CLUB TO TAKE PART IN GOOD ROADS DAY

Millersburg Motor Organization Plans to Join in State-wide Work May 26

Special to The Telegraph
Millersburg, Pa., May 13.—At a meeting of the board of governors and the good roads committee of the Millersburg Motor Club plans were made for the active participation of the club in the state-wide good roads day on Wednesday, May 26.

It is not necessary to hold membership in the Motor Club to join in the good roads movement on the 26th instant. Those who will so work on the roads on the above day are asked to register their names now at Watts jewelry store or at Hoy's general store. Car owners who will put their auto into service are also asked to register. By this method the club will be better able to place the workers in gangs and will know just how many cars will be available on good roads day.

Supervisors of the townships in which work will be done will be present to give directions. Places where needed and substantial repairs are necessary have already been taken into account, so that the greatest efficiency and dispatch may be the order of the day.

The Berryburg Road

The work and repairs will be confined to the township road from Millersburg to Berryburg and from the latter place to Elizabethtown, a distance of about fourteen miles. The road from here to Halifax is in good condition and the highway from Millersburg to Elizabethtown is now being made better than ever by the State Highway Department, so that all local effort will be confined to the Berryburg township roads.

While scoops, plows, scrapers, teams, etc., will be provided by the motor club, yet individuals volunteering their labor on good roads day are asked to bring shovels, rakes and picks, if possible.

The Dream

Susie Jones dreamed of a piano—she was musically inclined. She had "studied" in the past and so was a judge of a good instrument.

In her fancy, she dreamed of a grand piano of the most expensive make and she saw listeners thrilled with her interpretation of some favorite piece.

Susie Jones was not entirely undeserving of such an instrument, but a practical world decreed that a more modest piano must suit her fancy.

FOR SALE—One second-hand $150 Story and Clark (Bird's-eye Walnut) piano with stool and scarf for $150. Address Box 783, care of Telegraph.

The Reality

In the "For Sale" classification of Telegraph Classified Ads she saw the above announcement. Investigating, confirmed her hopes. The instrument was sound, perfect in tone and appearance, and it could be bought for a small sum down and the balance on payments, so it was that a Telegraph Classified Ad made the practical part of her dream come true.

Isn't $5.00 Worth Saving?

You can save this much money by buying your winter's supply of coal this month.

20,000 lbs. Hard Nut costs now $63.50
20,000 lbs. Hard Nut costs Sept. 1 68.50

Amount saved $5.00

And the remarkable thing about buying coal now for next winter is that you get better quality coal.

Usually when you buy a thing cheaper you look for inferior quality.

Not so with coal—the prices are reduced in summer time to find a market for a product in an otherwise dull season.

Better arrange to save money and get better quality to-day.

Adam Snyder on Trial at Huntingdon for Murder of Mrs. Plummer Port

Special to The Telegraph
Huntingdon, Pa., May 13.—Adam Snyder, aged 20, the Johnstown boy, was yesterday morning placed on trial for the murder of Mrs. Plummer Port, wife of a prominent Huntingdon county farmer. Before the State's attorney commenced his address to the jury President Judge Joseph M. Woodard, in a written opinion, which he is now the nature of the evidence to be outlined by the prosecution, ordered the exclusion from the courtroom of all boys under 18 years of age and presented the opportunity for women to leave. Many of the latter fled from the hall of justice. One, however, remained, the accused slayer's mother, Plummer Port, the husband of the murdered woman, was the first witness. Railroad Officer Frank Ernest and Private Detective Port were also important witnesses for the State.

A full, written confession of the crime, in which Snyder admits assault as the motive, will be introduced as the Commonwealth's telling blow against the defendant. Upon whether or not the court will admit the confession as legitimate evidence apparently hinges the life of Adam Snyder. If the confession is admitted, there will be but one last plea to which the accused boy's counsel can resort—that is insanity.

SCARED MULE HURTS TWO

Father and Son Injured in Accident Near York Springs

Special to The Telegraph
Gettysburg, Pa., May 13.—Two persons were hurt and a number of others, all members of the family of Elmer Asper, Latimore township, had narrow escapes from injury in a runaway near York Springs. Mr. Asper sustained numerous cuts and bruises in an effort to stop the horse and mule, which were hitched to the vehicle, containing Mr. and Mrs. Asper, the latter an invalid, and their children. His son Henry, aged 17, was rendered unconscious while attempting to bring the animals to a stop. The mule became frightened at children playing in the road and bolted. Mr. Asper leaped out of the wagon to quiet it and was knocked down by the rearing and plunging animal. The horse scared at the actions of the other steed and became unmanageable also, and Henry, the son, was thrown and dragged when he tried to do what his father had failed in. Ruth, a daughter, leaped to safety with a little baby.
