TORIC Getting Most Out of Life

For the man or woman who wants to get the most possible out of life, perfect vision is essential.

That is the reason Toric lenses are so popular. They give the wide-angle vision of the natural eye, and avoid the various drawbacks of the ordinary "flat" lenses, the cost is very little more, nothing in fact compared to the extra service.

GERMAN SUBMARINES SINK NEUTRAL SHIPS

General Cadorna, Italian chief of staff, said in a report from the front last night that the Italians were making methodical progress all along the frontier, taking possession of important positions. Apparently the main body of invading forces has not yet crossed the Isonzo river, along the line north of the Gulf of Trieste, but Gen. Cadorna stated strong detachments had entrenched themselves on the further side, meeting little opposition. Forces which crossed the river near Tolmino now menace that point, which is of great strategic importance.

Austrians Successful
Reports from Vienna say the Austrians have been successful in several minor engagements with the Italians. Although there has been sharp fighting at various points the Austrians are still postponing the decisive battle, which is expected soon.

Official advice from Petrograd gives definite statements concerning the situation in Galicia. It is admitted, however, that the Austro-German forces succeeded in crossing the Danube river near Zuranov and apparently the Russians are still falling back on most of this front.

A German victory almost as striking as that in Galicia is said in Berlin to have been won in the Baltic provinces, which were invaded several weeks ago by the Germans. The Russian resistance is said to have broken down. A Petrograd dispatch, however, asserts the Russians were victorious in the bitterest battle of this campaign, fought for control of the Dubya river. It is said the fighting was so fierce and deadly that the river was choked with bodies of the dead.

insurance agents. These agents are required by law to pay a license through the State Insurance Department. To make this clear and to overcome the law of 1911 reorganizing the insurance department prohibits local license fees. The Clark act repealed this. Monday afternoon was the time fixed by the program committee for the great annual missionary meeting of the General Missionary Board. The sermon was preached by Elder D. L. Miller, of Mt. Morris, Ill., one of the oldest ministers of the denomination. He chose for his text "Christ is the Light of the World." He held the close attention of the vast audience of about four thousand people. The offering for "Helping Hands" taken after which missions were going missionaries to China and India were introduced to the audience. Miss Elizabeth Kline, of Elizabethton, Va., sang "The Light of the World." The choir, then led the audience in singing, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go," at the close of which the audience was dismissed.

The service from 7 to 9 o'clock last evening was devoted to the subject of education. The following was the program: "The Problem of Our Young People," by Paul Bowman; "How to Adopt a Child," by W. A. More Fully to the Life Needs of Our People," by D. Webster Kurtz, D. D., of McPherson College, Kansas; "The Question of the Educated Men and Women Owe to the Church," by John S. Flory; "Why Should the Brethren Church Endow Their Colleges?" by John Heckman. This service was held in the evening at the new band stand a sermon was preached by W. S. Bouch, of Philadelphia, Pa., on the subject, "The Abundant Life in Service."

EX-SEN. CAMERON TO CHANGE TRUST DEED

he made last year, controlling all his real estate and personal property, except his home at Harrisburg. Judge Ralston acted favorably on a petition seeking to reform the trust, and suggested that a form of decree be submitted for his approval.

It was desired to change the deed so that the trustees may be empowered to assume the obligations of the former Senator as endorser of notes of the Elliott-Fisher Company, aggregated $285,000. Cameron is interested in this company to the extent of $700,000, but through an oversight no provision was made in the deed of trust empowering the trustees to grant extensions and renewals of the company's notes.

It was explained that the Elliott-Fisher Company is solvent and actively engaged in business. In a reasonably short time the concern will be able to pay all its indebtedness. At present, however, the holders of the notes demand immediate payment; the company would be compelled to sacrifice a valuable part of its property.

Cameron, it was further explained, created the trust so he might be relieved of the trouble and worry of looking after his estate. The sole beneficiaries in the deed are Mr. Cameron during his lifetime and his children and grandchildren thereafter.

you can depend that your powers of food assimilation are defective. Thin people absorb just enough of their food to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Most of the fat making, food nourishment passes from their bodies as waste. Such people need something that will prepare the fat making elements in their meals so that their blood can absorb them and deposit them all about the body. history of the model town. He expressed a feeling of welcome and told of the daily endorsed Governor Brumbaugh in his fight for local option.

The moderator said that the town and surrounding territory might be unable to furnish sufficient quarters, but all have been cared for and there is room for all late arrivals. While the work of the conference was an arduous task, yet an encouraging feature in the work of caring for such a throng was the willingness with which all responded to the needs.

Yesterday morning the services in the Convention Hall began at 9 o'clock with a Sunday school program. Addresses were delivered as follows: "The Efficiency of a Sunday School of Officers and Teachers," by J. Carson Miller, of Virginia; "Its Interest in Conventions and Institutes," by M. C. Swigart, of Pennsylvania; "The Use of the Bible and Literature," by Charles L. HORRID OLD LIGHT SPOILS EVERYTHING!

placed back of that word "improved" by some of the fairer residents of Second street immediately after the light was installed. Last evening, through their big brothers and their fathers, they voiced these objections by petitioning council to remove the light. Eleven names were signed, and this is the reason the petition gave:

"Reason: Simply impossible to spend a pleasant evening on a front porch on account of the rays from this light."

But Steelton's councilmen are all married and, according to one of the girls, they are past—well, past that age in which they can enjoy the company of a pretty Miss on a broad, shady front porch with only the moon for a chaperon.

Accordingly, amid much laughter, council just "laid on the table" the petition. So still the baneful glare of the horrid lamp will shine on—Until women vote!

STEELETON MIDDLETOWN ENHANCEMENT ROYALTON OBERLIN ENHAUT &

BIG FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION CERTAIN

Council Appropriates $100 Toward It; Tax Rate Unchanged; Light Ordinance Passed

Council's Action in Last Evening's Session

Fix tax rate at 9 1/2 mills, same as last year.
Decide not to repair filter plant lease.
Pass finally ordinance changing street lighting system.
Order thorough study of motor fire apparatus cost.
Appropriate $100 for Fourth of July celebration.
Authorize police station repairs, requested by Wigfield.
Appoint Edward Lewis plumbing inspector and Board of Health secretary at $80 a month.
Ask ordinance committee to draw new ordinance for Health Board.

Tax Rate Unchanged
The ordinance changing the location and type of street lights was passed finally in its amended form, after a short debate council decided to cut out all the arc and gas lamps in the borough with the exception of a few in Front street between Elm and Angle alley. All other lamps will be replaced by 100 candle power incandescents. As the ordinance now stands, the many new lamps have been added, the lighting of the entire borough has been improved and several hundred dollars has been saved annually.

President Reynders reported that the saving to be derived from repairing a leak at No. 3 filter would be almost negligible at the present rate of water consumption. Council then decided not to make the repairs at the present time and rescinded last month's action authorizing a loan for this purpose.

Colonel Rull's declaration that Villa's troops had withdrawn from Leon to Lasos, 28 miles north, and that fighting had been resumed when General Obregon attacked the retreating Villa forces was hard to explain, at least partly the conflicting reports of Obregon and Villa forces that emanated from various sources in the last two days. Observers here were inclined to believe that neither side gained a decisive advantage.

In capturing Silao last week, Villa used 7,000 cavalry, according to Rull's statement and forced 10,000 Obregon troops to retreat in scattered groups toward Irapuato, Panjamo, La Piedad and Guana La Jara. Rull maintains that Villa captured and retains quantities of munitions taken at Silao.

System Used in Giving Out Examination Questions
Annapolis, June 8.—From the opening day's testimony before the naval court of inquiry detailed by Secretary Daniels to investigate the "roguing" scandal at the Naval Academy, it was indicated that a "system" of supplying "dope" as advance information on examinations is called in naval parlance will be uncovered. Also that this "system" had been in vogue for years and that many additional midshipmen may become involved.

A tutor was mentioned frequently in the testimony given before the academy investigation as having passed out information.

This veteran, S. B. Lamb, of Harrisburg, has added to the excessive use of tobacco for many years. He wanted to quit but needed something to help him.
