SHOWER THE DRONES WITH KITCHENWARE

Guests Stealthily Arrive at Their Penbrook Home With Useful Gifts

When Walter Gordon Drane regrettably informed his wife last evening upon their return from dinner in town, that he had forgotten his key and that they would necessarily have to get into their home via the rear door, Mrs. Drane never suspected that she was unexpectedly to be hostess to a big party of Harrisburg friends a few minutes later. The first tip she had was when she got into the darkened kitchen and almost stepped into several long clotheslines hung with all sorts of tin and kitchenware stretched across the room. And when the lights were switched on, the big crowd of guests added whoops of surprise. To further emphasize the visit they banged and jangled the gifts. Hence the kitchen shower that was given Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gordon Drane at the bungalow Penbrook, was some kitchen shower. During the evening there was dancing and a lot of games and music and sometime before this morning refreshments were served.

Mechanical Engineer Has Had Wide Experience

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Garman, of 1606 Penn street, leave to-morrow afternoon for State College to witness the final commencement exercises of the 1915 class, with which their son Warren D. Garman graduates after completing a four years' course in mechanical engineering.

Mr. Garman, during his early school days was a member of the corps of carriers of the Telegraph. He was graduated from the Central high school in the class of 1911, and worked for several years in the drafting department of the bridge and construction department of the Pennsylvania Steel company. Early in 1906 he went to Arizona and learned the mechanical trade in the repair shops of the United Verde Copper Company in Jerome, and at the smelting plant of the Southern Arizona Smelting Company at Sasco. Mr. Garman traveled for a time in Mexico before returning to Harrisburg, and worked a year for the Harrisburg Foundry and Machine Company before entering State College with the class of 1911. During this summer vacation he has worked for the General Electric Company in the gasoline engine testing department at the Erie, Pa., plant.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Fahnestock and the Misses Fahnestock are getting their country place at Lucknow, ready for summer occupancy. Miss Janet Sawyer entertained yesterday afternoon in compliment to her house guest, Miss Katharine Harrison of Montclair, N. J.

Kindergarten Alumni Association Meeting

The annual meeting of the Froebel Kindergarten Alumni Association was held last evening in the Barrington schoolrooms at Second and State streets, when diplomas were awarded to Miss Gertrude May Burch, Miss Ruth Margaret Lappley and Miss Sara Anne Muth.

After the routine exercises refreshments were served, with the table appointments of green and white and roses galore. The favors were butterflies with little gifts hidden away in their wings.

In attendance were Miss Evelyn Barrington, Miss Katharine Dean, Miss Margaretta Rutherford, Mrs. Jay C. Saltzgriver, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Long, Miss Edna Sprengle, Miss Mabel Stites, Miss Burch, Miss Lappley and Miss Muth.

QUESTIONS TO COME BEFORE BRETHREN

service, after which Elder B. F. Petry preached a sermon on "The Man of the Hour."

The Bible conference also met at 2 o'clock. Dr. T. T. Myers, of Juniata College, delivered a message on "Faith and Repentance." It was followed by Professor E. B. Hoff, of Chicago, Ill., who gave a blackboard talk on "Christian Service." The splendid expositions of the Word by these eminent ministers were greatly appreciated, not only by the delegates of the conference, but by many others in this community who are regular in their attendance. The Bible conference will close this afternoon.

An Aged Veteran

One of the most prominent figures at the Brethren conference is Elder D. L. Miller, who has probably done more to further the mission cause of the church than any other man in the denomination. He has traveled extensively in Europe, Asia and Africa and has written a number of books describing his travels.

New Moderator

Elder Henry C. Early, of Penn Laird, Va., who was chosen as the moderator on Thursday morning, is not a new man in the work, having filled the position several times before. He is considered one of the ablest moderators of the church, being a good parliamentarian, of sound judgment, even temper, not easily confused, thus making him capable to go through trying times of the conference without criticism. He is chairman of the general mission board and a member of the educational board.

Personnel of Standing Committee

The standing committee, which in session three times daily, is composed of the following:

Arkansas, B. E. Kesler.
California, Northern, J. Harman Steyer.
California, Southern, and Arizona, Edward Frantz.

Texas and Louisiana, Samuel Badger.

QUESTIONS TO COME BEFORE BRETHREN

The standing committee of the conference has an arduous task to perform. This committee, which meets daily in one of the rooms of the convention hall, has to get all the business in proper shape for action by the conference. Every question or petition from local churches or districts must pass through this committee. While the body is not a secret affair, yet the sessions are private and no one is supposed to know what is taken on any matter until it is ready for public announcement. This committee is made up of at least one member from each State district, and is composed of fifty-five members.

Questions for Discussion

A number of important questions will come up for discussion at the local church to select the ones of these which by the Brethren is considered of vital importance, is the rebaptism question. According to the rule of the church, immersion is the accepted mode of baptism, and no one can be admitted to church fellowship without having the rite administered by an authorized minister of the Brethren Church. A large number of the delegates favor the amending of this rule so that any person having had the rite administered in the time act by any minister of any denomination may be received without a second baptism. This question has been discussed before the conference for a number of years, but never definitely disposed of.

Another question that will provoke considerable discussion is that of ministerial selection, distribution and support. The old custom has been for the local church to select the ministers and there was no such thing as a paid ministry. Since the church has grown and developed new conditions have arisen which have made the old plan insufficient.

Conference Personal

The Rev. Ross D. Murphy, secretary of General Mission Board, is one of the delegates. He has recently traveled in Southern Ohio, and his headquarters are at Elgin, Ill.

Elder D. M. Garver, of Dayton, Ohio, has arrived.

Elder Frank Fisher, of Mexico, Ind., last year's moderator, is present. He is superintendent of a large orphanage.

Elder W. H. Barklow, of Myrtle Point, Oregon, accompanied by his wife, were the first arrivals at the conference.

The Rev. S. P. Berkebile, pastor of the Logan Church, near Bellefontaine, Ohio, who is present at the con-### reference, spent several years as a missionary in India.

Elder S. W. Garver, of Decatur, Ill., is here. He is one of the active evangelists of Southern Illinois.

One of the prominent women attending the sessions is Mrs. Catherine E. VanDyke, of Chicago. She has charge of the mothers' meetings, the first of which was held on Thursday afternoon.

Dr. D. Webster Kurtz, accompanied by his wife and son, president of McPherson College, Kansas, are also in attendance at the sessions. Dr. Kurtz was for a number of years pastor of the Brethren church at Philadelphia.

He is a member of the standing committee.

The Rev. A. D. Bowman, of Wrennath, Wash., arrived from his extreme western home on Wednesday. He was a member of the committee that looked after interests of last year's delegates at Seattle, Wash.

I. N. H. Beahm, of Dalouville, Va., also a member of the standing committee, is here for the conference.

Banks Light, of Howe, Ind., a native of this State; Elder W. F. England, of Lordsburg, Cal.; Elder D. H. Zeigler, of Broadway, Va., and Elder John W. Fidler, of Brookville, Ohio, are among the recent arrivals.
