ADVERTISING IN THE CIRCULATION

Governor Says They Go Together in His Veto of the Legal Advertisement Bill

In vetoing the House bill to extend to counties having over 100,000 population the law requiring legal advertisements to be published in the legal newspapers published at least once a week Governor Brumbaugh declared "There is no such thing as a legal newspaper in contradistinction from all other lawfully existing newspaper concerns." This veto was one of five announced last night and in the course of it the Governor says "Why should one newspaper have this business? Why stifle honest competition? Why play favorites? The legal and other public advertising should follow the channels of circulation approved by the business concerns of a county, for the latter will always put their advertising where it will do the most good. So should the commonwealth. Let this matter to the honest, open competition of all legitimate channels of advertising. I have yet to hear from anyone that wants this bill approved. I would veto it even if I had. It is not American in spirit."

The Governor also vetoed the House bill increasing salaries of deputy sheriffs in Allegheny county, saying: "It is unwise to have the Legislature fix increases of salaries without the knowledge and consent of the citizens who pay the bill." The Governor also says that the sheriff should have complete control of deputies.

The bill to allow farmers to peddle their own products in boroughs was vetoed because the borough code covers the subject and that validating acts of corporations before recording of charters disapproved as too broad. The bill validating titles to lands sold for nonpayment of county taxes was vetoed with these words: "Why should property be sold for taxes if there is no lien? The claimant should be held as the always has been by the courts to proof of a strict compliance on the part of officials with every step necessary to make good a title. When an official fails to enter a lien the official should be disciplined by law, but should not be worked to relieve him from the penalty of his official carelessness."

Governor Brumbaugh announced last night his approval of the Welsh House bill providing a code for reporting, quarantining and controlling contagious and infectious diseases. The act covers numerous diseases and establishes various quarantine periods for diseases, as well as requiring immediate reports. The act is a general one and defines the powers of health officers.

The Governor also approved these House bills: Enlarging powers of State Livestock Sanitary Board to include inspection service and regulating handling of meat products. Providing for reciprocity in pharmaceutical licenses. Authorizing adoption of an amortized basis for valuing the bond investments of life insurance companies or fraternal beneficiary societies.

Amending county auditors' act so that $1,000 shall be minimum salary. Requiring second class cities to establish pension funds for employees and regulating administration thereof. Establishing municipal liens for curbing in boroughs.

Authorizing State Commissioner of Health to accept donations of section of chapels at State sanatoria at Creson and Hamburg.

Requiring probationaries to provide an ad section index. Fixing salaries of clerks in Department of Public Instruction at $1,800 and messenger at $1,200.

Requiring all State officials and employees who handle State money to give bonds. Refunding $291.23 to Paul C. Wolff, executor of Thomas H. Lane estate, for collateral inheritance tax erroneously paid.

Permitting the Commonwealth to intervene in any proceeding at law or equity in which the State may have an interest without giving security.

Authorizing Charles H. Steiner, of Green township, Franklin county, to sue the State for damages alleged to have been caused by construction of a dam for the Scotland Soldiers' Orphan's School.

What Leads to Tuberculosis?

In the opinion of many medical authorities, the development of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) is hastened, if not actually precipitated, by a loss of time from the system. "Where there is a decalcification, the lime salts must be supplied medicinally," says Dr. J. W. Carhart, of San Antonio, Texas, in the May, 1913, issue of "Medical Progress."

To supply these necessary salts has, in many instances, proved a difficult matter, since in some forms they are not easily assimilable. In Eckman's Alternative, however, calcium (lime) is so combined with other remedial agents as to be assimilated by the average person without digestive disturbance, and to this, in part, is due the success of this remedy in the treatment of tuberculosis and chronic throat and bronchial affections. We make no boastful claims for Eckman's Alternative, but a careful record of results obtained during years of widespread use warrants the assertion that many such cases apparently have yielded to it.

It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, hence its use is not attended with danger. Your druggist has it or will order it, or you can send direct.

Southwestern County Forms a Permanent Organization to Keep Up Its Highway System

Fayette county has given a good example to the State in the following up of the recent Good Roads day observance. The Uniontown Herald says: "A permanent organization to be known as the Fayette County Good Roads Association is to be the outgrowth of the Good Roads day movement on last Wednesday in this county. Men who were in charge of the Good Roads day arrangements have become enthusiastic over the scheme, and it is probable that meetings will be held in several sections of the county during the summer to promote such an organization. Following the establishment of the Farm Bureau here with an agricultural expert in charge, it is planned to organize the Good Roads Association in conjunction with it."
