M. W. JACOBS WEDS
HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER

Complete Surprise to All But Most Intimate Friends; Married in New Home

MRS. M. W. JACOBS, JR.
Coming as a complete surprise to all but their most intimate friends was the announcement late this afternoon of the wedding of Michael William Jacobs, Jr., well-known attorney, to Miss Maude Edith Robertson, a member of the faculty of Central High school, at their newly furnished home along Riverside Drive above Lucknow Lane.

The Rev. Dr. William B. Cooke, minister in charge of Market Square Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate members of Mr. Jacobs' family, and a few friends of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony they left for an extended wedding trip. The wedding took place at 10 o'clock this morning.

Miss Robertson came to this city about three years ago as an assistant teacher at Central High. Later she procured leave of absence and after completing a special course at the University of Michigan, returned to this city as a teacher of English and composition. While in Michigan she was elected to the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity, a high honor and was on the staff of the university publication. She also collected, during her stay there, a most complete herbarium including many rare plants, gathered by a university student.

The bride was born in Hinton, West Virginia. Later she moved to Tyrone where she completed high school. She was graduated third in her class from the Indiana State Normal school, which she entered as a junior and held membership in the Phi Beta Kappa building this city.

Mr. Jacobs is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania law school and president of the Natural History Society of this city. It was largely through his efforts that Scott, Mawson and other scientists and explorers were brought to this city. He is a scientist of extraordinary ability, as well as an attorney of remarkable legal talent.

DECISION WILL HAVE FAR-REACHING EFFECT

Interstate Commerce Commission Must Accept as Final Interpretation of Clause

Special to The Telegraph
Washington, D. C., June 22.—The government yesterday won a notable victory in the unanimous opinion of the United States Supreme Court enjoining the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad from the transportation of coal under the provisions of a contract with Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Coal Company. The coal company is a subsidiary firm controlled by the railroad company and is controlled by practically the same officers.

The greatest importance attaches to the decision because the Interstate Commerce Commission must accept as final the interpretation of the commodities clause and will necessarily compel the hard coal companies controlled by railroads to dissolve their relationship with the carriers. The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission commented upon in these dispatches last week had been delayed until the Supreme Court acted.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, which ten years ago instituted on its own motion an investigation into the rates on anthracite coal and the control by railroads of mining companies, can make its decision effective which will be more far-reaching by reason of the present decision.

This is the third time the Third Circuit Court has been unanimously reversed in commodity law by the United States Supreme Court. The other cases were those of the Delaware and Hudson and the Lehigh Valley Railroads.

In the opinion of the Department of Justice, the District Court of the United States for Eastern Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia, before which is pending the case against the Reading and other companies for violation not only of the commodities clause, but the Sherman antitrust act, will follow the decision of the Supreme Court in its decision on the commodity clause. This clause was argued last June. The defendants are:

- The Philadelphia and Reading.
- The Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company.
- The Central Railroad of New Jersey.
- The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company.
- The Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.
- Wilmington and Northern Railroad, Lehigh and Hudson.
- Lehigh and New England.

TESTIFY FOR THAW

Superintendent of Matteawan Asylum Will Be on State's Side of Case

By Associated Press
New York, June 22.—Fifty witnesses summoned in behalf of Harry K. Thaw in his effort to prove that he is now sane and entitled to be set free from the Matteawan asylum, were present to-day at his trial before Justice Hendricks and a jury. This was Thaw's fourth attempt to obtain his freedom, from custody by a means of a habeas corpus, but was the first instance in which the plea was heard by a jury. Justice Hendricks, however, pointed out that the jury was an advisory body and not a trial jury.

Dr. Raymond Kieb, superintendent of Matteawan asylum and Dr. Carlos MacDonald, an alienist, were prospective witnesses against Thaw.

PENROSE ADVOCATES
INCREASED FORCES

Addresses Sons of Veterans of Pennsylvania in Convention in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, June 22.—In an address before the members of the Sons of Veterans of Pennsylvania at their convention here to-day United States Senator Penrose advocated a larger army and navy. The convention is attended by members from all parts of the State.

Senator Penrose in his speech said: "In these strenuous days and with the charlatan and theorist abroad we are apt to forget those basic principles inspired by Washington, Lincoln and Grant. We read much now about theories of disarmament, of Hague tribunals of universal peace, and latest of all, of a conference in this city intended to urge the maintenance of peace by force. We had the most complete exhibition of all these suggestions in the United States before the Ciel War. We were, to all purposes, disarmed, we had established a form of good government consisting of a supreme court and other Federal courts which for its originality and effectiveness challenged the admiration of students of politics the world over. We had no idea of militarism and were entirely devoted to commerce, to the reclaiming and settlement of a continental domain.

"The Union of States was supposed to be firmly established and a great tribune was provided in the supreme court which would arbitrate and settle all disputes. Liberty and free government were thought to be assured in this republic, and yet we had a division among ourselves in which conference and court had failed. Resort could be had only to the arbitration of war, with less than ninety years of the foundation of the republic, Lincoln realized that there are times when war must come.

"We must be prepared for the national defense. We are not a military nation. We never waged a war for aggression or for conquest. But we would be ridiculous in the eyes of the world and likely to invite attack and invasion if we deliberately neglected reasonable defense.

TO PLAN PARADE ROUTE

At a meeting of Chief Marshal Arthur D. Bacon and his special aids to-night, a route for the Liberty Bell reception parade will be fixed. It is probable that the up-town school children will form part at Sixth and Reilly streets. All school children will move to march to Market Square where the big procession will be formed. The route to the Liberty Bell will be down Second street to Second and Vine.
