THE ORTHODOX JEWS TO CONFIRM GIRLS

First Class of the Kind to Complete Instructions in Hebrew

For the first time in Harrisburg the Jewish orthodox congregation will hold confirmation services for girls. For several months past these young girls have regularly attended the Hebrew Educational Institute and received instruction in Hebrew, the customs and ethics of Judaism and Jewish history.

This class of fifteen girls and one boy includes the Misses Sara Abrams, Anna Lack, Rebecca Michelovitz, Rosa Lack, Florence Brodie, Lena Lapkin, Anna Greenburg, Bessie Frank, Fannie Williams, Sara Freedman, Jennie Freedman, Hilda Baturin, Mary Levin, Sophie Levin and Lena Koplovitz, with Harry Michelovitz.

The impressive service will be held in the Chisuk Emonah Synagogue, in Filbert street, to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rabbi Leon Abram will deliver the address and David Goldberg will be master of ceremonies. The interested public is invited to be present.

After the services Rabbi and Mrs. Abram will give a reception to the confirmation class at their residence, 218 Kelker street.

Dorothy D. Collicott Is Queen o' the May

DOROTHY D. COLLICOTT

Winning all four contests for the prettiest little girl at the May Day festival recently held in Pittsburgh, little Miss Dorothy Collicott was crowned "Queen o' the May" before an audience of 2,000 people.

Dorothy is but 2 years old, and as sweet as she is pretty. She is remembered here as the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Collicott, of 1621 Market street.
