Loses Two Targets In Long Run With Newcomb and Richardson

The shooting of J. G. Martin, of Harrisburg, at Pittsburgh yesterday was a big feature of a three-day event.

Harrisburg, at Pittsburgh yesterday was a big feature of a three-day event. Martin tied up with Newcomb, of Philadelphia, state champion, and A. B. Richardson, champion of Delaware. Each broke 148 out of 150.

Of the three top-notchers Martin missed one bird in the second round and one in the seventh. Newcomb, Fennsylvania's amateur champion, started badly, missing a bird in the first two events, but did not make a miss after that. Richardson had a perfect score in every event up to the last, when he unexpectedly lost a couple, spoiling a splendid record. Other scores were:

A. E. Conley, 147; M. S. Hootman, 146; E. N. Gillespie, 145; F. Billimeyer, 145; F. S. Wright, 145, and W. Behm, the 1914 state champion, 144.

On the three days' shooting the prize goes to A. B. Richardson, 489 out of 500; Newcomb is second with 486 birds; W. Behm, of Easterly, Pa., third with 484; F. S. Wright, former New York champion, fourth with 481, and the fifth man is W. M. Foord, of Wilmington, last year's Delaware champion, with 477 birds.
