GOVERNOR SAYS "WATCH THE ROADS"

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fisher, of Sunbury, are in the city for a few days.

beauty spots of their own commonwealth.

In his statement the Governor said: "We have received reports from substantially all sections of the Commonwealth and have ascertained the fact that everywhere there was enthusiastic acceptance of the request to observe Good Roads Day and a spirit of earnest endeavor on the part of our people to help make the roads good."

This was precisely what I had hoped would be the result of my proclamation and I wish to thank all the good people of the Commonwealth who gave thought and time and labor to this enterprise.

"Moreover, it will make our own citizens better acquainted with our Commonwealth, its resources, and its possibilities, and in order that we may turn our attention to giving to the people the best possible return for their money."

"If we had a vigilance committee in every part of this Commonwealth and meetings of our people to discuss good roads, it would be easy to devise the means and secure the funds to make highways in all directions and opening up every part of this Commonwealth for the best possible enjoyment and use, not only of the stranger who comes within our gates, but of the citizen who abides here and whose welfare is contingent in a large way upon good avenues of approach for himself and his family to the cities and markets of their Commonwealth."
