

BALDWIN'S TO BUILD MORTON TRACTORS?

If Tests of Completed Tractor Work Out, Philadelphia Firm Will Build 360

ARE POORLY EQUIPPED HERE

Samuel S. Morton Spends Day in Philadelphia With Russian Representative

Upon the result of tests of a tractor recently made by the Baldwin Locomotive Works in accordance with the plans and specifications of the Morton Truck and Tractor company, it is understood will depend the subletting of the contract for the 360 machines, recently given the local company by the Russian Government.

Tests of the tractor it is said, were started at Philadelphia yesterday in the presence of Russian Government representatives. It is not known as yet whether they were satisfactory or not.

While nothing definite has been given out by the Morton company, it is believed the firm will place the bulk of its work orders, aggregating several millions of dollars with the Baldwin Locomotive works as the local plant is not sufficiently equipped to turn them out in the time demanded by the country's war.

CITY SHOWS HEALTHY GROWTH IN HOMES

Harrisburg Third Highest City in United States For 1915 Realty Operations

NO MERE BUILDING BOOM

Outlying Districts Being Built Up Along Progressive Lines

With a total of $316,025 in building operations commenced during May, Harrisburg has won the distinction of being the third highest city in the United States so far as percentage of increased building operations this year over 1914 is concerned, according to figures compiled by the American Builder, a real estate journal. Men prominent in the real estate and building activities of the city assert that this places Harrisburg in the front rank of American cities in the matter of rapid growing and improving housing conditions. This phenomenal growth, it is declared, is due in a large measure to the recent acquisition of new industries and distribution stations by the city and the razing of many houses in the Capitol Park extension and new Pennsylvania railroad freight station districts.

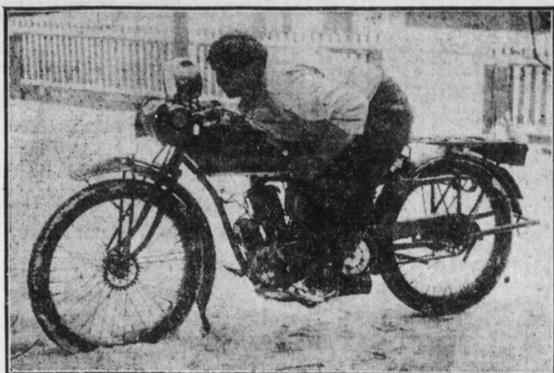

That these figures do not indicate merely a spasmodic building "boom" but rather the steady increasing growth of a live and progressive city, is the belief of real estate men and contractors. In support of this contention they point out the healthy growth of several of the city's outlying districts along progressive and systematic lines. Modern Housing One of the sections of the city that has been developed along lines that incorporate the latest ideas in modern housing is that district bounded by and including Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Briggs and Park streets.

In this section, one of the most beautiful in the city, about 125 modern homes have been built within the past few years. Practically all these are of stone, brick and stucco construction with tile roofs and embody all the latest ideas in home making. The architecture is planned after the buildings in the famous Sage Foundation, in New York. The houses are of various types, so that a monotonous appearance is prevented. Ample and perpetual building operations insure an ideal residential district.

Through this district the seventeen-mile boulevard that will encircle the city as part of the park system, which also lies close to the Twelfth street playground where there are ample facilities for the amusement of the

CITY HEALTH OFFICER TELLS HOW TO PASTEURIZE MILK TO GUARD AGAINST TYPHOID

OWING to the prevalence of typhoid fever in the city and surrounding towns, Dr. J. M. J. Raunick, city health officer in his latest bulletin emphasizes the importance of pasteurizing milk and tells how to do it. The bulletin follows: Pasteurized milk simply means heated milk. In household terms it means par-boiled or scalded. It is not necessary to boil milk to pasteurize it. After the milk is heated it is essential that the milk be rapidly cooled and kept cool. The milk should be heated to 145 degrees Fahrenheit for one-half hour.

Unless you have a thermometer, allow your milk to come to a boil to be sure that the harmful germs are killed. The one and only object of pasteurized milk is that it destroys the harmful bacteria. While pasteurized milk contains bacteria, their presence is harmless as far as health is concerned. Pasteurizing neither improves nor harms the milk itself. Poor milk is not any better because it is pasteurized. Pasteurization is a public health safeguard. It corresponds to the filtration or purification of water. Pasteurized milk must be handled as carefully as raw milk. All milk should be kept covered, cold and clean. The easiest way to pasteurize milk is to heat it in a double boiler, such as a rice boiler for one-half hour and cool it rapidly. Pasteurized milk is just as digestible and nutritious as raw milk. All milk that cannot be certified to as clean, fresh and safe, should be pasteurized. Pasteurize all milk, whether your milkman tells you it is pasteurized or not. Sometimes milkmen do not. Pasteurize carefully. Run no risks.

GRAND JURY HAS NO PLACE TO HANG HAT

Wants Hooks and Electric Fans, Too; June Talesmen Suffer Much From Heat

The Dauphin county grand jury wants electric fans in the grand jury room; it was bothered a lot with the heat all this week. That was one of the complaints the grand jury, which finished a busy week in June criminal court at noon to-day, made to President Judge Kunkel. Nor is that all the grand jury wants. It hasn't a place to hang up its hat, and when it goes in to deliberate on cases it has to carry its hats in its lap or risk having it battered into a last-year shape by hanging it on the floor. But there is still more. During the past week the jury's deliberations have been interfered with amazingly by the noises of autos and so on outside in the alley and not infrequently a street piano has paused outside to divide a pleasing hour (?) with "Tipperary," "Deutschland über Alles," etc. All of which is summed up in the following cryptic paragraph relative to personal comforts: We are desirous of further rec-

Sister Ship of Pennsylvania Christened With Both Water and Wine

New York, June 19.—Day with flags and bunting, the huge hull of the superdreadnaught Arizona, sister ship of the Pennsylvania, and one of the two largest vessels of the United States navy, lay on the ways in the New York navy yard to-day awaiting the signal for her launching at high tide this afternoon. The State whose name she will receive was represented here by a distinguished delegation. Governor Hunt led the official party which included United States Senator Henry F. Ashurst, and Miss Esther Ross, the sponsor. They had brought a carboy of water, the first spilled over the Roosevelt dam, to be used in an unusual double christening. This was said to be the first instance of a vessel of the United States navy being named with both wine and water. The decision to use champagne as well as water, was made by Governor Hunt in the face of protests from both national and State women's Christian Union leaders. Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department was here for the launching.

WANT ROADS ABOUT ALMSHOUSE ROLLED

Poor Directors Request Swatara Township Commissioners to Fulfill Promise

PILES OF STONE WAITING

Sections of Highway Connecting With Cameron Parkway Nearly Inaccessible For Autos

Swatara township's board of road commissioners yesterday got a vigorous letter from the county poor directors asking whether or not it means to fulfill its promise to the poor authorities to roll the nearly two miles of townships in the vicinity of the almshouse upon which the poor authorities have placed some 12,000 odd tons of stone. About 500 more tons of the crushed stone are ready for distribution on the roads now for the dressing, but the lack of a road roller precludes the spreading of the material. The sections of highway about which the poor directors are particularly anxious include the extreme end of Paxton street from the poor house to a point close to Nineteenth and on the highway leading to Oberlin. The Cameron parkway drive opens upon the latter roadway and hundreds of autos which otherwise would drive through the parkway, are unable to

Peace May Be Concluded Sooner Than Thought, Is German Emperor's Belief

Paris, June 19, (4:25 a. m.)—Extracts from a letter said to have been sent by Emperor William to a personage connected with the Bavarian court and published in Spain are reproduced by the Matin. The Emperor is quoted as saying in part: "Our only object is a peace profitable for the German states. This peace may be concluded sooner than thought. If it gave for the time being only an incomplete result it would at least serve as a preparation for the future. It could be signed to-morrow if I wished." "When my august grandfather placed the empire on its present basis he did not pretend to have realized a completed work. The empire always is susceptible to growth. What cannot be achieved to-day will be achieved later."

RUSSIANS PREPARING TO DEFEND LEMBERG

Petrograd Admits Forces Have Retired Beyond Line of Lakes Near Grodek

BRITISH STEAMER TORPEDOED

Austrian Fortress of Malborge Is Being Demolished, Dispatches Say

The Italian invasion of Austria, which is being pushed all along the frontier, is said by newspapers of Rome to have resulted thus far in the occupation of more than twice as much territory as was offered by Austria as the price of Italy's neutrality. A communication from the Italian general staff states that the Austrian fortress of Malborge is being demolished. Malborge is about twenty miles from Villach. This city, Trent and Trieste constitute the three present objective points of the Italians. Along the Isonzo front the battle on which hinges the fate of Trieste is assuming larger proportions. Austria has sent in reinforcements of her finest troops. A raid by Italian seaplanes and dirigibles inflicted considerable damage on Austrian fortifications and railway stations on the Isonzo front. In Galicia the Russians are making a determined stand to hold Lemberg, the capital, from the onrushing Austro-German armies. It is admitted in Petrograd that the Russians have retired beyond the line of lakes near Grodek, sixteen miles west of the city. A German correspondent, however, sends word that the Russians are fortifying heavily a line ten miles west of Lemberg. The 2,000 ton British steamer Dulcie was sunk to-day off Suffolk, Eng., by a German submarine. All the members of the crew but one were saved.
