

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN CITY'S CHURCHES

Patriotism to Be Keypnote of Sermons and Special Musical Programs

Memorial Day services in all denominations will be on a much larger and more elaborate scale than on any previous occasion, it is expected. Differences have given away at the call of patriotism, and the deeper and more appealing appeal of the national holiday of honor to the nation's dead.

Special music and decorations of flowers and bunting will be a feature of all services. Following are some of the sermon themes: "The Flowers and the Use of Memorial Day," and "The Nation's Tribute to Its Heroic Dead," at the Pleasant View Church of God, by the Rev. George W. Harper; "God's Noblemen" and "Hearts That are Brave," at the Rev. St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church by the Rev. Robert W. Two Days of Memorial

To-morrow the entire country celebrates the memory of those who in the days of '61 struggled in the great crisis that faced the country in those days. The holiday is national. Our commemoration is expressed in many ways. And a wonderful sentiment it is that we, the greatest nation of the world, lay aside our material life for the day and honor our fathers, the heroes of a terrific strife.

To-morrow is Sunday. It, too, is a memorial day. The memory of ONE MAN is then particularly honored. There may be days when the sacrifice made by our Saviour is more strongly felt, but every Sunday celebrates His sacrifice of self, that the world might have knowledge of promise and fulfillment of life Eternal in Him.

Our honoring of Him is not alone a duty, but the most glorious privilege invested in every one of us. The churches of this city unanimously desire that you know more about the ideals of your Saviour, and collectively send out to you this invitation.
