WEEKLY CONFABS ON COMPLAINTS

Chairman Ainey Inaugurates New Plan to Expedite Public Business

Arrangements were made to-day for weekly conferences of public service commissioners and chiefs of bureaus of the commission with a view to expediting of complaints. The first meeting was held to-day by Acting Chairman W. D. B. Ainey with all of the chiefs and was devoted to push action on cases. When the new commission took charge there were approximately 180 cases on the lists, many of them just started, and the commission has been working to get in the testimony so that decisions could be reached.

W. P. Boland, of Scranton, to-day filed a complaint with the Commission against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, alleging that the freight rates on anthracite coal are unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory. He claims that he is unable to get rates that are extended to favored shippers. The freight rates are from 30 to 60c a ton per mile within the State while outside the State they average from 3/4 to 4 mills per mile.

Preparing For Camp.—Preparations for the encampments of National Guardsmen are being made all over the State. Many of the regimental details will have only a day at the camp in advance to work on camp details.

Attended Convention.—I. C. Williams, deputy commissioner of forestry, attended the State Forestry convention at Foxburg. The arbitrators in the Wilkes-Barre trolley strike will meet July 7 to give their decision. Commissioner Jackson is one of the number and the result will be watched with interest because it is a case where the State took a practical part in adjusting trouble.

Changes on First.—The changes in the State Highway Department recently announced will plan to take effect July 1. A number of dismissals in other departments will also take place at that time.

Army Fund Stands.—Officials of the State treasury to-day had a conference with Deputy Auditor General Willack regarding the use of $108,000 remaining from the unexpended funds appropriated in 1913, which it is said does not lapse but remains to the credit of the first brigade. The apportionment of the money appropriated this year amounts to $399 available for the first, so that it will have almost $200,000 for the new army. The board meets tomorrow to act on the list of armories to be built and the Philadelphia cavalry interest because it is a case where the State took a practical part in adjusting trouble.

May Be Here One Day.—It was stated at the Capitol to-day that Governor Brumbaugh may be here one day the middle of the week. He is expected to return to Philadelphia about July 6 to remain during most of the month.

Fly Being Watched.—State officials are watching the localities where the wheat is said to have been attacked by the wheat. Steps will be taken to inform people so that they can employ means to prevent its recurrence.

Appointed.—National Guard orders to-day announce the appointment of Charles C. Hicks, III, to be first lieutenant of company D, Second Infantry, formerly second lieutenant of company B, 1st Infantry, and James W. Duffy, to be first lieutenant company K, Second Infantry, formerly second lieutenant of company A. Both are residents of Philadelphia.

Who Knows Woman With Tattooed 'H. P.' [Continued from First Page.] It is said to be the only witness the accident was on the part of Sternberg, who was taking a passenger to Steelton. The driver's sister, Mrs. Annie Pope, 1713 State street, her three-year-old son, and Miss Marie Sternberg were in the car when it struck the woman. A post mortem examination conducted by Drs. G. L. Laverty, R. L. Perkins and Coroner Eckinger showed that death was caused by a fractured skull and two fractured ribs on the right side. The woman was rushed to the Harrisburg hospital but died a few minutes after she was admitted. According to the hospital authorities she wore no jewels and had no valuables upon her.

Steelton Middletown Chienaspire Royalton Oberlin Ennaut Decorators Will Soon Begin Work

Borough Will Assume Festive Air Tomorrow in Preparation For Big Celebration

With just one more week in which to complete plans for Steelton's big Independence Day celebration next Monday, the various committees in charge of the arrangements are fast whipping their plans into shape. Decorators will begin their work of lending a festive air to the various business places and firehouses along the town's main streets. Some elaborate decorations have been planned.

The general committee of the Steelton Merchants' Association, the organization that fathered the idea of a big celebration, will meet with representatives of the various fire companies, fraternal and patriotic organizations tomorrow evening to discuss further plans.

The celebration plans now include a baseball game at Cottage Hill in the morning, a morning parade by the Veterans Society, a Magyar organization from the borough's foreign colony, a big street parade in the afternoon and a band concert and fireworks exhibition on Cottage Hill in the evening.

Will Continue Cottage Meetings Indefinitely. Interdenominational cottage prayer meetings, commenced during the recent Hills evangelistic campaign, will be continued indefinitely. The Rev. A. K. Wier, pastor of Centenary United Brethren Church, is in charge of the arrangements. The twelve districts mapped out during the campaign will be continued with the same captains and lieutenants in charge. The districts include Bressler, Oberlin and Ennaut. Last week twenty meetings were held with a total attendance of 259 people.

Church Dignitary Here. The Rev. Dr. Vel. Nicolai, of Belgrade, Serbia, a high dignitary in the Serbian Church, was in Steelton a short time yesterday. He is here from New York to deliver an address in St. Nicholas' Serbian Orthodox Church yesterday morning. While here he was the guest of the Rev. George Popovich.

Workers at Enola Church of God Revival

Enola, Pa., June 28.—Children's day was observed yesterday in the Enola Church of God. Nineteen persons were baptized in the Congregational creek a short distance from Fyne's Corner, when an old-time song service was held. This church has just concluded an eight weeks' revival with highly successful results. The Rev. Mr. Farling, pastor of the congregation, says that of all his many years in the pulpit he never witnessed such meetings as were held during the eight weeks of the revival, nor has he ever seen such a complete change in the attitude of the people living in and around Enola. Prior to the beginning of these meetings it was a rare occasion if the number present at church on Sunday was over twenty. Among the workers during the revival were: Center, Joseph M. Fleming, chairman; press committee, left, Miss Esther Reed, children's work; right, Miss Goldie Myers, young women's work.

To Order Closing of Market St. Gap [Continued from First Page.] complete all its improvements, including the closing of the gap in the wall at Market street—a thing I believe most everybody in Harrisburg desires—the adding of finishing touches to the creek improvement and the final touches to the river dam." When the board meets to-day I'm going to advocate and urge going ahead with the work so that it can be finished.

The commissioners of streets and public improvements pointed out that if the arbitrators award to the W. H. Opperman Company, the river interceptor contractors, was paid from the fund now in the hands of the board of public works the three big improvement jobs would be tied up and they would have to remain at a stand still while so very near completion. The arbitrators award he said, can easily be taken care of later as the city is liable for the amount and of course will certainly pay it.
