Came to Her Rescue

From her home in Mountain Park, Oklahoma, Mrs. O. A. Strange writes to the Pinus laboratories:

"I am taking Fruitola and Traxo for gall-stones with good results. If it had not been that it came to my rescue, I would have been dead I am sure. I cannot say too much for Fruitola and Traxo."

Fruitola possesses properties that act directly upon the intestinal parts. It is a great system cleanser, softening the congested waste and disintegrating the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, and quickly expels the accumulation to the intense relief of the patient.

For the convenience of the public, arrangements have been made to supply Fruitola and Traxo through leading druggists, in Harrisburg they can be obtained at Gorgas, the Druggist, 16 North Third street, and P. R. R. Station.

To Recover $4,000 FROM STATE FOR 1914

[Continued from First Page.] for the years since 1901. At a conservative estimate each year may aggregate $2,000 or $3,000.

City Commissioner W. L. Gorgas, superintendent of finance and accounts to-day filed with the auditor general his amended statement setting forth the city's bonded debt for the year ending December 31, 1914, wherein he claims exemption from State taxes on bonds totaling $1,125,200, which at the four mill tax rate means just $4,500.80, which comes back to the city.

The theory upon which Mr. Gorgas bases his claim for credit for this amount of State tax paid in 1913, is that the city's bonds have already been taxed and that, therefore if the city pays the same mill rate, the State would be paid twice.

By the original statement filed the city is liable for $7,794.40 for the State tax for 1914, and by Mr. Gorgas' findings the city will be required to pay only $3,293.60.

As the auditor general has allowed this claim, Commissioner Gorgas thinks there is a good chance to recover the same amount and perhaps a little more of the tax paid in 1913. An effort to do this will be made by petitioning the Board of Public Accounts, consisting of the auditor general, the attorney general, and the State treasurer, to open the accounts for that year.

And if this venture is successful, then the city will further try to recover the overpaid back taxes of the bonded debt of the last thirteen years which at a conservative estimate is believed to be $2,000 or $3,000 yearly.

Plans for decorating the streets of the borough and a route for the big street parade on July 5, when Steelton will celebrate Independence Day, were formed at a joint meeting of the Merchants' Association committee with committees from the fire companies and various patriotic fraternal organizations last evening.

A call was issued to the merchants and citizens of the borough to cooperate with the committee in decorating the town. Everyone was urged to decorate their residence or place of business in a fitting manner.

Further plans for the big street parade which will be held in the afternoon were discussed. Assurances were given that many out-of-town fire companies will be present to parade and favorable reports were received from representatives of the borough's fraternal, patriotic and civic societies.

LIBRARY CODE IS SMITTEN BY AX

[Continued from First Page.] on the municipalities. The amount of taxation mandatory is excessive. It requires at least 1 mill on the dollar annually on all taxable property. But the fundamental objection is the provision for its administration. The municipal authorities, duly elected, are required to appoint a board of library trustees, which appointive board in turn has power to mandamus the elective body for the funds above recited. This idea has never been found practical or wise. The chosen officers of the people should not be compelled by a subordinate body to apply the people's money as the latter may desire.

The Governor vetoed the House bill relative to contracts for county bridges, which, the Governor says, would prohibit county commissioners from contracting for or repairing bridges without due advertisement, the employment of a competent engineer and submittal of plans to the Water Supply Commission. The Governor remarks that the limitation for employment of a competent engineer for bridges over seventy feet in length is unwise because smaller bridges may need engineers as much as others. He says: "The possibility of collusion on the part of bidders lurks in section 4 and section 3 practically introduces a new bridge law. The parties holding patents for concrete bridges would welcome this provision, but the people might not. The Commonwealth knows no favorites. Let all alike have an equal and open opportunity to compete for its business and that of its political units. The present law is ample to care for the problems visioned by this bill."

Other vetoes announced were: House bill amending acts relative to distribution of estates of intestates, which, the Governor says, contains provisions which are conflicting and irreconcilable and would lead to litigation. "Laws that are beneficent should remove cause for litigation," he concludes.

House bill granting second class cities eminent domain and certain powers over public service companies, which, the Governor holds, is unconstitutional in depriving of property without due process of law and would interfere with functions of the Public Service Commission.

House bill relative to garages on highways ten feet or more in width, which is vetoed because a similar bill was signed.

The Governor is expected to dispose of election bills to-morrow. The full crew repealer and ship canal bills may not be acted upon for several days.

Russ, 1420 North Second street, license No. 128558, and D. B. Hess, 1929 Boas street, license No. 4252, are charged with passing vehicles on the approach of the Mulberry street bridge.
