

WOMEN AND THEIR INTERESTS

"Their Married Life"

Copyright by International News Service.

"Where shall we go to tea?" Louise had said when Helen called up that morning, and Helen had answered that they would decide later.

They had agreed to meet down town on the subway platform at Times Square, a typical meeting place for all kinds of people, thought Helen as she looked around for Louise, saw that she hadn't come, and proceeded to buy a magazine and to sit down and wait. Louise had been shopping all morning, while Helen had come downtown.

Helen had seen little of Louise of late. She guessed that Louise was avoiding her purposely, and it hurt Helen to have Louise think it necessary. Surely there was nothing that she would hesitate about confiding in she had been in Louise's place. But then, perhaps Louise had repented of telling things to Helen in the first place. She hoped this was not going to turn out like that.

The usual crowd eddied in and out of the subway. There were plenty of things to watch and smile at. Helen was deeply absorbed in a very young girl with suspiciously pink cheeks who had her black hair cut short around her face and who was talking earnestly to a blond young man, when Louise came up. Louise looked shockingly ill. There were dark circles under her eyes, and even her charming costume failed to relieve her pallor. Helen was alarmed, but she said nothing, resolved to be tactful. Surely she could not force Louise's confidence and yet matters had apparently reached a point when she perhaps ought to interfere.

"Well, have you decided on a place," said Louise as they emerged out into the sunlight.

"I know of a dear little place," said Helen, "if you would rather not go to a hotel. I feel like going to a cozy little place where we can chat, don't you?"

Louise tried to answer gaily, and failed miserably. Helen felt heart sorry for her, and wondered what it could be that would rob Louise of her spontaneity.

Helen finds the New Address. They walked down Thirty-third street in search of the tea room in question and found instead an empty place that had left such an impression on her.

"I wonder if they could have moved," said Helen puzzled. She hated to give up the search for the little place that had left such an impression on her.

"Suppose we go look in the telephone book," suggested Louise, with a visible effort to regain her old manner, as they entered a drug store.

"Here it is," said Helen, triumphantly, a moment later. "They have moved down a block, that's all. Come on, we'll find it in no time, and if you don't approve of my choice I'll be disappointed."

Helen chattered on gaily, trying not to notice Louise and her preoccupied manner. They reached the little tea room, which was designated by the name "Blue Dragon," printed on a gold kettle swinging from the low door. Louise looked interested and followed Helen to a table against the wall.

"Shall we have English muffins and tea?" suggested Helen. "The muffins are delicious here." The pretty little maid bridled at the compliment, and Helen ordered orange teakos and plenty of the muffins, with some fresh strawberries and cream to finish off.

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN GRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. P. W. LANSENG, Box 8, Ailyn, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

WOMAN UNDER GARMENT A New Corset Cover that can be Made From Lace or Embroidery or From Material By MAY MANTON

8626 Surplice Corset Cover, Small 34 or 36, Medium 38 or 40, Large 42 or 44 bust.

Dainty and attractive under garments always are in demand. Here is a quite new corset cover that gives the V-shaped neck, consequently is especially desirable for wear beneath many of the fashionable gowns and blouses. In one view, it is shown made from lace, the edges of which are overlapped and stitched together and treated in that way it is really elaborate. In the small view it is shown, made from crepe de chine with just a little lace banding for finish and the model is just as good for lawn and batiste as it is for crepe. Whatever the material, the armholes can be finished with trimming or with shield sleeves. The fronts and the back are overlapped and the belt that holds them in place can be left plain or finished with lace sewed to the lower edge. There is a plait over each shoulder that provides becoming fullness. For the medium size will be needed 6 1/2 yds. of lace or embroidery 5 in. wide with 1 yd. of narrow lace and 3/4 yd. of banding; or, 2 1/2 yds. of material 36 or 44 in. wide, with 5 yds. of edging. The pattern 8626 is cut in three sizes: small 34 or 36, medium 38 or 40, large 42 or 44 in. bust measure. It will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper, on receipt of ten cents.

Woman Undertaker Special to The Telegraph Columbia, Pa., June 28.—Columbia is the first town in Lancaster county to have a woman undertaker and embalmer. Her name is Mrs. C. T. Bucher and she has opened an undertaking parlor in Locust street, the principal thoroughfare.

"I know you are, but you must act as though you didn't care," Bob has been a brute to you, and of course he is waiting for you to be properly humble before he decides to forgive you. Don't do it, that's all."

"But, Helen, it's so hard to act that way."

"Don't I know it, but I am trying to make for you a course I never adopted. It's too late now, and Warren knows me too well not to see through it, but for goodness sake, Louise, don't make the mistake I did with Warren. If you do, you'll be humbling all your life and the one you are in fault." For the first time Helen admitted to an outsider her relations with Warren.

Louise was interested. "I never believed things would have been this way, between Bob and me," she said, "but you're right, Helen, and I really do feel better. I haven't slept for several nights trying to think what to do, but I'll begin right away to act as if nothing had happened. Bob is going to the lodge to-night and I'll be asleep before he comes home. Tomorrow I ought to feel well enough to act natural."

"And after the first time it will be easy, Louise, dear, I would be so happy if I thought I had really helped this time."

"Another instalment of this interesting narrative will appear here soon."

WHERE TO FIND NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS The World's Best Merchandise In and Near HARRISBURG, PA. Merchandise that will bear national advertising has to have exceptional merit, else the manufacturer could not afford to spend large sums of money for the advertising, and to attach his name and reputation to an article that was not extraordinarily meritorious, for it is the repeat sales that he depends on. It is therefore quite evident that when an article is nationally advertised and nationally sold, year in and year out, year after year, it is exceptionally good goods to stand the test and prove worthy of continued sales and growth. It is conceded by experts that when an article is advertised generally—nationally—it is the best possible product. The wise always, in consequence, prefer nationally known goods and ask for what they want by name. Read the magazines and keep posted on nationally advertised goods.

Wives who have always looked askance at the wonderful tales told by husbands returning from a routine expedition can have their doubts set aside by going to the Colonial Theater, Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of this week and seeing the wonderful motion pictures of trout fishing and other sports that the wonderful hunters love. The Colonial is going to run 3,000 feet of the most wonderful film ever made. The Saltsbury Live Pictures are of untold value from a standpoint of education, and at the same time are decidedly interesting. These films were made by Edward Saltsbury during three long years that he was buried in the jungles of the Upper Pacific country. They show all sorts of birds and fishes, large animals roaming in the depths of human nature, and fishing by the sportsmen. Three acts of vaudeville are to be presented in conjunction with the films. The prices during this engagement will be 15 and 25 cents in the afternoon and 15 and 25 cents in the evening.—Advertisement.

"THE NEW GOVERNOR." To handle such a subject without gloves requires the highest skill of the dramatist, engaging in the task. The subject matter of 'The New Governor' is not one to be treated lightly. It touches the heights and depths of human nature, is like a mountain rooted in the living rock and rearing its summit above the clouds."—Philip Morrow, the Governor of a Southern State and a pro-federalist, who discovers that he himself has the talent of blood in his veins, Mr. Farnum attains the most remarkable characterization even his life has ever accomplished. This remarkable picture was shown at the Hippodrome in New York at prices ranging from 50 cents to $2.00. Shown at the Victoria for Monday and Tuesday only at 20 cents admission.—Advertisement.

AT PAXTANG PARK This week's bill at Paxtang looks like another good bill for the park playhouse and it is worthy of mention that the brand of vaudeville that Manager Davis is producing at the park this season is a better than anything we have seen for the price in this vicinity. The feature attraction of the park bill for this week will be Madam Alberta and girls in an electrical novelty that is said to be a beauty sensation. Rumors from towns where the act has appeared tell us that Madam Alberta's girls contribute no small share toward the beauty of the act. Farnum, a little Italian, billed as the "Wizard of the Concertina" is sure to be a big hit with the park audiences as he plays the latest popular music and knows how to put it over. George Moore, comedy juggler; Billy Humphries, musical mimic, and Thesens' Dogs, a refined canine novelty, will make up the balance of the show. Ladies will be admitted free to this evening's performance and all matinees will be free to children under 12.—Advertisement.

Vacation Danger Told to State Folks by Commissioner Dixon

Commissioner of Health Samuel G. Dixon is calling the special attention of parents and those in charge of children to the dangers that follow vacation periods. In the time of relaxation he says children are apt to run into harm and that everyone should think well about the welfare of the "kiddies." The doctor says:

School is over and several thousand boys and girls are out for a three months' holiday.

"After their winter's work in school they need change and diversion and healthful exercise. Perhaps during the school year, like many parents, you have shifted the burden of your children's supervision upon their teachers. Now for three months the full responsibility must rest upon the parental shoulders.

"It's a serious problem how boys and girls shall spend their vacations. Of course if you don't take a hand in it they will settle the question for themselves. There are always other boys and girls, perhaps many of them that you are in no way acquainted with, and, of course, there are always both good and bad diversions at hand for healthy youngsters.

"Through their parents' lack of interest many children form bad habits and cultivate evil associates during school vacations. Boys and girls minds need entertaining occupation and their bodies need plenty of healthful exercise. The parents should try to guide this natural craving and where circumstances make it possible to join and share in some of the vacation amusements for the woods and streams.

"While the majority of us must continue our regular occupations, the summer usually offers some chance to get into the open and back to Nature. Every boy and girl naturally has something of the love of our primitive forefathers for the woods and streams. Cultivate this and share it. Since our schools have been teaching natural history you will find things of interest to tell you. All this will serve to give you an agreeable change and it will encourage the girls and boys to take an interest in the wonders of God's great out-of-doors. You can do nothing better for their health, enjoyment and future happiness than to stimulate their interest in these things."

Our wonderful pipework is played from 2 till 4:30 and from 7 till 11 p. m. by Miss Marion Marchant, the well-known motion picture player. For information regarding our coming attractions, call Bell phone 3719, United, 7347.—Advertisement.

A SIGHT WITH RASH ALL OVER FACE Awfully Disfigured. Ashamed to Go Any Place. Itched and Burned. Could Not Sleep. Used Two Cakes Cuticura Soap and Two Boxes Ointment. Now Well.

427 Second Ave., Carnegie, Pa.—"My trouble commenced as a rash and finally it spread all over my face. My face was awfully disfigured; I was ashamed to go any place. The eruptions itched and burned and I could not help scratching them till they would bleed. My face was a sight. At night I could not sleep. I tried Ointment but it did not do any good. Then I noticed the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and I sent for a free sample. After I used them I noticed them getting better. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and now I'm entirely well." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Matalka, October 27, 1914.

To handle such a subject without gloves requires the highest skill of the dramatist, engaging in the task. The subject matter of 'The New Governor' is not one to be treated lightly. It touches the heights and depths of human nature, is like a mountain rooted in the living rock and rearing its summit above the clouds."—Philip Morrow, the Governor of a Southern State and a pro-federalist, who discovers that he himself has the talent of blood in his veins, Mr. Farnum attains the most remarkable characterization even his life has ever accomplished. This remarkable picture was shown at the Hippodrome in New York at prices ranging from 50 cents to $2.00. Shown at the Victoria for Monday and Tuesday only at 20 cents admission.—Advertisement.

AT PAXTANG PARK This week's bill at Paxtang looks like another good bill for the park playhouse and it is worthy of mention that the brand of vaudeville that Manager Davis is producing at the park this season is a better than anything we have seen for the price in this vicinity. The feature attraction of the park bill for this week will be Madam Alberta and girls in an electrical novelty that is said to be a beauty sensation. Rumors from towns
