railroad work at Harrisburg, and later appointed special officer to investigate the cases, came in for much censure from the attorneys representing the "whisky runners" and he was charged with "framing up" the various cases. He was the Commonwealth's star witness. Shortly after the beginning of the investigation and following some arrests Forney was arrested on a charge made by John Jacoby, a constable of the town. The grand jury, however, ignored the bill charging him with furnishing liquor to a minor and put the costs on the prosecutor. Stephen Lewis was also found guilty of keeping gambling devices in his house in that he permitted the use of the familiar sticker card with boxes of candy as grand prizes. Harry Griffe, charged with forging the name of his brother to a note for $900, also pleaded guilty. The whisky cases closed the session of court.

Harrisburg Boys Sentenced. Judge Sadler also sentenced Charles Breach, Arthur Brown, Arthur Fuhrman and Charles Sheffer, Harrisburg boys, convicted of robbing a drug store at Camp Hill several weeks ago. All pleaded guilty and were ordered to pay costs, a fine of $10, restore property and serve three months in the county jail. Charles Will, implicated in the robbery, was absent when called for sentence and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. The boys also pleaded guilty to breaking into the Camp Hill schoolhouse and were given the same penalty as in the drug store case, the sentences to run concurrently, however.

LAST LEG OF 3-DAY PUBLICITY RUN TODAY

and parks. Fire bells were rung, whistles blown and hundreds lined the streets to watch the progress of the cars. Following the parade the contestants checked in at the Du Pont Hotel, where a stop was made for the night.

Leave On Final Lap. Early this morning they left this city on the final lap of the three days' run. They then passed through West Chester, Philadelphia, Downingtown and make their last stop at Lancaster.

Following a formal reception by the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce they are to lunch and then leave on the last lap of the journey. The second day's run was the best which has ever attended a Harrisburg automobile outing. Perfect roads and all arrivals were made on time. With the exception of tire trouble and an accident, in which a car was struck by an axle broken, no other hindrances to the machines were encountered.

An accident which occurred shortly after the start of the run, in which a car, N. J. resulted in an injury to Mrs. K. Kines. She had been riding in the car owned by W. G. Starry and a severe rut jolted her from the car. One of her arms was broken and she received numerous bruises about the head and body.

Dr. Herschner, of Mechanicsburg, witnessed the accident and, stopping his car, set the arm and dressed the injuries, after which the woman was returned to Avalon for further treatment.

Chickens "Cash In"

Numerous chickens, of the feathered variety, met sudden and unexpected deaths on the second day's run, which was mostly through a farming district. The cars checked at Atlantic City promptly at 7:30 o'clock, and sixty-one passing the checkers. Starting at Somers Point, the first checking station on the day's run, the contestants were greeted by a series of receptions which broke all precedents for the Harrisburg club. Ocean City had a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and city officials greeted the tourists and had strewn the entire town with flags and bunting for their reception. At Sea Isle City a like reception was given the tourists, and at Avalon lunch was provided, children were dismissed from school and members of the Avalon Automobile Club led the Harrisburg cars about the streets and started them on their way to Stone Harbor.

Good Roads

The stretch of road separating these two towns was the best encountered during the entire run. Directly beside the ocean, it had the appearance of a race course more than any ordinary road. All run records for speed course, all run records for this five-mile stretch, the cars arriving at Stone Harbor a few minutes after leaving Avalon. Lunch was served here and the tourists left on their longest stretch since leaving Harrisburg, traveling eighty-six miles without checking in at any station.

Good time was made by all the different contestants yesterday and with good roads for the remainder of their three-day tour all cars are expected to arrive in Harrisburg on time. All of the contestants are unanimous in pronouncing this run the most successful ever held from Harrisburg and plans are being arranged to make it an annual event. Secretary Myton pronounces it the best run ever held in Pennsylvania. Throughout the whole course of the cars Harrisburg has been advertised as it never was before. The sight of sixty-one cars following each other closely is unusual in any state and especially in Delaware and New Jersey, and thousands of people have flocked the course to witness this novel sight. "Harrisburg" has been passed from mouth to mouth and it is expected that the city will gain largely from this run.

I. W. Dill's Republic truck, which had been running on touring schedule over the entire course, got into difficulty to-day and was towed eight-two miles into this city by John Hargett in a Pullman. Many of the cars have perfect scores for the two days' legs and it is expected that a new record will be set up when Secretary Myton announces the list on Friday. With this list will be announced the names of all trophy winners and the trophies

Members of the House were sharply reprimanded for disorder and ordered to take their seats in the lower chamber to-day when the Rinn grade crossing bill came up for its second defeat. The bill was defeated some time ago after a dramatic speech by Mr. Rinn, Lehigh, which resulted in a mock demonstration. The bill was reconsidered last week. Following are the committees who received the motorists here: Chamber of Commerce, E. B. Griffith, William E. Metter, Joseph F. Wilson, John W. Loud and Walter L. Butler; City Club, J. H. Nixon, chairman, W. L. Hammond, Charles H. Smith, Dr. H. C. Buckwater and William Baxter.

THE FAMOUS JULIA SANDERSON SMILE

There are few people who frequent the theater who have not seen the Julia Sanderson smile. It is an appealing, roguish, blue-eyed, rosy-lipped, Irish smile which once seen is never forgotten. It has been a potent factor in Miss Sanderson's rise and it beguiles and delights all during the big musical comedy success, "The Girl From Utah," in which Miss Sanderson is co-star with Donald Brian and Joseph Cawthorn, coming to the Majestic to-night. Miss Sanderson is a New England girl and hails from Sprague, Springfield, famed for same Fourth, automobiles. Blue Laws and Julia Sanderson. It is a shame to tip it off, but her real name is Sackett, and her father, Albert Sackett, one of those splendid actors of the old school is to-day playing in

"The Misleading Lady." The euphonious Sanderson was suggested by Mr. Sackett when his daughter first went on the stage and has clung to her ever since.—Advertisement.

GILLETTE-BATES-DORO

The triple-star combination, William Gillette, Blanche Bates and Marie Doro, will be at the Majestic, Wednesday evening, May 13, in "Diplomacy." Marie Sheridan, who is entrusted with a small but highly responsible part as Mion, the maid, distinguishes herself by series of singular gymnastics. In the character of the glib-tongued maid Miss Sheridan is called upon to speak English, French, German and Spanish with equal fluency in the first act of Sardou's play. She is an adept in the picture theaters. The film shows how Miss Sheridan, through this maze of languages, Charles Frohman, who gave his personal attention to the selection of the cast for "Diplomacy," chose Miss Sheridan for this difficult role after testing over a score of other applicants for the part.—Advertisement.

A moving picture that was made of the sailing of the Lusitania from New York on its ill-fated voyage that ended in hundreds of the ship's passengers dying as the ship went to the bottom, will be exhibited at the Colonial Theater to-day and to-morrow only. This picture is of great interest at present and is in great demand in the moving picture theaters. The film shows many of those who have been listed among the dead. A new bill of vaudeville work in "Bolly of the Circus" made her an international star, plays the principal role in the successful play by William C. DeMille. But Edith Tallaferrero is not the only person in the play who interests Harrisburgers. The other star is Mrs. Lewis McCord, widow of the late vaudeville actor. Mr. McCord's name was Landis Wambaugh, but when he went on the stage he assumed the name under which his widow now travels.—When Mr. and Mrs. McCord

EDITH TALLAFERRO AT THE REGENT

In the Paramount production of "Young Romance," presented by Jesse L. Lasky at the Regent Theater to-day and to-morrow there is a dual interest. Edith Tallaferrero, whose wonderful work in "Bolly of the Circus" made her an international star, plays the principal role in the successful play by William C. DeMille. But Edith Tallaferrero is not the only person in the play who interests Harrisburgers. The other star is Mrs. Lewis McCord, widow of the late vaudeville actor. Mr. McCord's name was Landis Wambaugh, but when he went on the stage he assumed the name under which his widow now travels.—When Mr. and Mrs. McCord

Men Pay Homage to Mother's Friend

It is a gentle, soothing lubricant, penetrates to the fine network of nerves beneath the skin and has a marked tendency to relieve the muscular strain to which these broad, flat abdominal muscles are subjected. The cords, tendons and ligaments are thus permitted to stretch without the corresponding surface strain so often involved during the period of expectation. And particularly to young mothers is this remedial application of inestimable value since in thus keeping the muscles firm but pliant it enables them to go through the ordeal without laceration of the epidermis often the case when this gentle attention is neglected. "Mother's Friend" is highly recommended by a host of women. Write Bradford Regulator Co., 408 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and we will send you a valuable little book to expectant mothers.
