PLAN SPEEDWAY AS STATE FAIR FEATURE

Keystone Association May Have Track Similar to That at Indianapolis

The world famous speedway at Indianapolis may have opposition in the East next year. The Keystone Fair Association of Harrisburg plans to have a speedway in connection with its fair project similar to that at Indianapolis.

At Indianapolis on Saturday the annual fifty-mile race will be held. Thousands of automobile enthusiasts will go to that city for this memorable event. Referring to the western speedway, P. P. Willis in the Philadelphia Press says:

"Aside from being a sportsmanship proposition of international importance, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway is a business enterprise, unique, and without a precedent in the world. It is a business venture that a few years ago caused friends of the four men responsible for it, to laugh at them because they had the courage of conviction to spend thousands of dollars to convert isolated corn fields into the world's greatest speed arena.

World's Greatest One-day Show

"The Speedway is the world's greatest one-day show. It is a "manufacturing" plant that must build and sell its produce one day out of every 365. The public pays the price of a litney to see a $15,000 movie film, where the expense of having two trains smash one another is incurred in order to furnish a thrill and the public thinks that this is a lot for the money. But a $15,000 film is not to be compared with the fabulous cost to produce and manage the eight hours' show at the Speedway.

"When a theatrical producer brings out a $50,000 show, Broadway sits up and takes notice. They think that the producer is some spender, but he is not in it when it comes to spending, as compared to the Speedway. More than a million dollars invested in the plant itself; every one of the forty cars worth at least $5,000; about one hundred drivers, relief drivers and mechanicans, at least worth $10,000 each; more than a quarter of million dollars in prizes will have been given away at the end of this, the fifth international 500-mile race, May 29. Add to this, the cost of the railroad system; the cost of tree; th

Philadelphia, May 25.—Regardless of what the showing is of the University of Pennsylvania track team in the coming intercollegiate, the honor of captaincy of next year's team is almost certain to fall upon James E. ("Ted") Meredith, the sensational runner and holder of the Olympic 880-meters championship.

Meredith is a junior and appears to be the logical person for the position. He is without doubt the most popular athlete in college, and, aside from this, carries the admiration of every athlete in the amateur ranks.

The speed demon is a graduate of Mercersburg Academy, having entered that school from Williamson Trades School.

School.

A banquet will be held in honor of the Penn track team Saturday evening following the intercollegiate races and the election of captain will take place at this festival. It is doubtful if any other track man will oppose Meredith.

Captain Hefflefinger; Tech High Relay Team

Persistency brought second high individual honors for Heffelfinger of Tech on Saturday. The captain of the winning relay team gave Beck a hard chase for honors. Heffelfinger was entered in the broad jump. Coach Hill requested this star to get out of this event and rest up for the sprints. Heffelfinger smiled, and walked away from the field. When his name was called, however, he took his trial. He jumped 20 feet, 6% inches. Heffelfinger won first place. This boy also scored first in the one hundred yards; made the gain that helped Tech win the relay, and won first in the two hundred and twenty yard dash.
