Wall Street's Point of View Regarding Note Reflected in Several Recessions

By Associated Press

By Associated Press

New York, June 1.—Wall Street's point of view regarding Germany's reply to this government was reflected in a number of sharp recessions on the resumption of operations to-day. Losses ran from 1 to 3 points, war specialties naturally scoring greater declines, but standard railways fell to 1½ points. All the trading was in moderate amounts, with no indication of urgent liquidation. There were fractional rallies after the first decline, but these were succeeded by another setback after which trading became dull.

AUTOS CLUTTER THE FARMS It is a conservative statement to make that there is not a rural hamlet where there is not at least one automobile owned by a farmer; most times there are several. These are not always for pleasure. As a matter of fact, I suppose it would be the exception where there was not more or less utility combined with pleasure. The carryall and market auto is frequently seen, taking the milk or light produce to market in the morning and the family to a nearby neighbor or to town in the evening, or to the church on the Sabbath.—Christian Herald. AUTOS CLUTTER THE FARMS in the evening, or to the chu the Sabbath.—Christian Herald.
