"Their Married Life"

"Warren, don't forget and go to bed," said Helen from her bedroom. "Why? What's going on to-night?" "Have you forgotten that we are going down to play cards with Bob and Louise?" "To-night?" "Yes, are you so very tired?" "Oh, I suppose not; what time do we have to start?" "Not before eight. You'll have time for a nice rest before then."

Helen was somewhat elated at Warren's manner of taking the affair. She had expected him to storm and ask when she had made the date, and here he was taking it philosophically. She went back to her dresser and proceeded with her dressing. Helen was really concerned about Louise. She had not seen her since the day that she had come down to tell her about her quarrel with Bob.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."

Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

FOR WEAR WITH THE NEW WIDE SKIRTS

A Fashionable Petticoat Adapted to Silk as Well as to Lingerie Materials

By MAY MANTON

8620 Five Gored Petticoat, 24 to 34 waist.

The petticoat has returned to its own and is once more a fashionable garment. It is always been a desirable one. Here is a quite new model designed especially for wear with the latest skirts. It can be finished plain at the back or with an inverted plait and can be made without the flounce or with a circular or gathered flounce and as a result, it is suited to silk as well as to cambric, lawn, batiste, and the like. In one view, it is shown made of lingerie material with a flounce of embroidery, in another, it is made of taffeta with a circular flounce and a little trimming of lace and the third view is designed to illustrate the inverted plait at the back. As a matter of course, the gathered flounce could be made of material as well as of embroidery or could be made of lace and the petticoat can be utilized for all the materials that are liked for such garments. Satin is a good one for wear beneath thin skirts, taffeta is being much used and the soft satins are liked and the list of lingerie fabrics is a long one. There are five gores and the closing can be made at the side of the front or at the back.

For the medium size will be required 6 1/2 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 3 1/2 yds. 36, 2 1/2 yds. 44 with 3 yds. of flouncing 42 in. wide, or, 1 1/2 yds. of material 27 in. wide, 1 yd. 36, or 44 for the gathered flounce, 3 yds. 27 in. wide, 2 yds. 36, or 44 in. wide, for the circular flounce.

The pattern 8620 is cut in sizes from 24 to 32 in. waist measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Captain of British Ship Makes Germans Lose Aim

Special to The Telegraph Montreal, June 25.—Captain I. Olsen, of the British steamship Tresspool, in to-day from Barry, England, brought with him a story of how he employed simple seamanship to foil a German submarine that stopped his ship and began firing shells at it from the surface. "When the shells started falling around the ship," said Capt. Olsen, "I turned her around so that her beam was with the waves and then called for full speed ahead. The submarine followed but, as she rolled so heavily in the trough of the sea, the German gunners could not aim their guns. The maneuver was entirely successful."
