(These photographs were taken by reflected light.) ### Ship Returns Without Consignment of Arms

London, June 4.—A dispatch from Stockholm to the Morning Post says: "The Swedish steamer Pan has returned to a Swedish port without her cargo of rifles. The captain of the steamer explained that he was deceived by the Germans, who had promised him a safe passage through the Kaiser Wilhelm canal. The Swedish government regrets its inability to take steps to punish the offenders, as the offense was committed without the jurisdiction of the Danish authorities."

SCHOONER'S CREW RESCUED
London, June 4, 4.09 A. M.—The crew of the Danish timber schooner Salvador, which was sunk by a submarine Wednesday night, landed yesterday at Lerwick, Scotland. After ordering the schooner's crew into boats the submarine set fire to the vessel and also shot away the stern with two shells.

STATE CONTROL IS TO BE PROTECTED

Governor Not Favorable to Bills That Would Disregard Public Service Board

Governor Brumbaugh to-day announced the veto on June 1 of the Senate bill to permit water or light companies to purchase bonds or stock of other companies. The Governor says: "This bill is a supplement of the act of March 24, 1905. It extends the provisions of said act to corporations incorporated for the purpose of supplying light, heat and power, or any of them, by electricity to the public. If this bill became a law it could be argued that a water company or an electric light, heat and power company could acquire a controlling interest in the stocks, bonds and securities of another public service company without the consent of the Public Service Commission. They cannot now do so. They should not be allowed to do so. To release any of the powers now conferred by law upon the Public Service Commission to the free and unregulated action of corporations is to that extent a surrender of the control and regulation now in the hands of the State to private interested hands. It is better to have State regulation and supervision than that the rights of the people may be conserved."

The Governor also announced vetoes of the House bill to permit certain municipalities to issue refunding bonds because another bill approved meets the provisions and vetoes the House bill to increase a pension paid to J. H. Pershing. On the latter bill he said that it was a second attempt to increase a pension granted in 1897, and that while the soldier is no doubt worthy, there are others not included in the bill. The Governor also vetoed the bill repealing several hundred obsolete laws, saying that some of them were desired to be retained by State officials. He signed the bill creating a bureau of municipal information in the Department of Labor and Industry. A bill creating a similar bureau in the Legislature Reference Bureau was vetoed several days ago. The bill providing that funds of institutions receiving State aid shall be kept in banks which have been approved as depositories by the State Revenue Commission has been approved.

LATE WAR NEWS

Fortress Evacuated After Munitions Were Removed

By Associated Press
Petrograd, via London, June 4, 8.40 A. M.—Russian troops on the fronts to the north and west of the fortress of Przemyśl evacuated their positions Wednesday night after the war materials taken from the Austrians had been removed, according to an official statement issued last night by the Russian general staff. It is explained that after the capture of Jaroslau and Radymno by the Austro-German forces they began to spread along the west bank of the San, making the fortress of Przemyśl untenable. The Russians contend they realized from the first that Przemyśl was incapable of defending itself.

Mask of Bryan's Face Completed by Borglum

Special to The Telegraph
Washington, June 4.—Secretary of State Bryan has had made a mask of his face and a cast of his right hand. The work was by Gutzon Borglum, the famous sculptor, who did a colossal head of Abraham Lincoln, displayed in the rotunda of the Capitol, and the figures of the 12 Apostles in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, New York city. Mr. Bryan showed the mask and cast to visitors to-day. The mask makes him look older, and closely resembles the likeness of Daniel Webster. As he was showing the hand, some one said to him: "That is a fine bust of your hand, Mr. Secretary." Mr. Bryan may have the face cut in marble later, but has not determined whether he will allow himself to be perpetuated in stone.

Deputy Sheriff Is Stabbed in Quarrel

Uniontown, Pa., June 4.—Accused of having stabbed Deputy Sheriff Martin F. Murphy in the back with a stiletto, Charles F. Kefover, a wealthy attorney, appeared before Justice John C. Reisinger and waived a hearing. Deputy Sheriff Murphy was stabbed, according to the information, on May 1. It is said that the lawyer entered the sheriff's office during business hours while several other deputies were there. He and Murphy had some words and Murphy is said to have threatened to put him out of the office. Kefover, it is alleged, told him that he could not do it, and Murphy walked from behind the counter and seized the lawyer by the arm. Kefover then drew a stiletto from his pocket, it is charged, and stabbed Murphy in the back, the blade piercing his flesh at a depth of about one and three-quarter inches.
