PRESIDENT'S REPLY IS PRESENTED TO CABINET

been invited by the President to accompany the secretary. All the cabinet members uniformly refused to discuss the subject as they entered the meeting. While the President and the members were discussing the note a German agent was on his way to Berlin to present a first hand report interview which Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, had yesterday with President Wilson.

Will Not Discuss Development

Officials at the German embassy refused to discuss that development, but it became known authoritatively that Meyer Gerhardt, who sailed from New York yesterday for Copenhagen on the steamer United States with a guarantee of safe conduct obtained by the American government from the allies, is the man. He is an attaché of the German colonial office and has been in the United States several months representing the German Red Cross. He goes to Berlin to present first hand the views of the American government as Count Bernstorff got them from President Wilson. Difficulties of communication through the war zone the German embassy feels, have delayed the Berlin foreign office in putting a full light on the American position.

Express Confidence

The dispatch of the envoy was the basis of much confidence in German quarters here, where it was believed an understanding on submarine warfare satisfactory to both Germany and the United States could be evolved. His task, however, is realized as different one because feeling among German officials and people, according to reliable advices here has been that the American government was seeking to deprive Germany of its chief weapon of offense—the submarine.

To-day's cabinet meeting began with all members practically agreed that the United States cannot consider the German reply responsive, and must insist before the diplomatic correspondence can proceed further upon an affirmative or negative answer to the principle that lives of noncombatants cannot lawfully be imperilled on the high seas, but must be transferred to safety before a legitimate prize is destroyed.

May Sever Relations

The purpose of the United States is to keep its rejoinder on the same plane as the note of May 13 to ascertain definitely whether Germany will be guided by the principles of law and humanity. Should a negative answer be received diplomatic relations, it generally is believed, could not be continued. An affirmative reply would be in the nature of a guarantee against further violations of American rights in the war zone and would make possible a discussion of the facts in individual cases that have occurred.

Von Bernstorff's Agent Leaves United States

The American point of view, briefly, is not the complete abandonment of submarine warfare but of its modification to such an extent as would make non-combatants act as do other warships in dealing with the enemy's commerce. Some arrangement whereby merchant ships carrying passengers would be definitely known as unarmed vessels is one of the proposals which it is generally suggested might make the submarine able to exercise the right to visit and search.

Mr. Gerhardt's accommodations aboard the vessel were engaged by wireless less than two hours before sailing time. Mr. Gerhardt reached the pier about five minutes before the vessel cast off. Until the receipt of the telegram officials of the Scandinavian-American line, owners of the steamer, knew nothing of his plans to sail.

Official documents bearing the embassy or consular seal of Great Britain, Russia and France, giving him guarantee against molestation by officers of the allies' warships while on the way were in his possession. Otherwise, it was said, he would not have been permitted to take passage as the line has been at great pains to exclude from its passenger list any one whose name or connections might cause delays or attention of the ship by war vessels enroute to her destination.

Mr. Gerhardt registered under his own name, giving his home as New York city. Whether he is an American citizen was unknown. He carried, in addition to the official documents signed by representatives of the allies' governments, official papers signed by American, German and Austrian authorities, the nature of which was not ascertained to-day. It was assumed however, that the German and Austrian documents were his credentials to the German government.

At the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, where Count Bernstorff stays when in New York, it was said to-day, that Mr. Gerhardt had been registered there but had left yesterday saying that he was going to Washington. His quarters at the hotel were still being held for him to-day.

Von Jagow Intimates Germany Will Not Give Up Submarine Attacks

By Associated Press

Berlin, June 4, via London, 12.10 P. M.—The Kreuz Zeitung, in its issue of to-day, publishes the substance of the interview given to the Associated Press May 30 by Gottlieb Von Jagow, imperial foreign secretary on Germany's answer to the Washington note concerning the Lusitania case, in which the secretary said he believed it essential to establish a common basis of fact before entering upon a discussion of the issues involved.

This is done, the paper explains, on the strength of the report reaching Berlin from the Reuter Telegram Company, of London, that the "forthcoming American note to Germany foreshadows a severance of diplomatic relations with Germany."

Continuing the Kreuz Zeitung says: "We want to remind America once more that Great Britain bears the responsibility for the submarine war. Germany would have stopped it had Great Britain been willing to give up her war of starvation. At one time America could have exerted pressure on Great Britain to this end, but it did not do so."

"Now that the war of starvation has failed, America coming forward with the unusual proposal that we shall stop the submarine war. Naturally there can be no talk of this. Foreign Secretary Von Jagow has pointed out what can be done for the safety of American passengers and American ships. Americans again have been shown the way to reconciliation and the protection of their real interests."

"But it appears, if one may trust the reports about the new note, that they do not wish to find this way, but rather they desire to lend their moral support to Great Britain, in whose interests they long ago gave up neutrality. Let them do it, the value of diplomatic relations with the United States has to us become rather imaginary."

Five Rioters Killed in Mexico by an Italian

Laredo, Tex., June 4.—Tales of hunger riots, wanton looting and bloodshed subsequent to the evacuation of Monterey by Villa troops were told to-day by passengers arriving here from that city. Five rioters were killed and 12 wounded, it is declared by Rafael Ferrigno, an Italian subject, when a mob attempted to raid his tailoring establishment. Ferrigno is said to have been imprisoned.

REVOLUTIONISTS ACTIVE

Cape Haitien, June 4.—Hostilities between the revolutionists and the federal forces are still going on. The most recent developments are the capture of Fort Vertices and Fort Pierre Michel by the federals. The attack on Fort Belair is proceeding.

HOW THE ISLAND COAL WHARF WILL LOOK WHEN COMPLETED

In the accompanying sketch is conveyed some idea of the plan in detail of what the Harrisburg Light and Power Company's coal wharf on the island will look like when completed. The two little houses which will be decorated to conform attractively to the background of greenery and the foreground of water will house, respectively the machinery that will swing the booms and the "hooper" or receptacle for receiving all coal as it is hoisted from the flats. The plan was submitted by Henry C. Pelton, the company's architectural engineer, at the recent conference of the Planning Commission, the Park Commissioner and Park Expert Manning.

EXPECT TO COMPLETE WHARF IN TWO WEEKS

but the weather prevented the trip until to-day.

The concrete wall and the thousands of yards of "fill" behind the wall has all been placed and the carpenters and riggers are putting the finishing touches to the machine houses and "hopper" and erecting the great booms that will hoist the coal from the flats. The main boom of the derrick is 46 feet high and the boom that will swing out over the water will be 52 feet long. The booms are of single piece 20-inch fir timbers which had been brought from the forests of Oregon. The "clam" shovel which will scoop up the coal weighs more than half a ton and has a capacity of a ton and a half.

Construction of the macadam roadway which will lead from the wharf all the way to the Market street bridge is well under way and is being put in by the company. While the little houses on the wharf will be painted green and planted with vines, a lot of willows will be placed on the filled-in ground below the landing place. The broad expanse of dead white caused by the coating of the concrete wharf will be gradually turned to harmonize with the color of the surrounding greenery and the water with the action of the rains and rising streams.

DOCTORS OPPOSE MAYO GIFT

St. Paul, June 4.—The affiliation agreement between the $2,000,000 Mayo foundation and the University of Minnesota probably will be signed within the next fortnight. Despite strong opposition by practitioners throughout Minnesota the university board of regents has gone ahead with its negotiations and after two more public hearings probably will close the contract calling for a six year test period for the affiliation. The opposition appears to come almost wholly from the physicians of Minnesota.

Daniels Predicts Great Future For Aircraft

By Associated Press

Annapolis, Md., June 4.—Prediction that the war aircraft of the not distant future will be as fearful engines of destruction as the dreaded undersea craft was made by Secretary Daniels in addressing the graduating class of the Naval Academy here to-day.

"What we have seen in these eagle wings and eagle eyes of the army and navy," he said, "is but the dawn of the coming day when we shall make the heavens carry our war craft as easily as we navigate the sea with our dreadnaughts."

Secretary Daniels spoke of the marvelous development of the submarine, and drew a lesson from the European war in pointing out that the graduates in order to attain high place of honor must possess, in addition to other indispensable, mastery.

AN OFFICER'S LIFE, 23 DAYS

Special to The Telegraph

London, June 4.—It has been figured out that the average life of the British officer when once he has reached the firing line is only twenty-three days.

It has been figured out that a cavalry horse only lasts ten days in actual fighting and an automobile about a month.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are caused out of ten due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisulphated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach, but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus relieving the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisulphated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement.
