OPEN AIR SCHOOL OFF FOR A PICNIC

Fifty Children Will Spend Gala Day at Williams Grove Tomorrow

Fifty children of the open air school at Fifty and Seneca streets, with their teachers, Miss Marion C. Williams and Miss Martha Fox, are anticipating a gala day to-morrow, to be spent on the Williams' farm, near Williams Grove.

All the delights of country life will be enjoyed and the children will have real picnic fare. As far as possible they have contributed for the transportation themselves, the deficit being made up by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society.

There will be a special car on the Reading Railroad; the Russ Brothers have agreed to furnish all the ice cream; the Thorley Baking Company, the cakes, and the Butter Pretzel Company, the pretzels, which with the luncheon of sandwiches, etc., usually provided by the School Board will form the treat.

This is just one of the ways part of the Red Cross seal money is being used for the pleasure of these youngsters, who must keep in the open air, for their health.

The summer term of this open air school begins on Monday, with the same teachers, and many of the same pupils.

Advices Lime For Tuberculosis According to the Journal of the American Medical Association (July 27, 1915, Page 308), Dr. C. F. Dies, of Minneapolis, holds that a "deficiency of calcium" (lime) is responsible for the physical conditions which lead to tuberculosis, "and the therapy he advocates rests on this basis."

One of the reasons for the widespread success of Eckman's Alternative in the treatment of tuberculosis and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is its ability to supply this deficiency.

It contains a lime salt in such form and so combined with other remedial agents as to be easily assimilated by the average person. There are on record many cases in which it seems to have effected complete and lasting betterment.

However, we make no exaggerated claims for Eckman's Alternative. We prefer that it be tried on the same basis one tries any other prescription, and we believe it will help, for IT HAS HELPED in many cases.

It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. Therefore, it is safe to take. If your druggist is out of it, he will order it, or you can get it direct.

ORPHEUS CLUB WINS PRAISE FOR CONCERT

Large Audience Shows Appreciation of an Exceptionally Fine Program

The Orpheus Club celebrated its tenth anniversary last evening by giving a complimentary concert to its patrons and friends in the Tech auditorium, adding fresh laurels to the wreaths already won.

Much interest was manifested in the reappearance of Mrs. Frank K. Binnix after an absence of several years from the city. It was apparent at once that she has lost none of her old-time brilliancy and dash in singing and has gained much of largeness and richness of tone. This gain was noticeable throughout her whole register. The aria from "Casta Diva" was done with a beautiful, sustained quality of tone and a delightful flexibility. As an encore Mrs. Binnix gave "The Nymphs and Fauns," by Benberz, with just the right lightness and whiff that made the waltz song irresistible.

Miss Sara Lemer's violin numbers were characterized by sweep and charm. The "Serenade" by Johanns, was really a legend as it was played, and the intermezzo, mazurka and "Liebesfreud" were done in the spirited way that has made Miss Lemer a favorite with the public.

The club outdid itself in the choruses of entirely different styles and in the unaccompanied chorus, "Love," showed a real ability to sing four well-balanced parts. Earl Rhoades, who took the solos in "Salamis" and "Omnipotence," displayed what is so rarely heard nowadays—a real sense of melody and quality, singing at a moment's notice, almost, the parts assigned to George Sutton, who failed to appear.

The program showed Frederic C. Martin, director of the club, in the role of composer. His two songs, sung by Mrs. Binnix, "To Persephone Ajar" and "Correspondence," demonstrated an ability to weld words and music into one inseparable poem. The piano number "Capriccio," played brilliantly by Newell Albright, to whom it is dedicated, made one think of Elizabeth and Schumann, although it is above everything else original. These compositions are ultra-modern in character and in the treatment of harmonies. This was noticeable by the use of the whole tone scale. Both songs and piano piece evince a clear and logical development of all the material used in their construction and while they can be analyzed, they never lose their spontaneity, originality and charm, a proof that the composer has really "the gift." It is only by virtue of Mr. Martin's insight and perseverance that the Orpheus Club was able to give a concert like that of last night and the club is proud to have him as its director.

Newell Albright played the accompaniments with taste and a fine discrimination.

able to assist him. She heard him go to the bathroom and called to him, but did not hear a reply. He shut the door and locked it. Mrs. Walker heard her husband push the screen from the window frame.

He hurried to another window and there saw his wife hanging by his finger tips from the window sill. Mr. Walker's unfortunate ability to walk in his sleep almost cost him more serious injuries than those sustained when he dropped. The Walker residence faces Nineteenth street, and the side of the house lies along a narrow alley. Ralph H. Herman, manager of a local men's furnishing store who lives on the east side of the alley, 39 North Nineteenth street, was awakened by the cries of Mrs. Walker. He rushed to a side window in his house and seeing a man hanging from the window of the house opposite, thought him a burglar and ordered him to drop or bullets would be in evidence.

Mrs. Walker hurriedly explained that it was her husband. A few minutes later Walker lost his grip and fell to the pavement while Mrs. Walker was on the way down stairs to get a ladder to use in lowering her husband to the ground.

Awakened After Fall After the unfortunate man dropped he awoke quickly and his cries of pain mingled with those of Mrs. Walker. He was very much frightened and he, too, thinking the man a burglar, was just about to attack him when Mrs. Walker interceded.

Mr. Walker was carried into his home and Dr. J. Loy Arnold, 1509 Market street, who was summoned, reduced the fracture. Mr. Walker was resting comfortably to-day.

A NON-ALCOHOLIC TONIC

Many people need a tonic at this time of year, old folks, weak folks, thin people, people who are run down from too much work—and on vacation still many weeks away. Nervous people also need a tonic but cannot safely take alcohol.

A non-alcoholic tonic that will build up the blood and strengthen the nerves is what most people need and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are exactly that.

The one symptom of thin blood that everybody recognizes is pallor. It shows so gradually that other people are liable to notice it before you do. But it is important that you should notice and heed the warning because the thin blood that causes the pallor betrays some drain on the body or some poisoning by its own waste matter. It is not correct to say that it results in physical breakdown and ill health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only build up the blood but they have a direct strengthening action on the nerves. As they are free from narcotics and any harmful or poisonous drugs they are safe for every member of the family.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Write to-day to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the free booklet, "Building Up the Blood," and, if your stomach troubles you, ask for a diet book also.—Advertisement.
