ESCHEAT BILL IS SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

Is Revenue Raiser; Approves Nine Other Measures and Vetoes Five

Governor Brumbaugh announced today that he has signed the escheat bill framed by Attorney General Brown and which is one of the revenue raisers passed by the Legislature.

By provisions of this law the State will get all bank deposits unclaimed for seven years and all interest or dividends payments that have not been claimed for six years, but the owner of any escheated money may have the same refunded within ten years by proving his claim to the State.

The law applies to deposits of money or property received for storage or safe keeping, the dividends, profits, debts and interest on debt of corporations, companies, banks, trust companies, insurance companies, limited partnerships and partnership associations organized under the laws of the State, except mutual saving fund societies and building and loan associations. Reports are required of all such companies concerning moneys on deposit and heavy penalties are provided for violations.

Other Bills Signed

The Governor also signed nine other bills and vetoed five. Other bills signed:

Supplement to act of May 23, 1887, regulating the practice in trials on actions of debt instituted under the terms of the act framed, which secured to laborers within the State benefit of the exemption laws.

Regulating the legal business of the Commonwealth and the employment of attorneys and defining the duties of the various departments, bureaus, boards, agents and commissions, bringing the legal business of the State entire under the supervision of the Attorney General's department and giving that official power to select all special officers.

Making it lawful for attorneys, officers, clerks, servants and employees or persons otherwise hired to receive compensation for life insurance on the lives of their clients, partners, employers, etc., and fixing penalty for violation.

Fixing the salary of the deputy chief of the Department of Mines at $3,500 per year.

Increasing the salary of the chief of the Department of Mines from $4,000 to $5,000 a year.

Defining "conditional sales," regulating the manner and form in which they may be made and providing blank form of legal contract, together with penalties for violation.

Bringing the soldiers of any American war, whether relieved from duty or honorably discharged, within the meaning of the law governing the burial of soldiers, sailors and marines at the expense of the State, if they die or have legal residence at time of death.

Permitting the boroughs of the State to organize a State association for purpose of holding annual meetings and providing for the representation of each borough in said association.

Rearranging State highway routes in Erie, Cambria, Allegheny, Clearfield and other western counties.

Bills Vetoed

Governor Brumbaugh vetoed the bill fixing the salaries of war severers and process servers in the office of the sheriff in counties containing a population of more than 1,400,000.

Permitting municipalities owning water works, electric light, heat and power plants to lease the same with the consent of the Public Service Commission. The Governor gives these reasons: "The bill gives no hint as to the discretion to be exercised by the commission. Such unlimited and absolute power in a matter so vital to the welfare of the people of a municipality ought not to be given to any commission. It, moreover, in this particular, gives the commission power that is not given in Sections 18 and 19 of Article 5 of the public service law, relative to its present functions."

Amending act of May 11, 1911, providing for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures, on the ground that it eliminates the protection now given by law to the inspectors and is unanimously opposed by the officers concerned. The Governor says it is a movement toward the removal of the slight civil service protection the inspectors now enjoy and would place them wholly at the mercy of partisan politics.

Directing the State Armory Board to set aside in each armory rooms for the use of veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American Wars, on the ground that this would necessitate the erection of special rooms, "a thing impossible in some instances of accomplishment" and which would lead to contention and confusion.

Repealing the graded tax law of second class cities, because public opinion is against such repeal.

ALRICKS ASSOCIATION TO HOLD FINAL MEETING

The Alricks Association will hold its final meeting until Fall to-morrow night at St. Andrew's Parish House. The executive committee has announced that a smoker will be held in connection with the business meeting.

The business meeting will be about the most important that the association has held, as officers for the ensuing year will be elected and general plans for the future discussed. The evening will be brought to a close by an exhibition of colored lantern slides of roses and other June flowers by J. P. Braselmann.

GET POWER

The Supply Comes From Food

If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by selecting food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

"Not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs, I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach trouble," writes a lady from a little western town.

"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt to eat gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton and in time was compelled to keep to my bed."

"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I kept up on it. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed."

"All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain, disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 lbs., my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. Grape-Nuts did it."

"A ten days' trial will show anyone some facts about food."

INJURED FIREMAN TO WED IN YORK HOSPITAL.
The York Hospital will be the scene of a wedding this evening, when Hugh P. Cox, 316 Muench street, a fireman on the Middle Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who lost his leg in a railroad accident on May 25, takes Miss Florence Osborne, daughter of F. F. Osborne, 225 Hamilton street, as his bride. When the accident occurred friends of the couple tried to persuade them to postpone their wedding day, but this they refused. At the present time Mr. Cox is greatly improved but unable to move.

issued to-night at the Italian war office was as follows: "Reports received of the operations on June 7 and 8 show that the Italians in pursuing along the Isonzo river the task of dislodging the Austrians from strong natural positions and establishing bridge heads are displaying great bravery and tenacity in the face of heavy obstacles intensified by floods."

Women AND THEIR INTERESTS

"Their Married Life"

"Now you want to get something sensible," said Warren as they went up in the elevator.

"Not too sensible," said Helen; "we want something pretty."

"I hope you don't call the last stuff you bought pretty," Warren snorted.

"Well, I didn't think it was so bad, neither did Louise." Secretly Helen thought it was outside of Warren's range as regarded the house to make such a fuss about the pattern of the linoleum in the kitchen.

"Anything I can do for you, sir?" said a pert foreman in the usual manner. "Olecloths" this way, and he led them over to where the olecloths and linoleums were displayed.

"Nothing to say," said Warren decidedly, as the man unrolled some pretty blue olecloth with a terra cotta stripe. Helen like it immediately.

"But Warren, I think it is pretty," she said as the man was about to roll it out of reach.

"It's too light, and will show the dirt," said Warren.

"It isn't nearly as light as the one we have now," said Helen.

"No, and we don't want anything like we have now, either."

Helen felt like reminding Warren that they had bought olecloth last time at his instigation. She had wanted linoleum and Warren had balked at the price.

"Depend upon you to always want the most expensive," he had sneered as usual Helen had given in and the olecloth that she had thought a good pattern had come home and had been the topic of conversation ever since.

"We want something in linoleum," said Warren as the man brought out another olecloth, "nothing in olecloth, it doesn't wear and besides the linoleum looks much better on the floor." "I'd rather pay a good price in the beginning if I am going to get any wear out of it at all."

"We have a very handsome piece here," said the salesman, pulling out a roll and dusting off his hands furtively before displaying it. "It is very expensive, however," and he named the price that made Helen protest violently.

"Of course, we don't want it anywhere near so high," she said.

"Let's see the thing," said Warren interrupting.

"But, Warren, that's foolish; it isn't as if it were something that really mattered."

In silence the man brought out the blue linoleum. It really was a handsome piece, dark blue with a white dado around it. Helen could imagine how stunning it would look on the floor, but she hated to say anything because the price was so high.

"I suppose you don't like it," Warren said disagreeably. "But it's just the thing to make the kitchen look something like. We'll take this," he said in his most domineering way, as though Helen's advice was worth nothing at all in the matter.

"Be sure you have it up there on time, too," she heard him say. Sometimes she wondered if Warren really had any love left for her. He surely had a queer way of showing it.

50c Saved and Better Coal

Besides the money you save when you buy coal this month you get better quality.

It is easy to understand the reason. The slate and bone is picked out of the coal by boys in the coal breakers.

In summer there are not many orders and plenty of time is given the boys to do their work properly—hence, less slate and bone in the coal.

In winter, everybody wants coal. The dealer urges the shipper and the shipper hurries his mine superintendent.

Everyone is working at topmost speed. Hurry here, hurry there and little time given to take out impurities—the result slaty coal.

Better order now when the supply is good and the prices low.

FOR WEAR WITH FASHIONABLE FROCKS
A Petticoat Especially Adapted to the Full Skirts.
By MAY MANTON

8643 Five Gored Petticoat for Misses and Small Women, 16 and 18 years.

With the coming of the full skirts, petticoats were bound to return to favor. Here is one that is just full enough to be fashionable and it can be made with inverted plait or with gathers at the back and at the lower edge there can be arranged a circular or a gathered flounce or the petticoat can be left plain. With the circular flounce, it is a good model for the silks and satins that are used beneath many summer dresses and with the gathered flounce, it is especially adapted to the lawns, batistes and the like and the flounce can, of course, be of embroidery, of lace or of material trimmed. There are five gored that are shaped just sufficiently to give required fullness at the lower edge. When the inverted plait is used, the petticoat is perfectly smooth over the hips, but for a slender figure that requires fullness at the back, gathers are to be preferred.

For the 16 year size will be needed 3 1/2 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 2 1/2 yds. 36, 2 1/2 yds. 44, for the plain skirt, 2 yds. 27, 1 1/2 yds. 36, 1 yd. 44, for the circular flounce, 2 1/2 yds. of embroidery 11 in. wide, for the gathered flounce.

The pattern 8643 is cut in sizes for 16 and 18 years. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.
